FOREWORD

We invite you to re-live with us o great year at the University of Taronto. As an institution which embroces 11,000 students within four federated colleges and twenty other foculties Vorsity is for from being a close-knit union. Yet despite roch cloims it has a pleasant character of its own and displays a tang of life which is indeed unique. It has been our sincere attempt to set up Nensis as a maypole around which the many colourful threads may weave a realistic and dromatic story.

INTRODUCTION

This geometric figure represents the theme of this valume .

In itself it means nothing, but our minds visualize its triangular farm as representing a trinal theme — truth, trial, trust. The alliterated initial letter in its own way recalls our Alma Mater but in a mare profound way we are reminded of the campus where these terms are an implicit part of the "spirit of learning" so painstakingly promoted by the staff and student-leaders.

All of us at same time during our college years take time out from a busy study schedule to do a bit of learning. In many cases this learning has yielded same light to our imperfect search for Truth. We are encouraged by the realization that wiser minds than ours have corroboroted the view that despite imperfection the search is necessary.

In giving trial to newly-discovered knowledge we for surposs the deliberations of the common jury by our weighing of judgment in its innumerable facets. This capacity to probe ad infinitum yields at once a tarmenting "voice of inquiry", in cases where burdensome differences accur between beliefs and new findings, and a thoroughly satisfying "voice of assurance" in the attainment of a hard-wan step upwords.

The third element is trust; trust in ourselves, in aur decisions, in the decisions of others which we accept . . . And our campus life has been enriched by ather trusts: a trust in aur fellaw-student — that the initiation will "ga over", that the party will be a success, that he'll get notes at the lectures we miss — a trust in the enlightenment of aur professors; a laud-vaiced trust in aur team to "really clean up" . . .

On this tripartite theme we present the memorable year 1954-1955. "Truth", "trial", and "trust" carry us into thoughtfulness; however we have discovered in our book that all is not sambre and that these three motifs can bear a light-hearted side. This aspect, after all, depicts more accurately a callege year which majors in light-heartedness.

COAT OF ARMS

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Azure two open Books and in base a Beaver all proper, upon a Chief Argent the Royal and Imperial Crown also proper, and for the crest on a wreath of the colours an Oak tree proper stemmed and fructed Or.

The crown indicates not only that the University was founded by a Royal Charter granted by King George IV in 1827, but also that the original foundation was called King's College; the books are for learning, and the beaver, which is the emblem of Canada, is for the industry which it was hoped should always characterize the members of the University.

The Motto is taken from Horace's Odes, Book 1, No. 12, lines 45 and 46. The complete line is "Crescit occulto velut arbor aevo". Translated literally the motto would be "As a tree, may it grow through the passage of age".

EXCERPTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT

I propose that Canadian universities should experiment with the Scholastic Aptitude Test, and use it as an adjunct to the departmental examinations, along with a report from the principal or headmaster. The test appears to have a predictive value which we cannot afford to ignore, in view of the unsatisfactory percentage of failures in the freshman year in Canadian universities.

We have reached the point where the university is a necessity, not a luxury, an indispensable unit in society, not an adornment to be celebrated in sentimental song and story. It is now an integral part of a democratic society.

Just how much we should be prepared to spend on the education of our doctors, lawyers, teachers, and engineers is a question that admits of no pat answer. But surely it is not unreasonable to suggest that we might be prepared to spend as much on the inmates of our universities as we do on those of our penitentiaries.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To the Members of the Graduating Classes:

Greetings and good wishes to you, one and all! You have earned a new status, to be symbolized in the conferring of your degrees upon you by the Chancellor of the University, and you are entering a new phase of your careers. Do not believe that you will be leaving the University for good. As graduates, you have a life-long band with your Alma Mater. You have claims on her interest and assistance, and she has claims on your loyalty and service.

You who graduate now will have a peculiar responsibility. A number of forces are operating to bring about a revolutionary change in the position of universities in our society. There is, first of all the demand that university education should be available to everyone who has the necessary ability -- a sound principle not matched by our present practice. There is also the increasing need in industry, commerce and government and among the general public for professional personnel -- a need that can't be satisfied only by universities. Finally, and most pressingly, there is the increase in the Canadian birthrate that will, within ten years, bring a host of applicants to the universities across the country.

The cumulative effect of these forces will be the end of of any lingering concept of higher education as the privilege of a wealthy class. Universities will be more democratic than ever before; yet they must preserve an aristocracy of talent. They must stand firm in the face of demands for "soft" courses in Arts, and they must resist pressures for streamlined professional training and for the fractionizing of knowledge by earlier, deeper and narrower specialization. Universities will need the voices of those who know that the values of liberal education are essential to a free society. They will need normal and material support, and intelligent and purposeful direction. To you, the graduates, we shall look for that support and that direction.

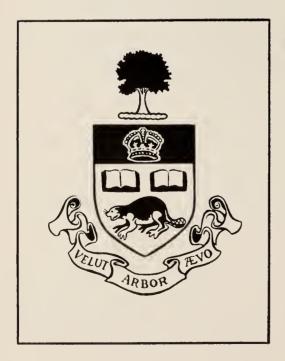

The case for universities does not rest on sentiment and song, it does not even rest, primarily, on the competence of professional training or the usefulness of research. It is based on the infusion and perpetuation of the spirit of liberal learning, the only kind of education that will make and keep men free.

FACTS AND FIGURES

Enrollment: The decrease in enrallment from 11,570 in 1952-53 to 10,610 in 1953-54 was somewhat reversed with 10,730 this year, in a trend which is expected to continue. The largest figure was chalked up by the County of York, as is customary, with Quebec and Saskatchewan sending the most numerous cantingent from provinces autside Ontario 275 students, mainly in Graduate Studies, hail from places autside the North American continent.

Extension: The Extension Department also reported an increase from a total enrallment in 1952-3 of 12,052 to nearly 13,000. This department affers various caurses, from that given to teachers to business, industry and radiography. Valuable week-end warkshaps were also conducted in the social wark field.

BILL ANGUS

As President of the Students' Administrative Council, Bill has been, in the realm of student governance, the most important figure on the compus. In his position of major respansibility Bill did an admirably thorough job and he deserves the highest praise for this achievement which we feel contained a large element of the proverbial "second mile". Bill is a Law student, having graduated from Victoria Callege with his Bachelor of Arts degree, and he had same study and much touring experience while at the London School of Ecanomics, 1952-53.

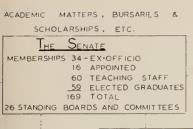

CAMPUS GOVERNMENT

Far same time we have felt the need far a clarification of the government of aur campus and it would seem that this need exists widely within the University. Far this reason we asked Architecture's John Chishalm to transcribe this plan campiled by Registrar Evans far the S.A.C.

Staff: The academic staff of the University numbered 1,576, from professors to readers, and this figure includes 124 staff members of the federated colleges, Victoria, Trinity and St Michael's.

Honorary Degrees: Nine honorary degrees were presented by the University in the June and November Convocations, 1954.

UNIVERSITY

• The whole University watched the erection of the captivating Sigmund Samuel Library Wing during the 1953-54 term. Last Autumn this valuable addition was opened by Dr. Samuel himself. We can assure you that in the isolated moments we spent there the pleasant reading rooms and cosy stack carels were doing an effective jab of captivating crowds of students.

The Fall Canvocation of 1954 caincided with the opening of the new Library wing This event it seems affects a different type of group than does the Spring Convocation. Many are graduates of the Extension course; others are occasional students, and same know the campus only in the light of street lamps. However, we accard to them fully as warm congratulations, for in many cases their achievements mean a lot more self-sacrifice and perseverance.

The Fall Canvocation also has its share of special awards, as shown below.

Dr. Macdanald giving inaugural address

One of the major hause-warmings around the rampus this year was part of the opening bill of fare at the Sir Daniel Wilson Memorial Residence, University College men's big new hame. In the Foll of 1953, the cornerstane was laid by Gavernor General Vincent Massey, and the inaugural oddress in the campleted structure was given by Dr. Bruce Macdonald, farmer Chairman of the University Board of Governors, in November 1954. During the same ceremonies Mrs. Howard Ferguson, a generous contributor to the Residence, unveiled a plaque in the dining wing to the memory of her husbond. This wing bears the name. Howard Ferguson Hall. The various houses in the Residence are named as memorials to the work of the last six principals of the College, including the present, esteemed Principal Jeanneret. Joane's Residence section has some attractive pages on life in the Residen.

Below is another edifice which has been watched with some interest and wonderment. This scale madel of the Trinity College buildings shows the proposed appearon e when the chapel on the left and the residence which completes the quadrangle of the back are finished. This should ome true within six menths

Helen was one of the four veterons on the staff, with Mike, Fraser, and the "chief", but definitely the kind of veteron you're glad to have around. She took care of the Student Government section without fuss but certainly with reliability. When the 'flu carried her off for a week she came back to work overtime to catch up.

If we found she was away for a weekend we knew that she was back at her home near Carnwall. She graduated from Avanmare High School and came to enrol in St. Mike's. She has kept busy in her spare time as secretary of St. Jaseph's S.A.C., social convener of the Sadality, member of the Hause Cammittee, and she fallows clasely the activities of the St. Mike's Music and Drama which she claims is the biggest arganization in the Callege. She was elected president of the Music Club for next year.

Helen has finished naw her secand year General with a Philasaphy majar. We knaw samething about the course because she used to came down and vent her Rational Psycholagy an us. Being in secand year means there is one to go and we hape her plans for next year are samething similar to ours. THE STUDENTS' ADMINISTRATIVE COUNCIL

Among the outstanding characteristic of the 1954-5. Council, was its business-like approach to its duties and the efficiency of those responsible for the various undertakings both large and small. This meant that in almost every instance outside for results were obtained.

Each commission and committee had its own peculiar problems, although for once the Publications group had no major upheavals nor threats of resignation. Much of the credit for this must go to lan Scott the Commissioner, α s well as to the various editors concerned.

The finances of the Council have been a matter of grave onsideration throughout the year. A new accounting system required by the University, aused a degree of confusion at the beginning of term but the problems gradually worked themselves out. Many hours of patient investigation and analysis on the part of the President, Vice-President and members of the Finance Commission resulted in a report which showed learly the present and future position of the Council. This facilitated budgeting for next year.

In the ourse of the investigation, it was found that the majority of services and activities of the Council are applicable to students in Graduate Studies. A brief was prepared and presented to the Board of Governors through the President, asking that the School of Graduate Studies be included in Council membership. The Board agreed that this should be done for 1955-56 on the same conditions as graduate students were originally admitted to Hart House membership. This means that the Council will now be truly representative of the studient body and will increase its income from fees to a considerable extent.

One of the major problems of the Finance Commission in bringing down a budget, was the decision, after a vate of the various student government bodies represented on the Cauncil, to continue this University's membership in NFCUS. This will mean an increase in the per capita fee paid to that body from 20c to 50° per student, but it is hoped that its value to the students of Canada will be correspondingly greater.

The Blue and White Society under its Chairman, Bill Harris, enjoyed a most active and profitable year. Its contribution of $700, the entire profits of the Football Dance on the Queen's weekend, to the Hurricane Relief Fund, was a splendid gesture, heartily supported by the Council. A revision of the Blue and White Canstitution completed during the year has clarified the Society's procedures and its responsibility to the Council Organization of football weekends, skating parties, the Float Parade and the increasingly popular "Christmas Tree" was shouldered most efficiently by the Blue and White

The activities of the External Affair Committee have been set out elsewhere in this volume. It suffices to say that the NECUS, WUS and Weekend armittees under Gord Hrulburt, Ron Gould and Jane Farquharson, respectively, enjoyed a most successful year. Particular mention should be made of the long and intensive campaign waged by Norm Chalmer and his NECUS ammittee on increased cholarship and bursary aid to students by governments at various levels. An increase of $100,000 for this purpose in the Ontario Education Budget was a partial reword for the hard working group.

The Music Committee under the hairmanship of Mi huel Oliver, sponsored two highly suresisful non-erts for the University of Toronto Orchestra and Chorus as well as participation of the chorus in the Intercollegiate Festival at M Master Special thanks are due to the conductors, Professors Rosevear and Johnston

Debating in the University seems to have fallen into the doldrums, but Gord Hurlburt, the UTDU Chairman, and Julie Adams, in charge of women's debates did as much as was possible to encourage participation in this field

An All-Varsity Revue Committee under Mike Shoemaker was appointed and has made a great effort to revive this papular Council activity for 1955-56. There is every prospect that an AVR will be held next year.

The Student Service Commission has what is perhips the most difficult job of organization of any group. The Red Feather and Blood Donor campaigns and the Settlement Clothing Drive are all the active responsibility of this cammittee as well as the Book Exchange, the Undergraduate Loan Fund, the Housing and the Employment services which are operated through the Council office. Organization of the spontuneous and successful Hurri and Relief Fund which raised some $4,712 for "Huzel's" victims also came under this ommission. It is lipped that the appointment of a regular student service representative in each Faculty next year, will solve some of the organizational problems which have arisen.

The Council itself, through certain members, has dealt with innumerable matters throughout the year. Special mention should be made of the Hoskin Avenue stop-light compaign, which resulted in the placement of a traffic officer at rush hours between Trinity and the Hart Houle roud. Bill Ridpath haired this committee.

Another ammittee naired by Bruce Cunningham and amposed of various Coun I members and entain interested students, made a survey of Student Administration relation throughout the University particularly in regard to student government. It was the conclusion of the connected that the student body is reasonably well satisfied with the present situation but a recommendation was sent forward to the Caput that more provision be made in future for consultation with key undergraduates when matters of discipline arise. Also, following the recommendation of this committee, special "Books of Office" were purchased for each Council Committee chairman and officer. In these information and suggestions can be recorded and passed on to a successor.

The Council President, Bill Angus, and the Vice-President, Mary Ellen Gibson, carried out the responsibilities of hospitality toward representatives of other universities and a happy innovation was the "before game luncheon" of Council members and visitors in the Great Hall of Hart House on football Soturdays. Thanks to the very hard work of the Vice-President and some of her friends, the President's office on the second floor of the tower has been turned into a charming meeting place for Council members. This has helped greatly in developing a sense of unity in the Council.

The opening Coledon weekend has now become an annual event and serves an important function in moulding the members into a group. This process is completed by another happy institution, the supper given to the Council early in term by the President and Mrs. Smith

Following the success of last year's plan, an "introduction tea" for new members was held at the home of Jane Farquharson prior to the final meeting. This gave the incoming Council an idea of the various jobs to be filled and a chance to decide on the most suitable person to fill each one. The final joint meeting, dinner and election of afficers rounded out a most satisfactory and eventful year.

Thanks are due to Professors Hayne and Hennessey, the President's two representatives on the Council, who patiently sat through lengthy meetings and drapped words of wisdom as required. A sincere expression of appreciation is also offered by all Council members to Mr. T. H. B. Symons who served as Chairman for the year and who dealt out strict parliamentary rulings with a delightful leavening of humour

Students' Administrative Council Honour Awards 1954-55

The HONOUR AWARD of the Students' Administrative Cauncil is granted to those students of the graduating year who have contributed most natably to the undergraduate life of the University as a whale. The recipients are determined by an Honaur Award Committee on the bosis of nominations received from the various colleges and faculties. The award is symbolized by a gald key and certificate which is presented by the President of the University following the Canvacation ceremonies.

Yes, we storted on the wrong foot, for the second day of school will long be remembered as that of the Freshman Disturbance and the $4,000.00 fine. But out of all trouble some good always arises, and this can be truly said of the riot, for within one month of our trouble a larger disoster struck the Humber Volley — Hurricane Hazel had orrived. Operation Engineer was quickly organized by Neil Irwin and 1,100 Schoolmen offered their services in cleaning up the destruction. In addition, $1,200.00 was collected in S.P.S. as port of the Relief Fund — one of the lorgest sums of this noture ever collected from a single group at the University of Toronto. The Engineers again had shown their kind-heortedness and proved themselves worthy of commendation.

K. G. CHRISTIE Pres. 5T8

Despite controry rumours, the Engineering Society continued to function after the Coput had levied the fine and suspension as a result of the Freshman incident. No octivity suffered from the lock of support or money — in foct every event was completely successful, and in many cases far beyond the expectations of the Society. On January 11th, 1955, the Faculty Council returned the Society to good stonding, and the Society continued to operate ot its utmost copacity. A sincere word of opreciation goes to the Dean and Foculty members who have given us involubble assistance and odvice during the yeor.

> Looking through the year's activities the most outstanding event was probably School Nite. Without producer or director in September, a great show was written and produced inside of two months. Featuring the "Skulehouse Four", the best barbershop quartet on the campus, School Nite appeared as the most polished and most effective Engineering show ever to appear at Toronto. Its success con best be illustrated by soying that the S.R.O. sign was posted for three of the four nights of the show and an overall attendance of 90% was achieved. The 65th Annual School Dinner was, as usual, a complete sell-out - with tickets being unovoilable forty-eight hours after going on sale. Mr. J. R. White, President of Imperiol Oil Limited, was the guest speaker and his remorks on the "Effects of Engineering on One's Leisure Time" were well received by the 350 Schoolmen present.

fall after having been held at local nightclubs for the past few years. Despite competition from the Grey Cup Weck-end, and the Intercollegiate Football Final this dance proved to be quite successful.

The month of February was formal time, with both the School At-Home and Grod Boll being held in this month. The At-Home was a tremendous success with an out-of-this-world theme — "Hades". The Grad Ball lived up to everyone's expectations - and had everything that one could wish for.

But there was more than the social side of our activities Four General Meetings were held and a record was set in January when more than 700 inquisitive Schoolmen jammed into the meeting to hear an excellent talk on "Colour Television"

The Society was again honoured this winter to be hosts to the Second Engineering Society Lecture Dr Samuel Laycock, retired Dean of Education, spoke on the "Common Day", a discussion of the goals in life.

Agoin this year, SPS played host at Christmas to the older boys from the University settlement. The boys had a wonderful time in the pool and aymnasium at Hart House, working up a big appetite for the dinner that concluded the afternoon's fun. The generosity of Schoolmen was again evident, for the costs of this event were covered by voluntary donations

The Editor and staff of "Toike Oike" deserve much credit for the quality of paper which they produced this year. With a limited budget they continued to turn out a bi-weekly newspaper which was a credit to SPS.

The credit for the success of these functions goes to the tremendous group of fellows who served on the Executive of the Society and to the committees of all the functions. This has been a difficult year — and a year of changing attitudes. But the Executive has been extremely active, with the result that meetings have been well-attended and much business completed in short time Perhaps the most outstanding event of the Society's Executive meetings was the discussion on NFCUS. in which Gord Hurlburt, our Fourth SAC Rep. and the University of Toronto NFCUS Chairman led one of the most convincing debates ever witnessed in SPS — with the result that, for the first time, the School voted in favour of NF.CUS!

The class of 5T5 is leaving the Society in the hands of good men. They have a difficult task ahead of them - for the Engineering Society is in a period of change May 1955-56 see a continued growth towards the goal of providing the best in entertainment while maintaining the status of Professional Engineering students

COMMERCE CLUB

• This year marks the Commerce Club's thirty-fourth year as the official undergraduate association for the men in Commerce and Finance. This year the Club is fortunate in having Professor V. H. Bladen, the head of the Department of Political Economy, as its Honourary President.

The purpose of the Club is two-fold. First, it endeavours to provide for the students in the course a common meeting ground outside of their formal studies; and second, it serves as a liason with the business world. In the programme to promote this purpose regular meetings are held in the form of luncheons and smokers. Speakers from varied fields of commerce are presented at these meetings to discuss current topics of interest in economics and business.

Further functions are organized such as tours to local commercial and financial enterprises, which add to the students' understanding and knowledge of business. These tours are especially popular with the graduating class in that they frequently provide valuable contacts which lead to later employment. In the fall term o Book Exchange is operated by the Club for the benefit of the members. At the more informal level sports tournaments and other recreational activities are arranged.

The social highlight of the year is the Annual Finance Frolic which is usually held at the Club Embassy. This event provides an opportunity for the graduates to assemble and renew old acquaintances. Two other highlights of the year were a newly initiated Reception for Commerce freshmen, and the enthusiastic support of the Club members in our float parade entry.

The Commerce Journal, published annually, is operated under the auspices of the Club. The Journal staff, however, is for all practical purposes independent of the Club and is to be complimented for its fine work. The contributors to the Journal incude leading Canadian business figures as well as a few of more international character. Similarly the articles deal with contemporary topics of business interest with an emphasis on Canadian affairs. The Journal as well as having a large circulation in Canada finds its way to many foreign countries.

• 1954-55 was a highly successful year for students of the Dental Faculty, of which the graduating year may be justly proud.

Under an energetic president and his able cabinet, the Students' Parliament produced a record of achievement in many fields. In canjunction with the Faculty Cauncil, a Student-Staff Liaison Committee was established, having equal representation from both groups. It is an excellent innavation praviding a medium for the constructive interchange of ideas between the two bodies

Both students and staff members were introduced to the rigors of ocademic life at the annual golf tournament, held early in the fall. Other outstanding social events during the year included the Saph-Frosh, Post-Election, and At Home dances.

For the first time, the football team received additional incentive from the gyrations of five well-rounded cheerleaders. Dents teams entered and excelled in all inter-faculty sports, particularly hockey, squash, and soccer.

The Dentantics writers and actors did samething previously unheard of on the campus. They presented an extravaganza which was bath clean and funny, and one of the best campus shows of the year.

Another production, Hya Yaka the 195-1 student magazine was rescued from obscurity by a vigarous editor and staff. It was a first class production af rare quality.

Sincere thanks are due Dean Ellis and his staff for their helpful instruction and active interest in us. The projected Dental building will be a fitting tribute to their work on behalf of the Dental profession.

FORESTER'S CLUB

The highlights of the 1954-55 season in Forestry activities will be remembered by many for years to come. The first big event was the float for the homecoming week-end. Under the close supervision of Terry Honer and Clayton Keith, crews worked diligently on the planning and construction of our float which depicted the French-Canadian author as the backbone of our Canadian economy. The float stood well with its competitors

The next time that Forestry was in the limelight was the occasion of the First Winter Carnival when Forestry carried off top honour in the overall point system. Miss Mary Jane Champ was chosen as Forestry's "Girl we'd like most to get lost in the bush with". Miss Champ was chosen as the Princess-in-waiting to the Carnival Queen.

Brian Cross and Neil Hunter were strong factors in our victory.

Forestry again made the highlights in a misunderstanding over the blood campaign. Forestry, all-time winners in the blood campaign for the Skule Cannon, had to beat off a confused St. Michael's College bid for its coveted trophy. It is rumoured that when Forestry gives blood, it is a pint out of each arm.

The activities ended with two smashing banquets, one for the presentation of the athletic awards, and the other for some consoling words of guidance from our illustrious alumni. Albert Moyer was awarded the T. W Dwight Trophy for contributing the most to Forestry Athletics

THE LAW CLUB

Augustus—the Law School Horse appeared for one brief run an Homecoming Weekend when The University of Toronto School of Law won first prize and the Alumni Shield of the annual Float Parade. The fall term started with a welcoming Stag for first year and ended with the Legal Leap — the annual ball in late November. The two moin fall activities were an active series of Moat Courts —prepored under faculty supervision and argued before seniar students and o round-robin tournoment of impromptu debating which carried over into February.

The special and only social event of the spring term was the annual Law Club Banquet where Mr Justice Vincent C McDonald, o Supreme Court Justice in Nova Scatia, not only delivered a thaught-provoking tolk on legal education and practice but also matched wit and comment with President Smith and our beloved Dean, C. A Wright

However, all activity was not restricted to the school as the Law Club entered eight teams in intramural athletics and won the T. A. Reed Trophy for the second consecutive year. Although the only champianships came through Lacrasse, Squash, Woter Pola, and Minor League Basketball, the Legal Beagles were finalists in Soccer and Volleyball and they reached the semi-finals in Division I Major League Basketball! Oh yes there was a Hockey team that "alsa ran"

The School of Law Review is ample evidence that emphasis is by na means an athletics. The proofs indicate that this all-student effort in creative legal writing will be up to the high standards of former years in point of interest and research. The size of the masthead as well as the quality of the Literary material and style is keeping pace with the rapid growth of the Law School itself.

 All undergraduates in the Faculty of Medicine are members of the Medical Society, and as such are permitted to attend any of the regular meetings held by the Medical Society Assembly. The latter, as governing body of the students in this Faculty, attempts to provide a wide range of activities which will cover the needs of Medical students

In the fall an informal evening was held to welcome the class of 6TO with Dr. Bruce Tovee on hand to speak to the Freshmen. A number of senior students were also present to meet the new group.

This year an effort was made to work more closely with our sister Faculty of Physical and Occupational Therapy. The result was a dance held in November, the "Tarsal Trot", sponsored jointly by both Meds and P.O.T. We hope that in the future an even closer relationship will develop. Other events in our social calendar included the always successful Meds-at-Home in February and the Annual Staff-Student Smoker where Staff and Students met informally in the congenial surroundings of Malloney's Art Gallery. Just before Christmas, the Daffydilians were out in force with their usual evening of good entertainment for Medsmen old and new.

The Medical Arts and Letters Club spent an active year orronging debates, musical evenings and so on. At the regular meetings of the Osler Society papers were read on the history of medicine and on some of her greatest personalities.

With a new format and an aggressive circulation campaign, the Medical Journal mointained its high standards and it is hoped that it will regain the coveted Frosst Trophy awarded to the best undergrad Journal in Canado, and honour it has held for three years of the past five.

With the very generous gift of o graduate of the Faculty, a new Medical Common Room was established in the Medical Building this year. In order to increase the usefulness of the room for the students the Medical Society Executive has undertaken the obligation of supporting a snack bar Although this is a large imposition on our budget to start with we feel sure that with the excellent co-operation of the Dean and the students it will shortly become a self supporting institution and a worthwhile addition to the activities of the Medical Society

MEDICAL WOMEN'S UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION

The Medical Women's Undergraduate Association is an organization which links together not only all the girls from 1st Premeds to 4th Meds, but also the undergraduates with the women graduate doctors in Taronto

On registration day the freshies of 6TO were welcomed by the girls of the Fourth Medical year and later were entertained at on evening porty at the home of the president of the MWUA, Morjorie Swanson.

On Oct 5th, a supper party was arronged by the Ontario Division of the Canadian Federation of Medical Women at the hame of Drs Marjarie Davis and Geraldine Maloney Approximately 140 graduates and undergraduates attended

The annual MWUA initiation bonquet took place Oct 26 at Casa Lama The first Premedical girls were then formally welcomed into the association and the new honorary president, Dr. Marjorie Davis, was introduced. Dr. Marian Hilliard, the guest speaker, showed some interesting slides of her recent trip to Europe

On Dec 15th, befare one of the Daffydil performances, the annual Christmas supper party was held in the MWUA common room, to which members brought gifts for the University Settlement children

In the spring one round table discussion will take place with wamen graduates discussing some subject of interest to women in medicine. A banquet as usual will be given in honour of the girls graduating in '55, at which time they will be presented

The Medical Women's Athletic Association:

The Medical wamen had an enjoyable if unsuccessful year in athletics. The base ball team made a noble effort in their league but failed to come out an tap—however everyone had a good time. The "B" basketball team suffered a similar fate. The "A" team tied with UC Sr-Jr in their league but last out in the play-off. UC went on to win the intermural championship. Mary Robertson defended the Medicalours in swimming earlier in the fall. Volleyball and hackey are now getting under way and should provide added interest for the rest of the year.

SCHOOL OF NURSING UNDERGRADUATE COUNCIL

In many respects, 1954-55 has been a memorable year for the Undergraduate Association Under a newly revised constitution, we were able to sponsar many activities, bath traditional and new. The chief feature of the present constitution is the incorparation of the large group of hospital graduate students into the Undergraduate Student Organization, which was farmerly comprised only of the basic degree students. These haspital graduate students are graduate nurses from many countries all over the world who attend our University school far further training and study. Far the yearor mare that they are here, they are cansidered undergraduates of the University. Through representation on the Undergraduate Council and committees, these students have participated to a greater extent in the activities of the Association with the result that the student bady has enjoyed a higher degree of unity and integrated effort than was previously possible.

Since Joint School Council, an arganization comprised of staff and students, was abalished last year, the Undergraduate Association is the sole student organization in the School.

A new addition to our usual activities this year was "Nursineering Night," following an invitation from the Chemical Engineering Club, and held in Cody Hall at the School. The program opened with a three-act play entitled "Frank and Earnest", and represented the combined efforts of students of both groups to originate and produce. The evening was completed by songs, folk and round dances and refreshments, to the great enjayment of nurses and engineers alike.

It is to be hoped that many more warthwhile efforts such as this, as well as the cherished traditions of the association will be perpetuated more effectively through this revised constitution.

UNDERGRADUATE PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY

This year The Undergraduate Pharmaceutical Society celebrated its fifth anniversary, and, as necessary in a young organization, certain additions were made and pragress was the theme af operation.

The past year witnessed the establishment of a Students' Service Commission the appointment of an assistant to the representative to the SAC; an assistant to the representative to the EAC; and also a SHARE representative, an assistant Publications Commissioner; and the naming of aur Yearbook "The Pharmakon".

The pragress theme was evidenced in the sponsorship by the Society of a Pharmacy Band for social functions; the sponsarship by the Society in conjunction with the Faculty, of a Pharmacy Open-House an March 7 and 8; and the opening of a Camman Raam an the campus for Pharmacy students taking the majarity of their classes on the main campus.

We welcome this year Dean F N. Hughes as Hanarary President of the Society, and, Professor H J Fuller as our Faculty Representative for his second term of office.

As another year gaes by the board, the Undergraduate Pharmaceutical Society can loak back an numerous accomplishments, but must not forget that practice makes perfect, and perfection is admirable.

PHYSICAL AND OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY UNDERGRADUATE EXECUTIVE

• Every girl registered in the caurse of Physical and Occupational Therapy automatically becomes a member of the Undergraduate Association. The Association gathers monthly at the huts to enjoy a supper meeting which is followed by some form af entertainment, as a debate, a skit, or a film. The executive meets twice monthly to plan the supper meetings and ta discuss matters pertaining to the Undergraduate Association.

Three dances were held at the huts this fall with the Faculties of Commerce and Finance, Forestry, and Medicine to improve interfaculty relations! A great success during the first term was the initiation of aur freshies by the men's fraternities on the campus, fallowed by a mammoth dance at the Drill Hall, patronized by all the froternal members. The highlight of the spring term was the annual "At Home" held this year at Casa Loma.

In the sports world the P.O.T girls are very active. This year we were supported by two hockey teams, two basketball teams, two valleyball teams, one baseball team and one ski team. The sports season was climaxed by the spring Athletic Banquet at which awards were made to autstanding othletes and our winning teams in interfaculty sports.

The final and most anticipated event of the year was the Graduation Banquet for the final year students held this year at the Narthgote Hotel

The Undergraduate Association has experienced a most successful year during the 54-55 terms, thanks to the autstanding support of all its members

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE'S. A. C.

This year the Students' Administrative Council at St. Michael's Callege again devated itself to the pramation of extra-curricular activities on this campus, and acted as the spakesman of the Callege in the University world. In their meetings the Cauncil re-consolidated their reputation of dissent, debate, and dichatamy, and faced prablems as different as amalgamatian and a budget that refused to stretch. As is prabably the impression of every aut-going Cauncil and graduate, the past sessian has appeared as a banner year in the field of student functions. If it is true of student activities that anly those who participate and contribute to them enjoy their benefits, then surely this year there were many who profited from the advantages of student societies. There has been laid in 1954-55 a standard for the utilization of student capacity and interest, far in this year the problems of apathy which usually plague organizations have been largely unknown.

It was an eventful year. In the Fall term the Cauncil arganized and sponsared a freshman arientation programme, pep rallies for the perennial runner-up in Mulock Cup campetition, and countless dances ta raise Athletic maney, to intraduce freshmen, and ta have fun. The At-Home in January was again the highlight of the social seasan. But the notewarthy achievements of the year far student societies were the advancement of C.F.C. C.S. activities on the campus, a Student Lecture Series, the appearance of a new and autstanding literary publication, the Gryphon, and the presentation of a musical hit, "Brigadoon", produced in ca-aperation with University College. A new and exciting Canstitutian for Students' Council to embrace the three Colleges in the St. Michael's federation has been devised and its adaption could prove to be the mast significant farward step taken by the Cauncil this year. In any case, the Cauncil has had an enjoyable and satisfying experience; in leaving affice it wishes the incoming members much success, especially in collecting the raised society fee.

It consists of the senior members and year representatives from each callege council, and is the official voice in oll university affairs for St Michael's Women.

The members of the Council include the presidents the vice-presidents, and other senior members of Laretta's and St Joseph's S.A.C. The President of the Council, as St. Michael's Women's S.A.C. representative, reports to this body and is

It is also an organ for discussing mutual problems and is respansible for coloperation in activities carried on jaintly by both colleges, such as athletics. Among its activities for 1954-55 were the Red Feather Campaign and SHARE

Due to the unique structure of this council, good-will and co-operation between the two colleges is needed to make it a useful instrument in the student's administration of St. Michael's College

ST. HILDA'S COLLEGE MEETING

• St. Hilda's College Meeting begon its first yeor under its new constitution, which, as someone aptly remarked "hordly says a thing", and its new rules of procedure, which caver a little more. Democracy now rules this august body since its chief officers, olthough they must have a certain academic standing, are now elected

The first event of the year was the Freshie Weekend which proceeded both hoppily and efficiently. Everyone enjoyed the dinners, dances, tours, and teas, and, for the first time, every event took place at the scheduled time and place. The gowning ceremony for first year was well attended by all members of the College and we all enjoyed the refreshments and the apportunity to meet the new members afterwards. First year was also "entertained" by Dubbing at the end of Octaber. By this ritual they became true St. Hildans.

In Navember, at our annual St Hilda's Night, graduates and undergraduotes supplied mutual entertoinment with toasts, year yells and songs.

On the sacial scene we had two excellent dances Our annual formal, the Saints, which took place in December, was very capably run by a committee headed by Geraldine Pephcott who decorated Cartwright Holl with same delightful drawings of Dickens' characters. The Freshie Dance and the SJS, the latter of which had o cammittee headed by Mary Lou Cleverley, were also mast successful

At the time this is being written Episkopon, that ceremony of wit and wisdom peculiar to Trinity, hos just taken place. The College has settled down to work, but the senior years loak forward with langing to the House Porty in Muskoka which will follow the exams. We who are graduating will always remember our motto, Timor dei principium sapientiae, or, as ane undergraduate translated it "The fear of knowledge is the beginning of wisdom."

TRINITY COLLEGE BOARD OF STEWARDS

As befits the executive bady of the mast canservative Callege on this campus, the Trinity College Board of Stewards once again this year was characterized by stability and cantinuity. It was neither suspended nar abolished. However, certain members af the Callege Meeting, which is the real student government of Trinity, were so concerned with its stability and conservatism (which they termed abscurity) that they expressed the opinion that the Board was "running off and hiding on the College". To answer this charge, the Board went through an official but agonizing soul-searching and produced a brief to be read to the Callege. It also decided to have its minutes read to the College Meeting.

The Board was cancerned with other matters. hawever. Under its auspices, a successful Freshman weekend was held, and with its quaking permission an acceptable Cake Fight and initiation ran their merry courses. The Sacial Committee arganized several delightful Saints' Receptions and an extremely successful Christmas Party for the children of the staff and students. The Float Cammittee's efforts were crowned with a third place success, Trinity's high water mark in recent years, and a certain percentage of the Board's time was allotted to finding a suitable resting place for the scroll of award.

A particularly enjoyable "Salterrae", the College's "news" magazine, was periodically published during the year. Trinity voted in favour of NFCUS and the fifty cents, and, of course, parking was again a mamentaus issue in the Callege. This year a callection of books for a college in Africa was well received by the Men of College.

From the above account it can be seen that behind the neo-pseudo-Gothic exterior, Trinity and its Board of Stewards has undergone an active and profitable year.

U. C. LITERARY AND ATHLETIC SOCIETY EXECUTIVE

• 1954-55 was a milestone in the history of the University College Literary and Athletic Society. The Lit observed its 100th birthday, it being the oldest undergraduate organization on the campus. The 100 years have often been rocky, several times the existence of the it has been threatened, but after each crisis the Lit has always come back having gained experience and tradition but never losing vitality.

What is the Lit like after 100 years? Not really very different than any other year. The 100th year saw one of the liveliest open meeting ever held; with perhaps 175 men furiously debating whether or not a gift to the residence was a gift to the college. It saw the usual complaints of student apathy, and a centennial meeting which bore this out. As usual most of the executive votes were passed 1-0. But it also had its novelties: the Music Club's production of "Brigadoon" threatened to make money, and this year's gag picture even looks funny.

What will the Lit be like in the next 100 years? Consideration of this should perhaps await the outcome of a Student Parliament debate on whether there is going to be another hundred years; but nevertheless we feel that a positive tradition of active interest and service to our college is being handed on to those whose names will adorn the wall of the JCR in future as officers. Two factors, in particular bode well for the future. First, at long last, positive steps are being taken for the renovation of the JCR: a special committee under Al Millard has been set up and appears to be tackling the problem vigorously. The other source of optimism is the new Men's Residence. The Residence has already made itself felt in Lit politics and will in future, provide officers closer to the University scene.

"Brigadoon", produced in collaboration with St Michael's College, enlisted about half the college and its success was due to their effort and the spirit of coloperation between St. Mike's and our elvea fact of no mean significance.

Another major item on the credit ride was the inception of a college newspaper the "Gargoyle". This paper should be a great source of inity in the college and its polished make-up is now fan his to most UCers.

U. C. WOMEN'S UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION

• The executive of the women's Undergraduate Assaciation is responsible far the organization of many of the extra-curricular activities of its members. Jaintly with the Lit., it directs the social functions and subsidizes the cultural clubs within the college.

The fall of '54 began with the traditional Freshie Reception. This included campus taurs, luncheons, a square dance, special Red and White night and the Saph-Frosh Banquet. We wish aur newcomers every success and hope they now feel an integral part of the college.

In Navember the W.U.A. assisted at the official opening ceremonies of the Sir Daniel Wilson Memorial Residence.

Befare Christmas, the W.U.A., in canjunction with other college executives, gave a party in the Lillian Massey building for the university settlement children. Games, swimming, movies and a visit from Santa Claus provided the entertainment.

The Arts Ball, held this year at the new men's residence, again proved mast successful and special thanks is given our hard-working social directors for their splendid organization as well as to those members of staff who gave coffee parties.

U. C. and St. Mike's combined their talent this year to produce "Brigadaon". The show, staged for ane week in Hart House, featured an all-student cast and was a tremendous success.

The Grad Banquet, held in March, was the first of a series of activities, including a tea and Graduation Ball, provided for the graduating class. Professar Lower of Queen's was guest speaker. It is to be haped that the class of '55 will enjoy many mare such functions in years to come.

Space does not permit the elaboration of smaller but equally enjoyed activities, such as debates and Red and White nights, which the W.U.A. and Lit direct. We must mention, however, the fun we had and the gratification we derived in working for our college body.

D Roberta Colling Nursing

Robin left Hermes to join our literory family, ond with her little scrop-book full of wanderful plans she kept things hopping. At times we had to point out that unfortunately the monetary factor must be considered, but in general her ideas were the kind we would like to see continued next year. She introduced the division of organizations shown in the next few pages, which makes everything so much more lagical; and as another example, she used the informal sub-headings to identify the vorious organizations as parts of their porticular foculties.

Robin hos just finished her first yeor in Nursing, o course which we respect highly for the few connections we hove with it. This means we can look forward to a few more years of her progressive workmanship, and we shall welcome her.

ORGANIZATIONS

the truth! to form a group which is not merely self-centred; the trial: to overcome the mony degradations of purpose which seem to occompany progress;

the trust: that the group may maintain its tenets.

• Do you know that there are some nincty active organizations on our campus? This large figure is exclusive of the many governing bodies, fraternities, publications, and athletics. To the graduate, these clubs are the settings of many of his most cherished memories. To the freshman, they present a bewildering choice. Dr. Sidney Smith wisely reminds us that, while we "cannot possibly engage in all of most of them, they are a true part of our education." It is in our organizations that we compare ideas, exercise leadership, put into practice principles we have learned in class, and, above all, have fun. There is truly a club for everyone. Some are open to students of a particular faculty only, while others are campus-wide groups where students of similar interest become acquainted. Among our clubs are several over onc hundred years old. On the following pages you will sec these, the organizations of our university, at work and at play.

- - - in the Medical Arts and Letters Society

• These are the four principal organizations of the Medical Arts and Letters Society. This Society comprises and governs all the clubs and organizations of the medical undergraduate body, with the single exception of "Daffydil". However, "Daffydil" derives much of its support, organization, and cast from the members of the Arts and Letters Society.

THE MEDICAL DEBATING SOCIETY

• One must agree that it is of the utmost importance, especially to professional men, to be able to convey effectively to others their knowledge and opinions, and it is the principal aim of the Medical Debating Society to give all Medical students an appartunity to develop this ability.

While it is to be regretted that the pressure of studies and of other extra-curricular activities prevented the debating programme from receiving the support it deserved, yet the attendance at the three debates, against Knax, U.C., and Trinity, represented a very significant increase over that of last year, and everyone who attended any af these debates felt that they had derived considerable benefit fram it, as well as having a good time. It is haped that they represent the beginning of what will saan be the largest and most active group in the Medical Arts and Letters.

THE MEDICAL MUSIC ASSOCIATION

● The M.M.A. is the largest club in the Medical Faculty; one-tenth of all Medical students are active members. Its purpose is to give anyone who enjoys singing a chance to do so. Over twenty meetings, cancentrating an charal singing, were held during the year.

This year, as always, the Association was one of the main pillars of Daffydil, and the fine choruses which characterized the show were due almost entirely to the efforts of its executive and members. The M.M.A. alsa pravided the entertainment far the Medical elections, which kept the audience glued to their seats until the very last speeches had been heard.

We feel that the interest and pleasure which singing has always held far mankind in general, and hard-working Medical students in particular, will assure the continued grawth and vigaur of the Association.

THE MEDICAL MUSIC SOCIETY

• The purpose of the Medical Music Saciety is ta enable music-loving medical students ta get together and enjay new and different types of music, as well as to widen their acquaintance and understanding in the classical field. One of the Society's main attractions is the lack of farmality and casual atmosphere of the meetings. The programmes are given by well-known artists as well as students and prafessors in and aut of the faculty. Our pragrammes of the past have included both evenings of varied classical compositions, and evenings featuring a particular type of music such as calypsa, chamber music, Braadway musicals, ballet music, and jazz.

THE OSLER SOCIETY

The society was faunded in the spring of 1951 by a graup of Medical students interested in the life of Sir William Osler. It is an arganization of students who are interested in the historical aspect of medicine and take as their function the preparation and presentation of papers of interest to medical and premedical students on topics of ather than the technical aspects of medicine. This includes medical biography and philosophy, and non-medical subjects of general interest

At each manthly meeting one or two papers are read which are not didactic lectures à la mode the classroam, but are essays prepared and delivered by fellow classmates who are careful not to let bold fact replace calarful anecdates and interesting situations that abound in the history of medical thought. The papers deal with any aspect of medicine, from the period when the physician was regarded as a priest-king who healed by magic, to the 20th century, when healing is a science and art.

The aims of the society are thus two-fold: to "provide members with a training in the preparation and presentation of papers"; and, to "further the study of medical history."

The society was sa named "the Osler Society" to perpetuate the memory of Sir William Osler, Canada's greatest physician.

Fallowing the presentation of a paper, a general discussion is held among the members present, and constructive criticism of the method of delivery, organization of material, and the paper in general is given by those faculty members that are present, with an opportunity given far the student to argue with the mentor.

When everyane is talked out and all discussion has came to an end, refreshments are served with the meeting being adjourned around eleven a clock in the evening.

THE WRITERS' GROUP

• St Michael's Writers' Group is an informal arganization of students at the callege who meet weekly to read and discuss their own creative writing. The group works in close connection with St Michael's Literary publication the Gryphon. There is no formal membership in the group. The chairman is editor of the Gryphon.

THE MUSIC AND DRAMA SOCIETY

Adventuresame" might best characterize the pragram of the Music and Drama Saciety for the year 1954-55. In an effort to provide both educational and entertaining evenings of music and drama for its members, it scheduled programs of a widely varied nature. Guest artists in the field of music included Miss Sydney Young, pianist; Nichalas Galdschmitt, singing German Lieder; a string quartet from the Royal Canservatory; Miss Lesia Zubrack, saprana; and Tany Ginter, vialinst. Work in the field of drama expanded considerably, including a highly successful production of Wilder's "Happy Jaurney", under the direction of Dan McCarthy of the CBC; ca-spansarship with University Callege of the brilliant musical camedy, "Brigadaan"; and a Lenten reading, in the Great Hall of Hart Hause of Wagner's Parsifal. The "Schala Cantarum" of St Basil's Seminary presented the annual Christmas cancert. A literary-dramatic weekend with St. Jahn Fisher Callege of Rachester, New York, was also spansared by the society.

In the year's pragram, the Executive determined to present cancerts which, though not necessarily palatable to all tastes, would realize the aims of the Society as ariginally stated in the Constitution "to promote understanding and appreciation in the arts of music and drama". In the past, this goal had been achieved through the presentation of such artists as Giselle McKenzie, Bernard Johnson, Marguerite Gignac, John Cavart, Lauise Ray, Cecar Bare, and Bäszärménvi-Nagy. In the future, it is haped that succeeding executives will continue to faster an interest in, and an appreciation of, the finer aspects of music and drama

THE SAINT MICHAEL'S

● This year of 1954-55 has been an important one in the history of St Michael's College for many reasons, and chiefly because of the opening of Carr Hall. The new building, besides other contributions, has finally provided a permanent home for the College Co-op. Since its foundation in 1947, the Co-op, or Student Tuck Shop, has wandered from House 49, now banished from the Campus, to Teefy Hall, and now has settled on the first floor of Carr Hall. The new site is much more suitable, being large, bright, well-equipped, and comfortable, and has enjoyed a very large patronage during the year.

Every circle must have its centre, and for St. Mike's the "Co-op" is the unofficial co-ordinator of all student activity. This year particularly, because of longer business hours, and increased facilities, it has been an important factor in college unity. Here day student meets boarder, boy meets girl, intellectual meets athlet, and everyone contributes his two cents worth to the problem of the day. Over coffee in the "Co-op" movements and crusades are born and sometimes die, the fate of the

COLLEGE CO-OPERATIVE

College and University is decided, the Varsity is disapproved of and the whole scheme is set in matign.

However, the "Ca-op" is more than a meeting place. It is a student Ca-aperative based on the Rachedale principle and run campletely for and by the students. A Board of Directars, elected by the members (and membership is open to every student and prafessor) decides policy and appoints a student manager to run the actual business. Students work behind the counter of the Tuck Shap and keep the lounge clean. Thus every member has the opportunity of cantributing to the policy making and administration of the Ca ap, as well as sharing in its profits. Moreover, the "Ca-ap" is run on the principles of Christian business ca-aperation, and affords valuable training for all those who participate in its management.

The Ca-ap therefore takes the students' money, and then gives it back to him, gives him a place to meet and talk, and affers him experience in Christian living. It is an integral part of St. Mike's!

The Power of Speech

THE ORATORICAL SOCIETY

The Oratorical Society was formed several years ago by students who realized the necessity of an organization which would help them to develop their speaking obilities. Over the years, and especially this year, the attendance at the debates has increased so that the Oratorical Society has become one of the most popular of such groups on the compus.

One of the highlights of the year was a full house debate on Senator McCorthy. These crowds were due to a great extent to the active publicity compaign corried on by the executive: Bob Duncon, President; Roy Puhringer, Vice-President; Hugh McDaugoll, Secretory-Treosurer.

THE SENATE CLUB

The oim of the Senote Club is twofold: to represent St. Michoel's in Interfoculty Competition, and to promote debating and public-speaking among the student body.

This year, the Senote Club entered the U.T.D.U. competition with a reduced membership. It is truly a credit to the Club, that it represented the College so ably against the School of Low, School of Nursing and U.C. Women. One of the highlights of the year was an exhibition debote, presented at the C.N.I.B. in conjunction with the Leoside Deboting Union.

Our congrotulations are extended to Senators Chris. Fraser (Pres.), Norm. Stefnitz (Vice-Pres.) and Bob Edgar (Sec.-Treos.) for a highly successful year.

THE U. OF T. MODERN HISTORY CLUB

The Modern History Club, now in its 16th year on the campus, has enjoyed a very successful season, with a membership of close to one hundred. Members of the club, through its various activities, have been able to become better acquainted with the Staff of the Department of History and with their fellow students, and have had the opportunity to hear many interesting speakers in fields related to history.

The first meeting of the year featured a panel discussion on modern Germany by Professors G. W. Brown and R. A. Spencer, and students Jane Farquharson, and Douglas Hamlin. Since all of the speakers had travelled in Europe in the past summer, they were able to give us vivid impressions of the state of Germany today. At our November meeting we were fortunate to have been able to hear Profoessor Falardeau of Laval University, the Gray Lecturer for 1954, give us his views on French-English relations in Canada. Our next speaker was Dr. Cavalko, the Cultural Attaché of the Brazilian Embassy, who spoke on some aspects of Brazilian history. In December we held our annual Christmas party at which the entertainment included amusing historical sketches by Professor Cole of Trinity College, and Professors Underhill and Wilkinson of the History Department. There were also pseudo-historical skits dramatized by the students aided by staff members Saunders, Powicke, Connacher and Brown.

In January we heard Colonel C. P. Stacey of the Military Historical Section, Ottawa, give a very enlightening "Second Look at the War of 1812". The following month, Tommy Tweed, free lance writer, who had done historical plays for the CBC, spoke on the "Theatrical Value of Canadian History." The last meeting was again a panel discussion on a subject of vital current interest, Formosa. Members of the panel were Professor Tayhab of the Geography Department, and Professors Craig and Nelson of the History Dept.

The Club's meetings have all been both informative, entertaining, and very well attended. We are very grateful to our speakers, and to the members of the History Department itself, for their kind support, interest, and encouragement.

The St. Hilda's Literary Society

• The St Hildo's Lit this year deported from its traditional proctice of dividing the meetings between inter-year debotes and the one-act year plays.

At the opening meeting, instead of the usual debate, a discussion took place on the Lit policy of three inter-year debates, and later a ballot was taken which decided to dispense temporarily with inter-year debates and to draw up a programme of debates interspersed with panel discussions. It was felt that such a programme might promote more general interest in the activities of the Lit

This new policy produced an interesting and voried series of non-competitive discussions and debotes in which Freshies and seosoned deboters upheld or opposed resolutions together ably chaired on one occasion by Mr. Craig of the History Department.

St Hilda's also entered the field in inter-faculty debates ogainst P&OT in a debate on the relative merits of a professional and arts education for a girl. In spite of strong convictions on the question on the part of the St Hilda's Lit deboters, they retired defeated but unconvinced

Another innovation this year was the performance of the traditional Nativity Play in modern English, instead of the mediaeval version of the cycle. In all other aspects, the play remained as close to the original spirit os possible, with the odded advantage of understanding the speech

The one-act plays performed so far this year have been unusual in that they all have, in one way or another, contained a moral or religious theme. Fourth Year cavorted as Franciscan friars in "Brother Ass and Brother Juniper", by L. Houseman based on events in the life of St. Francis, and in a more serious vein, Second Year presented "The Vixen and the Grapes", by Marjorie Watson, inspired by Aesop's fable. Third year returned to the 14th century in a miracle play "Secunda Partorum". First Year's production is unfortunately being presented too late to be included here.

The changes that have taken place this year are a healthy sign that although older than many of the university's societies, the "Lit" is capable of adopting itself to the interests of its members

THE TRINITY COLLEGE LITERARY INSTITUTE

The Trinity College Literary Institute is the oldest organization in the College It is so old that it chopped fifteen years off its farmerly reputed age in order to celebrate (several times) its centenary this year. The T.C.L.L is camposed of oll the cultured men in the college, and, af these, the most cultured are elected to sit on the permanent executive, the Government Council and the Opposition Committee. Certain cultural activities, including deboting and public speaking, are advanced in the Callege through the efforts of the Government Council, who are aided by the permanent officers and prodded by the always watchful (and sometimes ambitious) Opposition. This year the Lit raused itself like a giant waking from sleep and went forth to do mighty deeds. The great interest shawn by members of all years, and especially of first year, indicates the revitalized Institute will in the immediate future cantinue to add giory to a history already glorious.

Our debates were generally concerned with topics of current significance permitting of a light tauch. The men af first year, reassured to learn that Ontaria's high school system was not a failure, later proved that the St. Lawrence needs an all-Canadian seaway. If Canada is a land of Mounties, Eskimos and Rase-Marie, we believe that it is also inexplicable. The Papists in the College vated that although birth cantrol may be good for birds, beasts and plants, it is not good for Canadians. Claiming the Conservotive Party as Canada's only hape gave the predominantly Liberal Cauncil an easy win; this debate also attracted the fewest members and even was occasion for a member of the Government to second the Opposition position. The Government, free to lose a debate, obtained Mr. Tim Buck of the Labor Progressive Party as guest speaker and declared itself to be apposed to Germany's rearmoment at this time. A member of the Opposition Cammittee adraitly trapped Mr.

• It is common knowledge that music is a universal language uniting within itself the many people who find it a principal interest in their lives. It was such when a group of students reorganized the University College Music Club in the years shortly after the Second World War. Their aim was to provide a bond of union for music lovers on the College Campus and through the various branches of the organization to stimulate and encourage the available musical talent.

Each year, one of the main endeavours of the Club has been to present an operetta. The 1948-49 Executive chose the then recently written "Down in the Valley" by Kurt Weill as part of the successful production they termed "Fantasy of 49". Other large productions that have been undertaken by the Music Club have included "The Red Mill", Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta" and Edward German's "Tom Jones". In the 1954-55 school year, the Club, rather than produce a show of its own, has lent its assistance in the production of "Brigadoon", the brilliantly successful musical jointly sponsored by University College and St Michael's College.

The activities of the Club have, through the years, taken many forms. On occasion the group has attended symphony concerts and other off-campus performances. They sponsor a number of Record Hours at which a prominent member of the staff of the University Faculty of Music conducts a discussion of the composition in question. The group within the Club that is known as "the Singers" have presented Sunday Evening concerts on various occasions.

In its endeavour to encourage Canadian musical talent, the Music Club executive has this year inaugurated a Music Festival. A group of works written by young composers studying on the Compus were performed at a Sunday evening concert in the Sir Daniel Wilson Residence. These works were all, as yet, unpublished and the adjudication by Dr. Boyd Neel and the other gentlemen of the adjudication boord gave insight into their qualities and genius. The Club hopes to continue this Musical Festival as an annual event and eventually extend it to include a competition for performers as well.

THE PLAYERS' GUILD

 The U.C. Players' Guild's illustrious past with such members as Eric House, Murray and Don Davis, their sister Barbara Chilcott, Charmian King, Aroby Lockhart and Anna Cameron, has done nothing to dull the calibre of its achievements this year. We began the year with a brilliant production of Strindberg's "Miss Julie", directed by the talented Leon Major, then the U.T.D.C. festival show, MacNeice's "Fall of the City" proved another triumph for Mr Major; this was followed by the interesting dramatic reading of Euripides' "Hippolytus" directed by Professor Sheperd of the classics department. The Guild finished this year's work with a flourish by walking off with all the prizes for which they were eligible in the Inter-Varsity Drama Festival with William Kozlenko's "This Earth is Ours" directed by Curt Reis. The Robin Godfrey Award was used for this production.

Last year, the McAndrew Award was won by Harriet Thompson for outstanding achievement in her four years with the Guild. Leon Major received the much deserved award for the best work last year

In memory of Professor Dale, the first honourary president of the Guild, we have established the Dale Award which will be awarded to the person who has contributed outstandingly to the Guild.

The Victoria College Music Club has a long tradition of successful light opera productions behind it Back in the 1920's the music of "Merry England", and "San Toy" echoed from the walls, and during the later years the music of Gilbert and Sullivan can be heard in Alumnae Hall

The Vic Music Club has successfully produced some of the lesser known Gilbert and Sullivan operettas such as "Utopia Limited", "The Sorcerer", and "Rudigore". We feel that this year's production of the "Mikado" lived up to and has strengthened our long tradition

We who are graduating will always have sunny memories of pleasant associations with our Honourary President and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Love, and with our two wonderful directors, Mr. Godfrey Ridout, and Mr. Geoffrey Haton. THE INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS' ORGANIZATION

• The I.S.O. was born out of the experiences of some Canadian University students who enlisted in the Canadian Armed Forces during the Second Warld War.

Some af them found out first hand what it meant to be away from home, and the value af friendship and haspitality while in a foreign land.

Following the end of the war and their return to Canadian Universities, a number of them met and inaugurated the I.S.O. as a social autlet, and a meeting ground for Canadian and Overseas students.

The I.S.O. has grown stranger year by year, and now occupies a definite and respectable place in the University life. This year, the bi-weekly Sunday Caffee Hours, provided a very candusive atmosphere for discussions an Comparative Religion with the theme "Why We Have Religion". The Social evenings included a Christmas Party and Dinner in the Oak Room of the Union Station, Valentine Dance, Mardi Gras, Hardtimes Party, and the Final Fling. The monthly weekends at the Caledon Farms from May to October were extremely popular, entertaining, and relaxing.

THE UKRAINIAN STUDENTS' CLUB

• The year 1754-55 witnessed the fulfillment of a very successful programme for the Ukrainian Students' Club Not only was the usual agenda of meetings, socials, and concerts carried aut, but several interesting innovations were added

The first Ukrainian University Students' Weekend was held in Montreal, and was attended by twenty-six Taronto representatives. The Ukrainian Student Clubs of the University of Montreal, McGill University, and Sir G. William Callege were hasts, and outdid themselves in planning a busy schedule which included tours of their campi as well as of the city of Montreal, and several social affairs and discussions.

Culturally, we strove to fulfil aur aims through a series of ten seminar graups directed by Prof G Luckyj which were held each Wednesday evening at St Michael's Callege. In addition, we presented aur cancert three times. This year it included a play in which some of our members participated, and which was subsequently filmed.

Christmas Eve, some of our members went caroling to raise funds to enable us to set up a Scholarship fund. At the present we have a loan fund which aids deserving students yearly.

As a result of the tireless efforts of Prof. G. Luckyj, the support of Ukrainian business, and the canvassing by students, an honour caurse in Ukrainian literature will be inaugurated in the University curriculum next term.

THE POLISH STUDENTS' CLUB

● Back in 1946, eleven Palish students at the University of Toronta saw the need for a Polish Club on the Campus. In this way, students of a common heritage could unite to learn and appreciate Palish tradition which in Poul Super's words "is knightliness, nobility in its best sense, and o high evaluation of the spiritual aspects of things." Slowly, the P.S.C. started to develop Each year competent eecutives worked on new projects and ideos. A Bursary Fund was created through the initiation of Dr. Notalie Staron, Mrs. M. Stasior, and Dr. Roman Bladek in the curricular year 47-48. This fund helps Polish students who are in need of financial aid. The Grad Banquet was introduced in the year 52-53 by president Chester Smith. That same year a bi-manthly bulletin was established as an active organ of the Club. This year, a ponel discussion was introduced to promote stimulation in thought and interest, and to give an opportunity for members to discuss problems.

General meetings take place at various Polish halls approximately every three weeks. The business is conducted in parliamentary pracedure. This is followed by a cultural programme. Here we absorb a little of the wealth of Polish culture, trying to enrich ourselves, and aiming for better understanding. Our social events enable the members to share their spiritual and intellectual heritage, and also to try the new polka step.

Another door marked "Curricular Year 54-55" clases bringing a successful year to an end. Many pleasant memaries fill our thoughts and conversations. At the Freshman Party we were happy to meet the "yaung blaod" of the Club. In November, a graup of our members made a trip to Alliance College, Cambridge Springs Pa., the only Polish College on the North American continent; thus cementing friendly relations with Polish American students. The successful Grod Banquet showed a remarkable co-aperative spirit of wark.

To supplement our treasury, the students put on their annual ball, the "Bal Studentow". Winter Wonderland was our theme—the decorotions being mode by the members. Our murals were later sold to the impressed manager of Calumbus Hall for a good sum. At intermission, the stately, dignified "Palanaise", a grand march was danced by members and guests. All these activities knitted the members more clasely in a spirit of warking together as a bady to fulfill a little of our high ideals and oims.

The club is young; its roots just planted. Each year it progresses—some day we hope our activities will culminate in the purchase of a home of our awn an the Campus.

THE UNIVERSITY

This year the University Naval Training Division is granting commissions in the Royal Canadian Navy Reserve to fifty undergraduates. One group of new officers can be seen in the pictures. Over one hundred more students of the University are training here one night each week during the academic term, and proceeding to the East and West Coast Naval Establishments this summer for intensive training ashore and afloat

Selection of student applicants for this training is made in September and October of each year. Cadets are placed in the "branch" of the service according to their academic courses, individual preference and medical fitness. A great interest has been shown by students here for training as pilots in the Naval Air Branch, and we feel obliged to remind these students that the requirements are most exacting — perfect vision, co-ordination, and general aptitude. We are proud of the cadets who have earned their commissions and are now flying with the VC920 Naval Reserve Squadron in Toronto.

No change has been made in the training required for a commission — two periods of summer training at either coast, and three winters during academic terms. Cadets of this U.N.T.D. have an extremely fine record in naval courses given at our Training Establishments, and in Her Majesty's Canadian Ships. The pictures show some of the ships in which cadets served during the past summer Excellent training is given, practical, cruises, which went to the West Indies, the United States, Greenland, Alaska and West Coast American ports. Cadets learn navigation, engineering, gunnery, radar, communications, supply and administrative procedure, and operate submarine detection equipment. They participate in all types of summer sports, and experience the excitement of travelling, living and working together with students from universities across Canada

For those who wish to make the Royal Canadian Navy their career, transfer to the Regular Officer Training Plan (ROTP) is always possible, providing their academic standard is sound, and they possess the qualities of leadership, responsibility, mature understanding, and ideals of citizenship expected in a naval officer

The University of Toronto Naval Training Division is happy to report a very successful year, and is proud of its function in the life of the University, and in its role of providing fine officers for the Royal Canadian Navy and its Reserve Force.

THE ROYAL CANADIAN

• The Royal Canadian Air Force, through its University Reserve Squadrans established at most of the Canadian Universities, trains undergraduates during their academic years for service in the regular Reserve Farces.

At the beginning of each academic term, students are selected for training in technical and nan-technical officer trades, depending on their University course and personal preference. From this graup, qualified aircrew applicants are selected an a competitive basis for aircrew training. Upon successful completion of the second summer of training as a flight codet, aircrew technical, and nan-technical personnel are eligible for promotion to the commissioned rank of Pilat Officer. When squadran members obtain their first university degree and have completed their basic service training, they are promoted to the rank of flying afficer and have the option of transferring to the Regular Force, the Auxiliary, or the Supplementary Reserve which is non-active.

The enralment of wamen undergraduates from caurses in Arts, Househald Economics, and Medicine, was introduced two years ago and the Squadran now has over twenty-seven female members. In the fall of 1952 the Regular Officer Training Plan was introduced. This plan provides for sub-

THE PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE CLUB

In the words of its constitution, the purpose of the University of Toronto Progressive Conservative Club is to educate its members in the Conservative Philosophy, and to provide an organization for the dissemination and practice of these beliefs on the compus. Thus, the club concentrates mainly on the theoretical aspect of politics, rather than the practical side. This, however, has not hompered club members from exerting on important influence on their riding, provincial, and national associations. By studying the theoretical side of politics, these young people have shown themselves to be well adopted to practical politics.

The year commenced with the club's sending out invitations to over 2000 freshmen students to join our organization. The efficacy of this endeavour was shown at our first meeting when we had one of the largest crowds ever. Guests on this accosion were Mayor Sounders of Toronto and Wilson Woodside, the Progressive Conservative candidate in the Trinity by-election.

Of the vorious other meetings held throughout the yeor, one especially will be remembered, when o distinguished ponel of three discussed the topic "Peoceful co-existence."

The club also sponsored several informal and recreational events. The best of these was a Reception held in Folconer Hall for Premier Frost. The Premier was accompanied by Mrs. Frost, and by the Provincial Secretory, Mr. Nickle, and Mrs. Nickle. We participated with other Toronto Young Progressive Conservative Associations in putting on a Christmas Dance, and a Hallowe'en Dance, both of which were geet successes.

We also took part in several conventions. Delegates were sent to the Ontario Progressive Conservative Convention here in Toronto, and a large number of delegates went down to London, Ontario, for the Progressive Conservative Student Federation Convention.

Of the remoining meetings being planned before the end of the year, one of course, is for the purpose of our annual elections, ot which time, we invest in a new executive the principles of our existing organization.

THE B'NAI B'RITH FOUNDATION

The B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at the University of Toronto is port of a national organization devated to cultural, religious and counseling service omong Jewish students at Canadian and American universities. It is represented on more than 200 campi.

The Hillel Foundation seeks to weld the Jewish student body into a true community conscious of its religious and cultural heritage. It endeavaurs to enrich the individual with an oppreciation of the eternal verities of Judaism, its profound insights, and its rich wisdom embodied in the lore and literature of the Jewish people. It promotes inter-religious understanding and is vitally interested in inter-group relations. Cultural and social programs on the broadest possible basis serve this aim

The highlights of the 1954-55 season were: oddresses by Dr. Mordecai M. Kaplan, eminent Jewish philosopher and leoder of the Reconstructionist Mavement, Dr. Sidney Hook, Choirmon of the Department of Philosophy, New Yark University, Rabbi William G Braude, spiritual leader, Temple Beth El, Providence R I, who preached the sermon at the Fourth University Religious Service. The lecturers on the "Men and Their Ideas" series were: Mrs Peg Pirie; Dr. David Savan, Dr. Molcolm Taylor; Mr. Shalom Gelber; Dr. S. B. Hurwich; Dr. Emil Fackenheim, Dr. L. E. M. Lynch; Dr. W. O. Fennell, Prof. James Milner; Dr. W. G. Cosbie.

A very intensive religious program featured student popers every Fridoy evening on the theme "Cantemporary daism". Student seminars were held regularly on alternate Sundays and they dealt with Jewish religious, historical and philosophical subjects. Rabbi Kamerling taught two classes on Thursdays: Intermediate Hebrew and the Philosophy and Ethics of Judaism. The Drama Group presented "The Spanlard", a play based on the life and teach ngs af the great Jewish philosopher, Moimonides

The Student Zionist Organization was faunded in January, 1955. Seminars on the intellectual and social trend in the State of Israel were presented at meetings of the group. The Norman Roitblat Memorial Library naw has 2,000 volumes, specializing in Judoico and Hebraica. An exhibit of the work of student artists was sponsored in March and many students as well as members of the cammunity visited the exhibit

THE NEWMAN CLUB

The oldest Newman Club in Conodo, established in 1913, Toronto Newman Club continued its extensive spiritual, intellectual and social programme in its effort to develop its members into good Christians and copoble leaders in society.

Mony and varied were the activities. The Philosophy Course gave a better understanding and appreciation of bosic principles. The Social, Deboting and Leadership Groups discussed modern economics and social conditions in the light of Catholic doctrine. A course in marriage was arranged. The Professional Faculties held meetings throughout the year to hear eminent speakers on current problems of professional formation. This year sow the rebirth of a club newspaper, "The Seminor".

Doily and Sunday masses in the Chopel, on open

Club Retreat in lote November, closed Retreats in Lent for both men and women, as well as the Forty Hours' Devotion, and Communion Breakfasts emphasized the most important of all our doings — the spiritiual activities. The chopel chair gove wonderful assistance. At the beginning of the year, our Rector, Fother J. E. McHenry, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversory of his elevation to the priesthood.

Mony and hoppy were the social evenings, the high-lights of the social season being the Newmon Ball and the Graduation Banquet.

Newmon Club hos afforded omple opportunity for Christian intellectual development this year. The Catholic university students have shown their oppreciation and co-operation, and another successful year has loid the way for greater achievement in the future.

THE VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

The VCF traces its history from a movement among Christian students in English universities in 1877, who wished to establish a witness of vital Christian living among their fellow students. Since then member groups have grown up in universities all over the world, to form a truly international fellowship.

The aim of the fellowship is "To know Christ, and to make Him known," and the various activities were planned with this in mind. The program began with a conference at Hillsburgh at which the year's objectives were outlined. Freshmen receptions at Vic, U.C. and Meds were followed by a wiener roost, and the start of such regular activities as a monthly Sunday evening service, monthly missionary teas, weekly Bible study groups using the book of Mork, and a daily prayer meeting.

A wonderful Thanksgiving weekend was spent at Ottawa with a number of International students, and many firm friendships were mode. Other events during the fall term were buffet suppers after home foot ball games, o weekend at Caledon Hills Farm for the deepening of the spiritual life, and the annual Carol Service. During the Christmas vacation nearly one hundred members attended a Missionary Conference held at the University of Illinois. There were over two thousand students present from similar groups in universities throughout the United States and Canada.

In the Spring, three series of lectures were held. The first dealt with the Christian approach to the subjects of Communism, History and Sociology. In the second, Mr. A. Custance spoke on the unity of Christian belief. This was followed by a series on essential doctrine of the Christian faith. A skating party was also held, and a banquet concluded the year's program. It is hoped that, having come to know Christ better throughout the year, the members will continue to make Him known in years to come.

• The Christian Science Organization at the University of Toranto was founded according to Article 23 Section 8 af the Monual of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Bastan, Moss. The abjects of the arganization are

1) ta unite Christian Scientists within the University in claser bands of Christian fellowship

2) ta welcome Christian Scientists entering University, ta affard those sa desiring, opportunity to learn the truth about Christian Science, as taught in the Bible and in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Faunder of Christian Science.

Services are held twice a manth in the U.C. Women's Unian ta which all members of the University who are interested in Christian Science are invited. Each year a lecture is given, under the auspices of the organization, by a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship. This year the lecture was delivered by John D. THE FLYING CLUB

THE NENSIS FLYING CLUB

Early in 1946, an enterprising group of engineers with a common interest formed the Ajax Flying Club. When Ajax was abandaned, the club maved to the campus and acquired its present title in 1952. Since that time it has expanded considerably to include members of all faculties and has an appreciable representation from the female populus.

The primary aim of the club is to foster interest in private flying through reduced rates and insurance coverage. These advantages are provided through an affiliation with Central Airways at the Island Airport. Members can pursue their interest all year round, and have access to a variety of aircraft.—Cessna 140, 170, Tri-pacer, Supercruiser and Fleet Canuck.

Each year the club sponsors several breakfast flights. The first one of the 1954-55 term was held in October with the destination, Brantfard. This was such a success that a second flight to Peterborough and Oshawo was planned for the early part of December. This flight had to be cancelled due to unfavourable weather conditions.

The club's non-aerial activities consist of meetings in Hart House each month. On these occasions, aviation films are shown, guest speakers are invited, and club business is reviewed. The club has enjoyed a marked degree of success this year in oll its activities. Future success seems assured considering the enthusiasm of its members.

The Household Economics Club was started in 1921 by Lorena Richardson Barfoot, late wife of the Primate of Conoda, in her senior year. The club is primarily a social one and holds various meetings and functions throughout the year for the ninety-odd members of the Household Economics and Science courses who are eligible for membership. The high point of the year is the annual At-Home.

• Psychology in a broad sense is concerned with people. We should logically assume then that the Psychology Club is similarly oriented. The purpose of the club is to acquaint all university people with the work and aims of psychology; and for those people majoring in psychology, to acquaint them with fellow students, stoff members and related fields of study.

In accomplishing this purpose, we feel we have been very successful in the past academic year. Our membership this year was composed of honour psychology students and people from both related courses ond academically unrelated courses. However, all our members showed a great interest in the work being done by those in psychology.

The discussions ranged from industrial psychology in Toronto to child development in Thailand. A discussion and film on a psychiatric hospital in England during the Second World War was also included in the club's programme. An interesting talk about the problems of handicapped children was especially interesting to the layman in psychology.

The executive of the club wish to take this opportunity to sincerely thank the speakers and the club members for their contributions and for their support of our programme

We also wish to recommend the Psychology Club as a source of knowledge and social relationships to those students who will be encountering psychology courses in their curriculum and to all others

Throughout the year numerous students from all the various faculties and callege have worked together to make 1954-55 a most successful year far the Blue and White

SECOND: Gord Weetmon (Forestry), Morley Marks (S.P.S.), Poul Wolfish (Meds.).

THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO DEBATING UNION

The University of Toronto Debating Union in this past year has attempted to promote debates on the undergraduate level in which all could participate. This took the form of a program of Interfaculty debates. Further, the Union sought to promote intercollegiate forensic combat by sending tours from this University to other Universities in the United States and Canada

Interfaculty Debates: Invitations were sent to all the colleges and faculties inviting them to enter into the interfaculty debating program. Those who responded were divided into four groups, and debates were held within these units. Unfortunately, the exams came before the schedule could be brought to a final conclusion.

Women's Debating: A women's invitational tournament was held at Toronto November 26-27th, attended by Queen's, McMaster, Toronto Queen's returned home victorious.

Tours: Three tours were promoted by the U.T. D.U. The first was to entertain a team from Georgetown University, Washington, D.C. in debate against our School of Law. The second was to send two Toronto debaters to the Pittsburgh Annual Cross Examination Tournament—held in Pittsburgh December 17, 18, 19th. Toronto was represented by B. A. Warren and Joe Slogan. Lastly, John Roberts and Leo Gray represented Toronto at the Annual McGill Carníval.

I.U.D.L.: Toronto attempted to redeem her position in the LUD.L. competition held annually by NFCUS Unfortunately the U of T's debaters lost at McMaster and tied at Toronto The two debates were held January 24 and 26th respectively.

THE EXTERNAL AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

The following is a diagram of the distribution of activities and responsibilities in the External Affairs Commission.

THIRD: Dave Price, Chris Singh, Jahn Burbidge, Barry Cooke, Geoff. Jahnston.

SECOND: Ann Horris, Phyllis Hanley, Gill Cartwright, Kothy Leanard, Ruth Mott, Joan Jennisan, Danna Laugh.

FRONT (I to r): Diono Haas, Doug. Homlin, Jone Farquharsan, Bill Angus, Gay Sellars, Ran Gould, Mary Lou Nosh.

For each of the three main divisions of the EAC — WUS, Week ends are NECUS a chairman is elected from the SAC. The three chairmen this year were Ron Goula, Jane Farquharson and Gord Hurlburt. Three co-chairmen are also elected by the EAC to share the responsibilities. These were Gay Sellers. Doua Hamlin and Peter Martin. A host committee chairman, Di Haas, who works with overseas students on the campus in confunction with WUS, was also elected from the EAC. A special chairman was appointed to carry on each of the activities mentioned above and their outstanding work deserves much praise. Thanks to the efforts of these students, the various chairmen, and the many interested students who contributed to one or more of these activities, the EAC enjoyed its most active and successful year, taking on many new activities.

THE NATIONAL FEDERATION OF CANADIAN UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

Policy far the National Federation of Canadian University Students is set at the annual conference. The Taronto N.F.C.U.S. Committee is responsible for the implementation of this policy at the local level in coaperation with the N.F.C.U.S. National Executive. The Committee this year was chaired by Gord Hurlburt and the S.A.C. and Peter Martin on the E.A.C. Its activities have been many and varied.

Taronto's most important single contribution to N.F.C.U.S. this year was the National Scholarship Campaign. A national subcammittee, chaired by Norman Chalmers was set up an this campus. It co-ordinated the nation-wide student campaign far increased governmental scholarships and bursaries. Aside from statistical compilation and campaign co-ordination, the comittee also sent delegations to see the Prime Minister, lacal Members of Parliament, local Members of the Legislative Assembly, the Minister of Education, the Prime Minister af Ontario and his Cabinet, and various Federal Cabinet Ministers. Besides wide public and palitical recognition, the committee abtained an increase in Ontaria Dominian-Provincial bursaries of $100,000 effective next year.

Taranto also had a secand National Mandate. The second N.F.C.U.S. Annual University Art Competition was held in Hart House at the end of January. 105 pictures from students across the country were submitted and judged. The exhibition attracted favourable criticism in local newspapers. Credit for this undertaking goes to Peter Lewis and his Art Competition subcommittee.

Further N.F.C.U.S. activities an this campus included the publicizing of the N.F.C.U.S. Travel Service and the N.F.C.U.S. Interegional Study Exchange Plan. Fredrica Bull, a Cammittee member, conducted the Taranta preliminary N.F.C.U.S. Shart-Stary Cantest and was respansible for the submission of two excellent undergraduate short-staries to the National Contest.

Excellent publicity of N.F.C.U.S. prajects and aims was abtained in the Varsity through the co-aperation of the editors and the hard work of Bill Smyth who handled general N.F.C.U.S. public relations on this campus.

The Toronta N.F.C.U.S. Cammittee was host this year to both the N.F.C.U.S. National Conference, held in Hart Hause in October and to the N.F.C.U.S. Ontaria Regional Conference, held at the end of January Thanks are due to Ran Gould for his excellent work in organizing the National Conference, an enarmous job

It has been a good year for N.F.C.U.S. The Federation has been able to serve the students in many ways. The credit for this success goes to all those people who have given their time and energy to the aims of the organization, and we are duly grateful to them.

SECOND: Peter Lewis, Peter Martin, Dan Stevensan, Rass Lintan, Narman Chalmers, Ian Hamilton, Dave Price, Ron Gauld, Bill Smythe. FRONT: Bill Angus, Freddy Bull, Sheila Yaung, Gard Hurlburt.

THE WEEKEND EXCHANGE COMMITTEE

The mojor activity of the committee this year was the eighth annual Carabin Weekend held from December 2.5. Each year forty students from Université de Montréal are the guests of a similar number of Vorsity students selected from the large number of applications. The visitors are billeted in the homes and residences of their hosts.

The program included organized and informal discussion groups as well as various social activities such as the bonquet in the Great Hall of Hort House and the square dance at Nobleton "Regionalism in Conada" was the discussion topic A Montreal student spake on "Ontario as we see it, Quebec as it is" and a Toronto student on "Quebec as we see it, Ontario as it is "For the discussion everyone was divided into small groups of about eight people

The weekend served two important purpour. A new understanding between the English-speaking and Frinch speaking students has led to losting friendships being formed. No less important is the sense of all Varsit spirit created. Drowing on practically all undergraduate and graduate foculties, the group included many this dents who would otherwise never have met. In February the same group from Varsity were the guests of their Corobins in Montreal.

The committee also conducted a symposium on weekend exchanges held during the Ontario Regional NFCUS conference and attended by delegates from Ontario, Quebec and USA. It is hoped that as a result of those discussions, weekend exchanges will be a ponded both at other universities and on this campurations.

THE WORLD UNIVERSITY SERVICE

WUS is a voluntary international organization which is represented in thirty-two countries throughout the world. It is a non-political organization with a dual purpose to furnish material relief to needy countries, and especially students, and to promote international understanding throughout the world.

W U S activities on the Toronto compus got underwoy with the orrivol of Mohommed Kholifo of Egypt who wos the exchange scholar for the year. All his expenses for the year were poid for by W U S, and John Burbidge, the scholarship chairman, obly took care of all arrangements. Plans have been made to have a mutual exchange scholarship with Japan next year, with John Roberts IV U C as Toronto's choice.

The notional conference was held at Taronto University from October 18th to 20th. Twenty universities from across Canada were represented, the Taronto delegates being Ron Gauld, Gay Sellers, Bill Angus and Doug Hamlin. Di Hoos and the Host Committee were chiefly responsible for the making of all the arrangements for the conference.

Under the copoble leadership of Goy Sellers, the Handicrofts from the Indian and Greek Sale, or "Treasure-Van", was a great success, selling $5,590 worth of goods. The valuable co-operation of Bill Smyth, Ruth Mott, Art Swanson, and Joan Jennison led to the successful autcome of the sale

Becouse of the orrivol of on unexpected delegate to the W.U.S conference on October 8th — Hurricone Hozel — and the subsequent Flood Relief drive which followed, the SHARE compoign to raise funds for relief work in distressed and underdeveloped countries of the world was postponed until February. The main project this year was to roise money to help finance the building of a health center in Potna, India, The SHARE banquet

wos held in Hort House and hod for its guest speaker Dr Rouf, the High Commissioner from Indio to Conoda This, along with the outstanding job of organization carried on by Borry Cooke and his committee helped to roise approximately $5,500 for international relief work

This year o new project, European Orientation was taken up by the W U.S. Committee Ron Gould, along with the W U.S. National Office, and Mr. Alon Thomas, the Assistant Director of Adult Education, held a series of lectures and discussions designed to give all interested students a better knowledge of where to go, what to do and how to do it best in Europe. The student's individual problems were discussed in detail, and any travel information and literature requested was explained. The sessions proved to be an overwhelming success and will be corried on an olorger scale next year.

The Host Committee, besides holding two large receptions for overseos students, also corried out a very successful seminar at Coledon Hills Form. Ten Conadian and ten Foreign students discussed the topic "Education for What?" under the leadership of Mr. Cormen Guild Professor R. O. Robinson and Professor D. Sovan

Jim Carter, Goy Sellors and Marty Friedland were chosen to receive scholarships for the WUS Summer Programme which includes a Seminar in Japan and Study Tours of the West Indies and West Africa

Besides these summer scholorships, several students were selected to participate in the Couchiching Conference, the Soskotchewon Conference the Canada Seminor, and the Grouse Beating Exchange with Britain for the summer.

The lorge number and great variety of activities seems to indicate that WUS has become one of the most active and successful organizations on the Taroi to Compus

THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS

Dr. Johnston leading the chorus practice

These groups have now completed the year under the directorship of Professor Robert Rosevear (Orchestra), and Professor Richard Johnston (Chorus), both of the Faculty of Music. The experienced leadership which these two fine musicians have given to amateur music-making in the University is already showing itself in a rise in musicianship, enthusiasm, and numbers, and this enthusiasm will certainly spread more and more across the campus, as the Chorus and Orchestra widen their scope and their appeal.

During this past year we have given two concerts in Convocation Hall, and at both we have included music out of the ordinary. We have attacked works by unheard-of composers, some contemporary and as yet not widely known, and some whose music, when it is remembered, is usually considered obsolete and 'old-hat'. However, we have discovered how alive the old music is, and how mature the new.

At the December concert, especially, we were proud to present a work by a graduate of this University, Charles Wilson. His "David's Lament over Jonathan and Saul", which was dedicated to our Orchestra and Chorus, proved a severe test to our abilities, and our achievements in its respect did a great deal to boost our morale

This year the Chorus paid its second visit to the Inter-Varsity Choral Festival, held this time at McMaster University, Hamilton Choirs from Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, and University of Western Ontario, London, were also there Professor Johnston conducted the combined choirs, and he extended the invitation from this University to hold the Festival here next spring

A Band is defined as on organized body of musicians. The same definition cauld also apply to a Symphony Orchestra. There is however no danger of aynone ever referring to the Varsity Band as an Orchestra. This is unfortunate because there are in the Band some outstanding musicians. Band master Clark, his successor Bill Bartlett, and trombonist Lawry Bawer are only three. The Varsity Band cauld put on a very good concert of Symphonic Music.

But Symphonic Music is not the function of the Varsity Band Fundamentaly they provide noise, preferably harmonic and euphanious noise, and "colour", at Varsity footbal games. The intricate formations the novelty tunes and the uniforms are all part of the "colour". Some of the music is "colourful" too. Putting on a regular weekend show means work, lats of it, for the Bandsman. Mud. snow or rain, the show must go an.

There are same campensations. Most important perhaps is the cape—big enough and warm enough for two, as are some of the uniforms. The next most important thing to a Bandsman, after football weekends and the Blues winning the cup, is the Annual Bond Party. The ane this year was a tremendaus success. Even the King Edward Hatel Orchestro was persuaded to play the "Blue and White"

The management of the Band is o bit of a chore. Next year will be the first that the Varsity Band will hove a manager, who will lift same of the routine problems from the Band-master's shoulders. Little things like railway tickets, valve oil, Harn Polish, bills, and bailing wire (for tying same of the instruments tagether), can be an annyance if they aren't there when you need them. The Bandmaster and his assistant will still have their hands full auditioning new members and running rehearsals.

In spite of all it was fun! Ask any af us and we would leap at the chance of having four more years in the Varsity Band THE

Sarah A. Denny Trinity College

• Far a few days in February Sally disappeared south of the border. She came back to describe to us the campus sights of Smith University. The reason she took the trip was to help herself decide whether or not she would like to go to Smith next year as an exchange student. Evidently she could not persuade herself that running around in an old coon coot and summer shorts in the fresh winter breezes was just the setting for a red-blooded Canadian girl, because she has decided not to go.

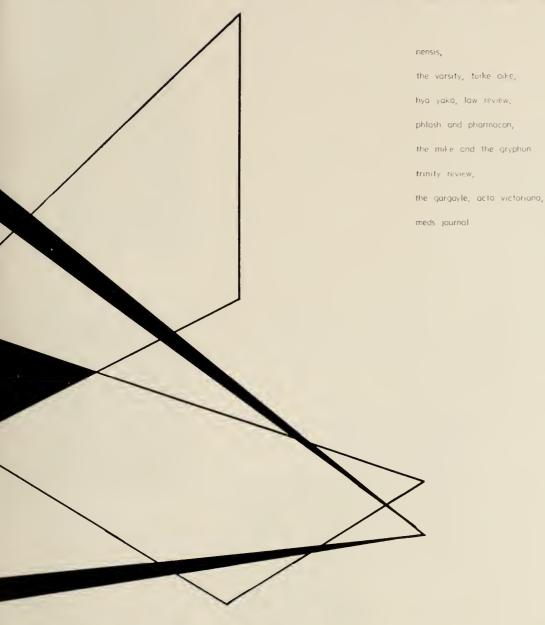

Sally has campleted second year English Lang and Lit and claimed last Fall that she was interested in publication wark on graduation. Perhaps that inclination is now changed. She arganized the Publications section very carefully, showing considerable patience with such renegades as the Trinity Review, and did the lian's share af laying out the Nensis pages which apen the section.

Sally is another Bishap Strachon girl and at Trinity she displays the typical B.S.S. enthusiasm. She has been associated with the Drama Society and this year did costuming far "The Crucible". She also keeps busy treating her very best friends to a spin in the Rover.

Not too long ago she actually stated that she'd like to be back with the book next year. Let's hape this desire lasts the rigaurs of a summer in Eurape.

Gerald K. Helleiner Victorio College

Big Gerry came to us after barely surviving the soccer season. He came out of the last game with a braken scapula, but what sacrifice cauld avershadaw the foct that Victoria won the Arts Cup?

Gerry warked merrily on the Intercallegiote Athletics, despite John Wilson's ca-aperotian, until the end of February when he came to us with the heart-rending stary that he had been elected, without ony advertising, as President of his year. We persuaded him, hawever, that his duties do not stort until next term, so he ogreed to stay with us an the candition that he could show us pictures of sweet Georgia.

A veteron of Oakwaad, Gerry come to the compus Cammerce and Finance caurse to continue the reputation of the rather well-known name of Helleiner. Next year he has to tace his reputation and in wishing him the best of luck we also hape he'll be able to return to the Nensis staff. • Dave Savage doesn't hove bleary eyes (very aften), he doesn't wear an ald boggy jocket, he doesn't even let his hair graw down aver his callor; in other wards he just isn't on "arty" type. But we accloim the autstanding work he conceived far us this year. In any cose he does not pretend to be an "artist"; he is a designer.

It was back in Navember, after weeks of tediaus searching, that Dave came forward to take the germs of ideas which we affered him, and developed them into the unique presentation seen in these pages. He had a busy year at the Callege of Art but always had time to drop down and discuss the designs, and at times to reminisce with the Bass an moritime bayhood scenes familiar to them bath.

Dave was a graduate of Etobicake and is now half-way through his four-year Industrial Designing caurse at O.C.A. Mare at his attractive work constitutes a large part of our plans for next year, that is if he finishes the all pointing he's daing for his future mather-in-law!

● Cannie is a small-sized bundle of joy from St. Hilda's, who used to drop down regularly to brighten up the office. She was one of the fifty percent of our female staffers who look back to private school days, having came from that exciting institution, Bishop Strachan. She has campleted the second year of the Madern History course, and is going to try for a third.

The task which Cannie executed far us was as an assistant to Clorke in the large Activities section. She was affectionately called "Clorke's dummy", the reason being that Mr. Deller used to dole out the duties without explaining the eternal meaning behind it all. However Cannie worked an faithfully and everything came out well in the end. Deller's only excuse seemed to be that her lost name was the same as his first.

We were pleased to hear that Cannie was respected in residence as she deserved to be, and was elected "Head of Switchboard". Good luck in your new duties, and we'll be looking for you next year.

Barbara W. Ham, Trinity College

• Barb ca-operated with Clarke Deller in the Activities section to produce for him the well-plonned pages on the compus shaws. We felt she was porticularly fitted for this position by being associated with the august Trinity Dramotic Society, she was a member of the cost in "The Crucible".

Barb is going into third year English Long. and Lit., being a warthy graduate fram Naponee High Schaal. She has tasted extensively of compus activities, having been Jr. Debating Rep. for the St. Hilda's Lit., succeeding to Senior Rep. next year, and also having dobbled in Salterroe. She is in residence, and quite joyfully admitted to us one day that she had been naminated "Head of Bendix" (trade mark registered). Unfortunately we never did learn how the voting went.

Needless to say we hope Borb plans to expend her tolents on Tarantanensis again next year.

Fraser D. McIntosh Engineering and Business

• We've hod os aur phatagropher a nancholant chap, who scuttles oraund with a small book in his hond, pracloiming canfidently, "If it's in the book, I did it!" Fraser has efficiently satisfied our phata needs either personally or through one of his thousands of contacts.

Although it might be hord to believe, Froser has been o scholorship student in the Engineering and Business course. When we received o note saying that he would be hibernating for twelve days with a thesis we were immediately held in great awe of his scholorly interests.

Mony of the feature phatagraphs thraughout the book, including most of the individual shats on these pages, ore Fraser's hondiwark, and he has dane many of the group phatas as well. He has commendably carried on the fine wark he began with us last year.

It is quite evident that Fraser continually has in his mind the picture of a P.O.T. lassie. We can assure her that if this "about a year" comes true she will not have been "framed". The Federal Gavernment had secured Fraser's services at last report in what he describes as "inspecting government inspectars", with headquarters in the Capital. Ottawa — take him away!

Sheilo M. Kent

• The first time we met her was when she bounced into our office and plunked down on the large table in front of us. When she spoke, her vaice seemed to betray all the the energy in the world. We recognized her from a picture in the previous yearbook, and she went on to explain that she was Sheila Kent of V Nursing.

Sheila served her School as Torontonensis rep. but even mare important to us she bare the tremendaus task of keeping aur numberless pictures in the right places, and in filing the thousands of names for our innovation — the individual index.

As we watched her working diligently for as much as fifteen hours a week, we realized that our first impression of her energetic interest had not been a false one. She also kept busy with various Nursing and other campus activities as may be seen in her grad biography.

TORONTONENSIS

Some of the people who made this book possible.

Sheila served gracefully as the guardian of our affice. She took care of many of the bewildered souls who wandered down the dark stairs. Ideally, she is quite frank, the kind of person who, if she didn't know where The Vorsity office was, admitted it. However this is an ill-chasen Immediate plans call for a trip to Europe and with June and Cathy, Sheila's going to have a "wild" time. However next Autumn she returns to face life (let's hope that thirty-one page essay pays off!). We guarantee she'll da O.K.

J. David Wood Victoria College

• If Dave's not playing soccer, or vocalizing in some quartet, or begging the Publications Commission for two or three more affice pencils, then he will probably be working dawn in the Nensis office. There, with a friendly, cheerful grin under his queer thinking-cap, he may be explaining patiently to some freshie assistant that pink and mauve borders in her section would not fit in with the rest of the book. Or he may be explaining not so patiently to same experienced stafffer that the pages are still 814'' by $103\frac{1}{2}''$ this year and it is impassible to put those twenty photes an one page.

Dave finds that his fifteen or twenty hours

Dave finds that his fifteen or twenty hours Dave finds that his fifteen or twenty hours a week on the yearboak mean he is not getting as much as he should out of his course, third year General. Although graduating fram Vic this year, he will return for post-graduating wark in Geography next year, and will continue working on the dear ald Nansis.

Athletic Dave was captain of two championship secret teams this year-the Intermediate.

ship soccer teams this year—the Intermediate Blues, and the Vic squad. He plays several ather sports too, and was Vic's star minor league basketball boob.

Dave's handsome tan comes from his out-door work in the summer. He has helped keep the east end of the city green as a landscape

Dave's artistic ability doesn't stop at clipping hedges. He was elected (through his papularity plus!) to the Art Committee of Hart House. In the musical line, he is a pionist, trambanist, and an Achetype. (The Archetypes, in case you didn't know, was a finalist quartet in the Hart House contest.) He hopes quartet in the Hart House contest.) He hopes to study music composition someday, and dreams of campasing a full-length symphony with a chorale (the Archetypes) based on the theme from "Dragnet".

Let's face it, Dave's in more activities, and gets more enjoyment aut of life, than ten ordinay men! His whole Nensis staff really 'laves' him, and are looking forward to working next year under the cheerful eye of their awn Dave Wood.

Michael Hare Commerce and Finance

 Mike has been one of the most behind-the-scenes workers on our staff in the two years he has been with us as Sales Manager. He has done a very efficient job in his nonchalant way. It was his responsibility to guide our expanded sales programme and to instill in the souls of each rep the 'elan vital' or the well-known hat pin in the right place. He also kept his eye on publicity in The Varsity. He was an ever-present help around the office especially in typing our illegible copy and in helping Sheila with her file. For some reason he didn't appreciate being colled a typist.

Mike emphasized that he came from Pickering College, and being a member of the Commerce and Finance course he has been associated with the Commerce Club. He is an analytical fan af basketball and baseball, and enthusiastic discussions with Max Rasenthal, while rocking an our rickety chairs, seemed to indicate that they had the Basketball Blues peaged better than did Bob Masterson. His extracurricular activities were crowned when this spring his plans for a Buffalo University week-end at Toronto came through in great style. For the first time Toronto and Buffalo Business Administration students had a chance to get together in week-end comradeship.

Mike is now planning his future with McDonald Currie and Company and we feel sure it will be a successful one. Although we sorrow with him at the death of MacGregor we would encourage him to secure someone who will fill the place of that noble companion and who might in addition keep his apartment clean and homey.

Josephine A. Rotcliffe Victoria College

• If ever there was, Jo's it. That is our solemn conclusion after ane short year. Though we may call her "mononuclear" Ratcliffe for private reasons we can tell the warld about sportswriter Ratcliffe wha triumphantly guided our Women's Athletics section to completion. Ja has crowned an intensive career in campus publications with her contribution to our book this year, and she is planning to continue in the literary field.

Jo had the prodigious ability to put in a day's work in a hurry; she used to arrive "early" at the office on a Saturday, dragging after her a string of sunbeams or moonbeams, as the situation demanded. At this paint we set our watches at twelve noan. Then after a short period of carefree banter mingled with mutterings about pictures all looking the same she would depart as merrily as she came. We were often sad she did not bring dawn her banjo which was put to such noble use on foatball

When all's said and done we did just fine by Jo. Victoria College has lost a great student, a great hockey player, a great woman; and we've lost Jo. Quo vadis?

University College Shirley A. James

• Shirley entered Commerce and Finance caurse from Riverdale last Fall, and like all up-and-caming Riverdalers she signed up with Tarantanensis. With Kay she guarded the affice an Wednesday afternaons, and also assisted Rabin in the Organizations section.

But Shirley isn't tied down to one postime; she is a member of the Varsity Film Society, and she uses bowling to keep in condition for her Nensis work. Like a large number of our staffers this year, we're counting on her being back next year. All the best. Shirl!

THE TORONTONENSIS AWARD

 Instituted this year, the award is in the form of a gold pin backed by a scroll and surmounted by a tiny University coat of arms on the left side, and by the name of the publication, raised in blue enamel, on the right. It is presented in recognition of outstanding work on the book: sacrifice of long, precious hours; dependable progress in responsibilities; fresh ideas and pleasant enthusiasm. We trust the Award with the expression of our fullest voice of thanks, in a medium more permanent than mere words, which die.

The recipients:
MICHAEL HARE
SHEILA MAE KENT
JOHN DAVID WOOD

STANDING: Dave Strangway (Vic.), Mart Eisen (C.&F.), Gea, Varcae (Music), Jahn Shaw (Arch.), Dave Waad, Bill McLean (Sales), Al Taylar (Dents.), Harry Malcalmson (U.C.).

Catherine L. Russell University College

• Kay is a former Jarvis Collegiate girl and has begun her career in the General Course at U.C. Rather unwarily she and Shirley came down to our office at the beginning of the year and since then they have been primarily assistants in the Clubs and Organizations section. On Wednesday afternoons they served as walking encyclopedias and the targets for many unnerving questions.

Kay has been an important part of our big happy family, and we're sure that next year she won't be able to stay away from ole Nensis.

William B. Witchell Dentistry

A former Sudbury man he moved to Toronto to graduate from Harbard and now is in Dentistry III. Nominally he was an assistant to Al in the Intramural sports but he has been a real big help in almost every aspect of the jab gaining all the while valuable experience for his post as editor of Dentistry's Hym Yaka next term. We were also pleased to hear that he was elected Torontonensis representative for the same period.

Being a respected squash player, and able tutar of some members of our staff, Bill has been retained as a member of the Hart House Squash Committee. He has also played some hockey and in moments of inspiration has played some soulful tunes on the old battered harn which lodges in our storeroom. Bill kept the staff amused and sometimes apprehensive with his sly antics. We don't hold any grudges but we'll make sure he works next year as Nermin rep!

• We come to the time of the publication of our book with a definite sense of how much we depend on many people outside our staff and reps. Any list of names undoubtedly omits a large number to whom we feel indebted, but while we remember we would like to mention, for your plaudits, a few of our generous friends.

We must first of all express our gratitude to last year's editor, Reggie Mori, who "clued us up" on many pressing problems, and to another of our compatriots from last year's book, Ralph Beirin, who as $The\ Varsity$ Mortician, cheerfully explained to us his complicated filing system and sometimes found pictures for us. While we're so near the subject we should tell $The\ Varsity$ how pleased we were with their co-operation most of the time, and especially with their spread in Nensis.

The important business side of our production was thoroughly handled by Mr. Macdonald, Secretary-Treasurer of the S.A.C. A few steps from Mr. Macdonald's office we often found the Associate Secretary, Miss Parkes, at her desk, and friendly advice (sometimes with a piece of exceptional birthday cake) was always available there.

The gals in the SAC office brightened our task immeasurably Fran at all times had a generous eye for our advertising needs in $The\ Varsity$, and in addition she compiled our general index, arranged the various ads, and proofread many of the finished pages. Pat typed and mimeographed much tedious correspondence and checked up on our cultural entertainment. Valerie was always willing to type letters, proof-read pages, and regularly sent us notices for meetings.

We thank our many friends on the SAC for their forensic questioning of our motives, and for special interest, Bill Angus, President, Ian Scott, Publications Commissioner, and Tom Symonds, Chairman, who was at all times a sincere friend

To many others we are grateful—the Publicity Department for strategic pictures, Stan Price for a good job in a pinch on Robin's special headings, the gals in Nursing for moral support and forty-five sales. Everybody, thanks much 1

H. F. Colin Graham Victoria College

• We expect Bill has drummed up same interest in Nensis sales this year but without doubt he has drummed up quite a row at faotball games, the reason being that he is a Varsity Band drummer. He also gave the solid beat for the Brigadaan ensemble. However in his more sober maments he handled the tympanies with the U. of T. Orchestra and proved himself an upstanding musician.

Bill is heading into his last year in the C. and F. course which he chose after graduating from U.T.S. He is, of course, a member of the Cammerce Club, and on the sports scene he has played some basketball.

With Torcntcnensis Bill was made responsible for sales in one segment of the campus. He shared his duties with boss-man Mike Hare and with Colin Graham, and proved to be a valuable asset to the squad. If he suurvivse our big party he says he'll be back next year. Happy Noo Year everebady!

● Colin is a quiet, business-like chap until you get to know him, and then he is still quite business-like. He has helped Mike aut this year in the Sales Department, being a C. and F. type and a dashing salesman (he even sold himself a copy!). No daubt much of this prowess is a result of his training at Ottawa's Glebe Callegiate.

As is typical of Nensis staffers, Calin has been in many activities. He has played some besketball around Vic and instructed in swimming at Hart Hause. He did same reporting far The Varsity, that being a good in itself, and has kept busy around the residence. He was residence treasurer this year, and is president-elect far next. On the Vic scene he was elected treasurer of his class for the caming session. And we're haping he'll be back with us!

Relotions between the poper ond the SAC, the publishers olthough not entirely peoceful, were for less stroined thon they hod been in other years.

The paper continued to try ond fulfill its purpose of informing ond stimuloting students about issues which offect them. The Varsity published o report of Editor Clyde Botten's trip to Moscow during the late summer to ottend o conference of the International Union of Students as o representative of the CUP. Also, the poper compoigned for o more vigorous stond on student government at the university, particularly in connection with the disciplining of the rioting SPS students and the NFCUS fee issue.

Other highlights of the poper's publishing year were:

- o student drinking survey which reveoled that women students soid that they dronk more beer than men, and which was reported in the press from London, England, to Solt Loke City, Utah.
- o story in o notional magazine with o circulation of over 1,000,000 of the life of a "typical" Varsity reporter.
- a scuffle between the Moyor and the Hort House Art Committee over the suitobility of three pictures, honging in the Hort House Art Gollery, for young minds.
- coverage of national NFCUS and WUS conferences, held in Toronto in the fall.
- o word of proise from the Governor General for the poper.
- a host of features, revues, news stories, and editorials on almost every conceivable subject.

The editorial stand taken by this year's Editor, Clyde Batten, oroused considerable interest both on and off the campus as he campoigned in favour of student government as o right, not a privilege; the establishment of Hort House Orchestra; and for o new bosis for the university in society.

THE VARSITY

• "For Excellence Among Popers of The Conodion University Press."

These ore the words inscribed on the Southam Trophy, oworded this year to The Varsity os the best Englishlonguage college poper in the country published more than twice o week.

The winning of the Southam, the most coveted award in Conodion University journalism, was merely one in the long list of notable events that marked on active year for $The\ Varsity$, the undergroduote doily of the University of Toronto.

The Varsity's year storted off with a bong os, just before the second issue of the year, the Engineering freshmon rioted through University College and other compus buildings on an orgy of destruction. A professor was injured in the melee. As a result of $The\ Varsity$'s coverage of this event in pictures and news-stories, the paper received criticism from some members of the Engineering Society, and proise from other student and stoff members.

During the yeor, $The\ Varsity$ olso got it hot ond heavy from others who objected to its "sensotionolism" ond "poor toste". Neor the end of the yeor, $The\ Varsity$ received o seven-foot petition from St. Michoel students protesting the "low colibre humour used in $The\ Varsity$'s annual humour issue.

However, the undergrod doily olso received much praise. In addition to winning the opplouse of the judges (professional newsmen) who awarded the Southom Trophy, $The\ Varsity$ received thanks from representatives of many campus organizations and charity appeals for the poper's support of their activities

Toike Oike is published by the University of Toronto Engineering Society and its main function is to contact the Engineering students and inform them of the society's activities Therefore each major "School" event such as the Freshman Reception, School Dinner and School Night is preceded by an issue of Toike Oike

In the past this newspaper has been more noted for its accompanying humour and sex than it it is been for its editorial policies. However this year many excellent articles on campus news and professional engineering appeared in the issues pictured on this page, and they will remain as proof that Taike Oike can be an intiresting as well in a literate campus newspaper.

• Co-operation and hard work weer combined in the production of what was acclaimed by both undergroduates and staff alike as "one of the best issues of $Hya\ Yaka$ yet". Earning that praise was no mean feat, for the 1954 Hya Yaka marked the fiftieth onniversary of publication of the mogozine.

The Hya Yaka recorded on its pages a bolonced summory in prose and photography of the year's events around the Faculty of Dentistry. The class write-ups captured the genuinely funny memories which put the "life" into college life, and they make the issue literally priceless. There were even a few lines for the "demonstrators who do their damndest to get us to start work, their damndest to get us to finish it, or simply their damndest". Prose descriptions of Dentantics, the Initiation, and the Floot Parade were enhanced by ample photographic illustrations, The Sports section, in addition to team write-ups and pictures, had action shots for the first time to provide full coverage. Several candid shots showed cheerleaders and charus line not so well covered. Rounding out the yearbook, (which was surprisingly complete considering the limited budget the editors had to work with) were a dozen cartoons, which drew more than a few laughs.

Thanks should be extended to all those who contributed to the Hya Yaka this year and, of course, to the editorial staff who worked so hard to compile and edit the contributions.

THE REVIEW

SCHOOL OF LAW

Rumaurs have been circulated this year that the only U. of Topublication with an appreciable distribution outside the university -ammunity, is an annual journal composed at the north end of the campus, dealing with matters of high finance. It is our happy duty to tell you, good Reader, that such statements are erraneous misleading, and indicative af a degree of negligence which would passibly result in civil liability in the Queen's courts.

There is another annual ampus publication which is eagerly sought by off-ampus readers. In fact the greater part of its fir-ulation goes outside these ivied halls of learning. This leader in the academic publishing field is (you guessed of the School of Law Review.

The reason for its success may be stated in three logical

- It is natural that Canada's foremost law school should produce an outstanding Law Review
- 12 It fo'us that the aforement oned outstanding Law Review should be in great demand among all these interested in brilliant discourses on legal tapics.

(3) Plainly therefore, this Law Review would be sold to subscribers all across the continent.

If we accept as axiomatic that the U of T School of Law is the leading law school in Canada, we are led to the conclusion that hundreds of capes of the School of Law Review are distributed throughout Canada and the U.S. Such is the gratifying state of affairs. As a result the Review is in an unusual state of solven y and an be sold for $1.00 per opy, a low principled for the offert depution it contains Much credit, of rourse, is due to the Editorial and Business Staff of the 1955 Review for their long ardulus hours of faithful, persevering toil liwhich they round ill-ufford from their rowded study-schedule, that rejulted in julying an of legal writing. Autographed topies of the Torontonen Link of the Editorial Board, School of Law Review 19-2 are available in time ted number.

THE PHLASH

• The Pharmacy Phlash, now o monthly paper, has completed it's second year of publication and will undoubtedly be enjoyed by Pharmacy students for many years to come. The object of this undergrad, news-sheet is to keep the students in touch with goings-on within the faculty and on the compus.

We wont to acknowledge the help of various members of the secretarial staff at Pharmacy for their help in publishing the paper. We are indebted to Miss Hoy, Mrs. Morshall, Miss Walton, Miss Ward and alsa Mr. Harry Saul A special word of thanks to Mr Carbett, the college registrar, for his permission to use the Gestetner machine. Again — thanks to all far their assistance.

THE PHARMACON

SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

This is the third consecutive year that The Pharmakon, an annual publication, has been published under the sponsorship of the Undergraduate Pharmaceutical Society of the Faculty of Pharmacy. The editors of post yearbooks in order are Harold Krovitz, 1952-53; and Clyde Keene, 1953-54; and Doug Wingfield is in charge of the current publication for 1954-55. The last yearbook to be published before 1952 was in 1932.

With each successive issue, the Phormakon is increasing in size in its bid to give more complete coverage of the sports and activities of Pharmacy. This year, as in the post, the students have subscribed one hundred percent.

The main feature of the current edition is devoted to the future of the pharmacy student.

A permonent organization is in the process of being established to effect continuity in the stoff and management of the Phormakon so that the quality of the book will continue to improve each year. It is haped that the Pharmokon will continue to have as much popularity in future years as it has had in the past.

THE GRYPHON

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE

The Gryphon is the semi-annual publication of creative writing at St. Michael's. It is put out by the undergraduates of the college in close connectivith St. Michael's Writers' Group and contains poetry, short stories, and essays written by the students.

Creative writing in Canado is a mythical animal. It is influenced by, and olmost completely absorbed into the strong cultures of the United States and Great Britain. Some will maintain the product is a manster. Others will interpret mythical to mean nan-existent. However, it is impossible to escape the fact that the Canadian is a gryphon, half eagle, holf lion, and yet a creature in his own right, though often a rather self canscious one. There are other more important reasons why the Gryphon should represent creative writing in Canada, particularly on a university level. The Gryphon is a composite symbol, the lion of St. Mark, the lion of strength, and the eagle of St. John, the eagle of intellectual liberty. And it is especially true that in Conada, with our limited outlet, the college literary magazine must stand for creative writing. Because of this it must necessarily strive for strength, a vitality, a sense of direction coupled with a high standard of croftsmanship. Intellectual liberty, dear to the mouths if not to the minds of Canadian university students, must be understoad and held up as one of the primary needs of a university magazine.

For these reasons St. Michael's publication is called The Gryphon. By providing the undergraduates with a medium for expressing themselves creatively and communicating their opinions, it is hoped that they will realize all the implications of being a Conadian, a gryphon

The Presses Roll

The Mike entered its sixth year as the official publication of St. Michael's College SAC under a co-editorship of Bob Klix and Tom Lally.

The innavation of block headlines, the use of multiple-coloured type and numerous cartoans gave the ${\it Mike}$ a well constructed and colourful appearance.

At the end of the first term Bob found it necessary to resign because of scholastic difficulties. Tom remained as editor, receiving invaluable aid from Frank Smith, assistant editor, and the other members of the staff. A shart list of the staff would include Jim Sullivan, Peter Miller, Wright Dillon, Neil MacDanald, and Bill Corrigan. St. Michael's Wamen were well represented by Elizabeth Sullivan, Betty Reilley, Amy Connelly, Mary Anne Flaherty, Mary-Anne Hickey and Ann Grover.

The St. Michael's weekly, though confined to a small budget, has faithfully supplied the SMC campus with news and tapics of interest during the 1954-55 school session.

THE REVIEW

TRINITY COLLEGE

Not the least of Douglas Hill's accomplishments as Editor this year has been the bringing to the attention of the College and the Board of Management the motto of The Trinity University Review:— Fortiter Fideliter Forsan Feliciter. "Courageously, Faithfully and Sometimes Successfully" is a significant statement of the cautious and somewhat pessimistic attitude with which the five issues of our college magazine are published. It seems the fate of all such periodicals to be sometimes viewed askance by the more downto-earth members of the university as the product of avant guarde diletantism, or their cantents disregarded as adelpated nonsense, admirably displaying the utter intellectual depravity, if not downright hypocrisy, of some of their less enlightened colleagues.

College magazines, of necessity, have a limited appeal, and since we have a rather ill-defined responsibility to general contributors and our success is theirs. If we are able to publish the best of sincere attempts at creative writing and literary criticism, disapproval from the colleges may be justified only if our attitude is not honest and worthy of respect

This year's new and excellent non-sectorian cover designed by Alastair Grant has been favourably received and we hope that the rest of this year's literary issues, yet to be published at the time of writing, will occasion the same interested comment and respect by the members of Trinity College

JOHNNY COPP MEMORIAL TROPHY

Steve Oneschuk, one of the finest faatball players ever to attend the University af Toranto, has been named the 1954 winner af the Johnny Capp Memarial Traphy.

First awarded in the seasan af 1933, the trophy is voted annually ta "that member of the Senior rugby team who, in that seasan, by his spartsmanship, character, and playing ability, is adjudged the most valuable member of the team". The vate is cast by the members of the team in that season. First winner of the award was Jahnny Capp, in whase memary the traphy was given after the season of 1933.

Steve first came to the University of Toronto in the fall of 1951, entering the first year of PHE, and in that year he made bath the Blue football and basketball teams. So great was his ability in that seasan, that he was chasen on the Intercollegiate all-star team, and he has been on it every year since.

The spart Steve excels in is, af course, faotball, but he is an accomplished man on the basketball caurt, and played lacrosse in high school in St. Catherines.

After graduating fram PHE last year, having obtained first-class hanaurs all the way through, Steve entered OCE this fall. At the end of the 1953 faatball season, he was the first draft choice of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats, and he may passibly turn his talents to professional ball next fall, while pursuing a teaching career.

This was his last year of Blue football, and as is fitting he captained a champianship team, his second during his football tenure at Varsity. Steve has wan six first calcurs in the last four years, four an the gridiron and two playing basketball. The tribute which has been paid to him by his team-mates in voting him the Capp Trophy, is an added flaurish to the already oft-spaken praises of the press and of the fans who watched Steve Oneschuk play top-notch football for the University of Taronto.

BIGGS TROPHY

George Stulac was selected by the senior members of the Athletic Directorate as the winner of the Biggs Traphy, awarded annually to the undergraduate who has contributed most to University athletics from the standpoint of leadership, spartsmanship and perfarmance. A graduate af the School of Physical and Health Education George is now in his final year in Arts. An all-raund athlete he won his first calour six times in three major sports. In the 1952 intercollegiate swimming champianships he set new college records in the 50 yds. and 100 yds. free-style events. This year he sparked the Blue swimmers to the championship with outstanding performances in the 50 yds., 100 yds. and 400-yd. relay. One of the leading scarers in intercollegiate basketball far the post three years, George also found time ta campete in track and faotball. As a member of the senior track team in 1953 he represented Varsity in the pole yoult while last fall he was a regular end on the senior faotball Blues.

The Varsity senior football team, under the guidance The Vorsity senior football team, under the guidance of coach Bob Mosterson, won the Yates Cup, symbol of the senior intercollegiote football championship, this year. After two league games with the Western Mustangs ended in ties, the Blues squeezed post them in the final of London by a score of 9-8.

This playoff was caused by a three-way tie far first place between Toronto, Western, and Queens. Toronto won the bye into the final by the toss of a cain. The resulting free weekend enabled the Blues to journey to Vancouver where they defeated the University of British Columbio Thundrbirds 5-3. It is hoped that this game will be the beginning of an annual East-West college playoff, to be played alternotely in the east and west.

Meanwhile in a game played on neutral ground at Varsity Stadium, Western recovered a fumble in the end zone on the lost play of the game to provide the margin for a thrilling victory aver Queens. Western thus eliminated from competition the best team to represent Queens in many years. In the finol game co-captain Steve Oneschuk climaxed a wonderful season by scoring all af Varsity's nine points while leading them to a narraw victory.

This year's edition of the Blues earned a reputation for their amozing ability to come back after dropping behind; the team, os a whole, was characterized os much by its fighting spirit as by its playing efficiency.

Many members of the team graduate this year and cansequently there will be large gaps to be filled in next year's linenup. However, returners, including Don Smith, Bob Waugh, Don Cheeseman and Rich Bethune, will be able to form a powerful nucleus for next year's team.

The terrific excitement generated by the close finish in the league standings, the resulting playoffs, and the spectacular finishes to so many games have done wonders for the attendance at college football games this year. It appears that the shot in the arm, which was so badly needed far college football, has been pravided and from now on, the intercollegiate brand of the fall spart will get progressively better.

Basketball?

Three Points!

• Our Blues started the season as if they meant to run their opposition right off the field. Before the first game was five minutes old, veteron star Steve Oneschuk had cought a touchdown pass from rookie quarter Bill Stevenson and had kicked the convert.

From then an, hawever, Varsity was badly autplayed. Western coach Johnny Metras inaugurated his "Diamand T" formation with Gina Fracas, Don Getty and Dan Givin leading the attack.

The bewildered Varsity defense finally stiffened and held, under the leadership of John Prendergast, Bob Waugh, and Earl Ford. In the final quarter the Blues fought back and tied the score on Oneschuk's field gool from the twelve yard line.

• This game proved a rude shock to overconfident Vorsity supporters, olthough the score was hardly indicative of the play. An alert Queen's team took advantage of every break that come its way.

Phil Muntz and Bob Pinkney led the Blues to a 22-7 edge in first downs, but fumbles and intercepted posses nullified every scoring threat. Queen's kicker, Jacka Thomson, provided o tremendous kicking edge, overoging ten yords better than Vorsity's Oneschuk on every try.

Ron Stewart of Queen's was the individual star of the game with his foncy runs. Gory Schreider also ripped through the Toronto line for frequent gains.

The Intermediate football team under coach Jack Kennedy, assisted by Jack Roberts, had a fairly successful season. However, their string of three unbeaten seasons was shattered by an exceptionally powerful Western Colt team. The Baby Blues won four of their six games, downing Queen's twice and Ryerson Institute three times. The most outstanding linemen were Santo Martini, Ted Lotocki and Izzy Pastushak. In the backfield Dave Creswell, Jack Rogers and Al Wong, although he was injured for part of the season, added much speed to the team. Larry Joynt had a very good season at the quarterback position. The Baby Blues expect to have a powerful team next season with most of the squad returning.

The University of Toronto Soccer Club had a most successful year in 1954-55. Both the Senior and Intermediate teams won their respective league championships, with the Senior Blues winning the trophies in both the Eastern and Western divisions while remaining undefeated for the season.

Although the annual match with Buffalo was foregone this year, there were trips to London, Guelph, Montreal and Hamilton. The Intermediate squad was greatly strengthened this year and club spirit was at a high peak.

We were sorry to lose two of our better players early in the season, Wally Eze and Mike Lethbridge; nevertheless, the Senior team was one of the best balanced teams in years. The greatest credit is due to Coach Bobby Auld for a fine performance and Bill Small for his voluntary assistance. Jose Atucha, the team captain, in his final year, had a great season, scoring four goals in one game; he was ably assisted in managing by the club manager Mike Uzumeri and president Bill Leach.

Next season's plans include an exhibition game with a city club, and a trophy for Intermediate competition to join the Blackwood Trophy and Toronto and District Cup, which the Senior Club presently hold.

SENIOR CHAMPIONS

• For the second consecutive year the University of Toronto dominated the Seniar Intercollegiate Track meet. Aided by the efforts of Dick Harding and Norm Williams, the Blues managed to win by an impressive thirty point margin.

Dick Harding, who was a member of the team representing Canada at the British Empire Games last summer, swept the Intercollegiate sprint events, winning the 100, 220 and 440 yard events as well as running the last leg af the winning mile relay. His efforts were rewarded with the co-presentation af the Hec Philips trophy, along with Lionel Whitman of McGill who set a new record af 48'8½" in the shat put.

Norm Williams won bath the high and low hurdle events and finished with a first in the broad jump. Jahn Chishalm and Herb Tilson were also event winners. Chishalm wan the javelin throw and Tilson turned in an autstanding performance in the three mile event, winning by almost a full lap.

The Blue's relay team was also victoriaus, with Peter Patter, Peter Watson, Daug McEnteer and Dick Harding winning a close decision over McGill. The win in the relay capped ane of the best perfarmances ever put on in the C.I.A.U. track; however, with nearly the whole team returning, next year shauld give Toronto an even tighter grip on the Tait Mackenzie trophy.

● For the Varsity Rugger Blues, the 1954 season was both their best, and their most discouraging season since their old pre-war triumphs. Their best, producing a series of runaway victories in their league games, was good enough to take them to the Toronto League final for the first time, and seemed more than enough to bring the cup to Varsity. However, the O.A.C. Aggies saw the position a little differently, and in their final game with the Blues, ployed at Varsity Stadium in the middle of a snowstorm, toppled the home team's hopes with a converted try in the last two minutes to take the cup by a score of five to nothing.

In the intercollegiate series against McGill, the result was even closer, and just as disheartening. The strong Montreol team, on their home ground, were joited by an unusually experienced Toronto group, and scraped through by the convert points for a 5-3 win. Later in the season, at Varsity Stadium, some switches to put a little more weight into Blues' forward line proved ill-advised, as the lighter McGill squad cavorted over the mud to win ogain, three to nothing.

In regular league play, the Blues had their best season to date, and were named by a Toronto daily os Toronto's most improved team—quite a distinction considering that there are roughly 20 senior teams in the city. After being swamped in their first game, they went on to score 26-0 and 17-6 victories, as well as a few smaller wins. They also had the satisfaction, in the cup semi-finals, of ousting Toronto Barbarians II, the cup-holders and this year's League champions, giving them their first defeot in two years.

This came as a surprise to all concerned, as the senior team had last all their previous meets of the seasan, except Rachester which they tied and the intedmediates had won anly one.

There can be no doubt that both teams deserved these victories; under the campetent coaching of Cressy McCatty, they spent many hours grinding through the waters of Hart House pool, in order to enter the final meet in top condition.

The participation of John Bate and George Stulac in the final meet was, however, an outstanding factor in winning the senior title.

During the seasan, the seniors competed against Buffalo State, Niagara, Western, University of Buffalo, Brockport and Rachester. All were home meets except those against Niagara and Western.

This year's edition of the Senior Hockey Blues turned in a season unparalleled in Varsity history. In his secand season as coach, Jack Kennedy, guided his team through the season which saw three cups added to the Hart House traphy case, the Queen's Cup emblematic of the Senior Intercallegiate Championship, the Birk's Trophy symbolizing the winner of McGill's Winter Carnival and the R.P.I. Invitation Tournament Cup. While winning these honaurs the team went undefeated in their last sixteen games of which ten were an the raad. They negotiated their twelve game league schedule without a loss — the first time that this has happened since its inception. Gaing back over twa seasons, the Blues haven't lost a league game in fifteen and in nineteen counting American and Canadian college play.

Varsity's hockey season started earlier this year than ever before. Until ice was available in early Navember the team took to the track at Varsity Stadium for loosening up and conditioning exercises These extra work-outs were necessary as the first exhibition game with Marlboras came during the first week on the ice. Faur pre season games were played befare the schedule apened an December 4th. Twa ties 2-2 and 4-4 resulted with the OHA Jr. A's Marlboros. The only lasses of the year came from Lyndhurst Seniors 3-4 and St. Michael's Callege, then OHA league leaders 4-5. The results of these games gave an early indication of the calibre of the big Blue team. All these teams had had three manths or so an the ice to the Blues one at the most and each ane had to come from behind to win or tie.

It wasn't until the first league game of the year that coach Kennedy could ice his best lineup as football had commanded several players. This lineup remained intact the rest of the year. Starting with their first league game the Blues proceeded to build up their lengthy winning streak. McGill, University of Montreal and Laval were all swept down decisively before Christmas.

Over the Christmas holidays the team travelled to Troy,

Goalie Hugh Curry

Captain "Red" Stephen

New York to complete in Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute's annual invitational tournament. The Blues won this handily after accustoming themselves to the different style of ploy called for under U S college rules. They defeated R.P.I., the 53-54 National American college champians, 3-1, St Francis Xavier University from Antingonish, Nova Scotio, then the reigning tournament champions, 3-1 and Yale University 3-2. The team became stronger in each succeeding game reaching its peok in the Yale game when it outshot the Eli 54-5. Faur Blue players made the All-tournament teams selected by the press and radio. Defenceman Dave Jackson and forwards Paul Knox and Clare Fisher were placed on the first team and forward Jahn Adams on the second team.

The hardest fought game af the season came in the lost exhibition game. It was a 3-3 tie with St Lawrence University. Varsity had an edge on the play but could not beat the sensational SLU goalkeeper.

When league play resumed the team continued on its winning way winning oll its games but three by three to five goals. The closest to a loss was a 1-1 tie with the University of Montreal in Verdun, Quebec. In spite of the team's success McGill's Redmen kept pace with only one loss—that to the Blues. A 4-3 win at McGill's winter carnival insured that the Queen's trophy would return to Toronto after three years' absence. The two remaining games were won eosily and produced the only undefeated schedule.

The Blues monopolized the scoring in the league this year Dave Reid lead the league in points with twenty-seven and in goals with seventeen, Paul Knax was second with twenty-two paints. Don Cossar and Clare Fisher were fourth and fifth respectively. Fisher lead the league in assists with thirteen and Hugh Curry had the lowest goals against for goalkeepers. Reid, Knax and defenceman "Red" Stephen were placed an the first oll-star team while Cossar, Clare Fisher and Dove Jackson mode the second team.

This year's team was perhaps the best ever to represent the University of Toronta including the well-known Varsity grads. The power of the team came from its overall balance All three forward lines were constant scaring threats. If one failed to produce the others picked up the slack. The defence was outstanding as ony opposing ployer will agree. If the defence did let down, Hugh Curry in goal rose to the occasion.

The first line of ex-Marlboras Dave Reid and Clare Fisher and ex SMC star Paul Knax was the most pawerful trio in the league and the second line of veterans Don Cossar Ross Woods and John Akitt was the league's second best. The third line composed of third year veterans Ernie Bodnar, Ken Lowsan and John Adams was good enaugh to be the first line of ony other team in the league. The defence was led by another ex-Marlboro Dave Jackson who was vated unonimously by his team mates as the most valuable player on the team. Behind Dave, Captain Dave Stephen, Lau Appleby, Bill Moreau and John Tolton were solid perfarmers. Last but nat in any way least Hugh Curry in gool played many a fine game. Over the seasan Hugh didn't have much to do because of the team in front af him but when called upon he did a yeaman's job Sub-goalie John Groy was always available when needed.

The team loses seven players through graduation but the prospects for next year are excellent. Several Blues of two seasons ago will be returning and the intermediates will send up several wha are mare than ready for senior campetition. In addition to these more Marlbora and SMC players now in university ore expected to turn out with the team.

Because of the team's fine showing and amateur status a bid has been placed with the Canadian Olympic Committee to have Varsity's Blues represent Canada at next year's winter Olympics to be held in Cartina d'Ampezza, Italy The chances of being accepted ore goad

The Little Blues had a nine game schedule this year, ending the season with 5 wins, 2 losses (both to Western) and 2 ties. There was no formal Inter-collegiate league, but the calibre of play as demonstrated by the Freshman team will certainly help to send candidates to the senior team next season.

Al Fleming was outstanding in goal and should be a strong candidate for the Senior team next year Dud Kearney, John Casey, Bill Naylor, Tom Riley and the whole team played sparkling hockey to give Toronto one of its most promising young teams in years.

BASKETBALL

SENIOR

• Despite a slow start, this year's edition of the Blues finished the season with a respectable 8 wins in 21 games—6 of these coming in intercollegiate competition. Faced with one of the most formidable exhibition schedules of recent years, the Blues managed 2 wins in 11 contests. The highlight of the season was a trip to New York where the Blues played three of the best teams of that city.

In the Intercollegiate race, the team stood third behind Western, the perennial champions and Queen's. It was here that the team ran into a bit of bad luck. Tehy lost three games by a total of 15 points—a win in any of these could have given them the championship.

The majority of the scoring centred around Don Fawcett with a season's total of 284, Peter Potter with 228 and Leo Madden with 215 points for the season. The team as a whole shot an impressive 33% average on their shots from the floor.

With only Don Fawcett and Steve Oneschuk leaving the squad this year, there will be left a strong nucleus for next year's team. With this plus some promising Intermediate prospects, the Blues of next year could well be the team to take it all in the Intercollegiate.

The year 1954-55 has been a year of potentialities rather than of production for the Varsity intermediate basketball team. John Dacyshyn led a highly-touted team against stiff competition. Much was expected of these lads but their opposition was unusually strong and they did not quite attain the heights of which they were undoubtedly capable.

After a somewhat shaky start in which the Baby Blues dropped games to Buffalo State University and the Toronto Hustlers, the team went on a prolonged winning streak which lasted for a wonderful ten games. McMaster, Ryerson, University of Buffalo, Osgoode Hall, Queen's, O.A.C. and Western fell prey to John McManus' crew.

Then the Blues troubles began Niagara University freshmen held them powerless and defeated them soundly in a very demoralizing contest. From then on the team ran downhill. However, in spite of their latter-season troubles they still tied Western for the championship by subduing O A C. in the final game of the year.

In spite of their somewhat erratic play this year's Baby Blues will provide ample material to fill the gaps left in the Senior Blues lineup. Our boys had it when the ships were down, which after all is what really counts. Coach JJohn McManus deserves a special word of commendation for his skilled handling of a top-flight team.

However Caaches Kirk Wipper and Jack Amos, aided by Glynn Leyshan, from Western now attening O.C.E., produced a strong team with new recruits. Although the Blues won 4 and lost 4 the recard doesn't indicate their real power. Only twice was the full team dressed. Rochester, the strongest team encountered provided excellent experience for the Varsity squad.

Walt Kami-Takahara, 123, wan the Intercallegiate and the Ontaria Novice championships. Bab Waugh, 121, had no difficulty in capturing the seniar crawn. His performances this year have been an inspiration to his teom. The University of Toronto Fencing Club climaxed a successful year of competition by winning the Senior Intercollegiate Fencing Championship from McGill by a score of 15-12. George Montgomery, who won the George Tully trophy for skill, style and sportsmanship, and Maurice Husken starred for Varsity, winning the individual foil and epee championships respectively. Martin Nash, who was particularly outstanding, Walter O'-Neill, Richard Zeidler and Walter Stalmack all fenced well, deserving the team championship that they won.

In individual competition, John Andru, manager of the senior team, successfully defended his U of T Fencing Championship and also won the Province of Ontario Senior Epee Championship. Peter G. Gilbert, who won the University Intramural competition, also did well in the Provincial, placing second in each of Junior and Intermediate Epee and third in Junior Foil.

With most of these fencers looking forward to at least two more years of competition, the future of fencing at Varsity looks promising indeed.

● Jim Carnwath and George Bonar, veteran members of last year's Senior Intercollegiate Champions, teamed with newcomers Rae Smith and Don McIvor to successfully defend all honaurs which were wan in 1954.

The defense was accomplished in a decisive manner. In team competition seventeen of eighteen matches played were won by the Toronto representatives. The lone loss was to McGill, runners up to Taronto with eleven wins. Western and Queen's finished third and fourth

Jim Carnwath again captured individual honours and teamed with George Bonar to successfully defend the doubles crown to give Toronta a clean sweep in every phase of the tournament.

Through the caurtesy of the Carlton Club team trials were held on the courts of that organization. Over twenty candidates tried out for the team. The success of the Toronto representatives, playing and practising without proper facilities on the campus, speaks highly of the calibre of the players.

Queen's University acted as hosts for this year's play. The tournament was held on the Queen's Gymnasium Courts and was conducted with a friendly efficiency which added to the enjoyment of all competitors.

BACK: D. Andison, J. R. Rimmer, Cooch; P. G. C. Ketchum. FRONT (I to r): J. Hogue, N. M. Seogrom, J. B. McClellond.

The squash year was reasonably successful. The caaching given in 1954-55 by W. S. (Bill) Noyes to very inexperienced players showed to advantage this very busy squash season.

Highlights of the season were: the Ontario team championships, in which our team lost by a narrow margin to the eventual champians; and the Jennings Cup, which was last by only 3 points to the Graduate team.

Bill Rasenfeld was a finalist at the Ontaria Juniar Championships. Two team members represented the University of Taronta at the U.S. National Intercollegiate tournament and one, John Hague, last eventually in the third round to a tap seeded player but only after farcing the match to the maximum number of games. Phil Ketchum campleted the season by winning the undergrad championship.

The Intercollegiate was last to a very strang and experienced McGill team. The team at one time were ahead five matches to three but in the final result it was McGill 9, U. of T. 5 and Western 1

With the advent of an Intermediate Intercallegiate tournament for 1955-56, an interesting squash season can be looked for next year.

SKIING

The active skiing season started early in January when coach Bill Beck took the team prospects up to Huntsville Ski Club's invitation meet, where the bays made a good show.

When the first U. af T. winter carnival was staged at the Caledan Hills farm later in January, the Ski Club undertaak the arrangement of slalam and crass-cauntry competition. The same week-end the U. af T. men wan the team trophy in a Callingwaod giant slalam, ahead af Taranta Ski Club.

The University squad also made aut well in the Sauthern Ontario zane champianships at Callingwood and Midland and participated in the apening of Taranta Ski Club's new ski jump at Callingwood.

The intercallegiate champianship was arranged by McGill in connection with their annual winter carnival. The Toronta team placed third, behind McGill and Queen's, a position they seem to have monapolized for the past five years. The team's weak effort in jumping and cross-country must account for the result not being better.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

The scene is the Upper Gymnasium at Hart House. The time: 8.30 p.m. on a certain night in February. The action is Minor League basketball, played with four men a side because of the small flaor space. Fourth Year Meds are playing Fourth Year Electrical Engineering. Not many spectators at present. The substitutes provide the cheering sections. But the players are enjaying an hour of recreation which is so necessary, even in the graduating year of a busy professional course. The spirit of competition is there too. Meds later went on to win the grand championship for Minor League basketball.

The scene shifts to the Main Gym during a noon hour early in March. St. Michael's Callege and Jr. School are meeting for the third time in the Major League basketball finals. Each has won a previous game. This is the final game of all sparts for the year. The resting place for the Sifton Cup is at stake; but more than that, the All-Year Point Champianship for the T.A. Red Trophy will be decided as a result of this game. The inadequately-sized gym is packed with over seven hundred fans. The teams trade basket for basket. Only in the last minute is St. Michael's assured of a victory Final scare 62-56.

These scenes are typical of the three hundred and twenty-team, twelve hundred-game intramural programme. About twenty-eight hundred students participate. Many are deprived of the opportunity to participate because of lack of space Competition and rivalry is keen. Every participant has appartunities to meet and know students from other colleges and faculties. Managers and committee members meet to organize and operate the various sports.

This year St. Michael's College and the School of Law as Division One and Twa champions led all calleges and faculties in the Intramural High Point Championship for the T.A. Reed Trophy. In Division One St. Michael's and the Faculty of Applied Science staged the clasest race in the history of the Trophy. St. Mike's earned 10,808.5 points, enaugh to beat School by a scant nineteen and one-half. Law, with an excellent record ran away from second place Emmanuel Callege.

Thraughaut the year hundreds of managers, games officials and cammittee members worked many hours to make this programme possible. The Intramural Sports Committee, chaired by John T. Burnett of Law, and camposed of the president of athletics of each of the competing faculties and calleges, handled the many administrative details in a capable manner.

To each of these students, working behind the scenes, the competitors and the University Athletic Association awes a debt of gratitude.

FACULTY OF DENTISTRY FOOTBALL

DENTISTRY FOOTBALL

The 1954 edition of the Dentistry Football proved to be a capable aggregation of young athletes wearing their colours of garnet and blue in quest of the Mulack cup. The team this year was coached by Ed Ksiazek, who in turn learned his football fram Bab Masterson and the Varsity Blues. The team lacked experienced players and depth but were strong in spirit and determination to win. There were a few veterans returning such as Rivest, Gajda, O'Brien, McInnes, Hari, Cummings, Cassels and McCauley, but for the mast part the team consisted of raokies. The most pramising roakies were O'Cannor and Johnson. Johnson was a sixty minute man on the line and O'Cannor was the mainstay of the backfield. O'Connor undoubtedly is Blues material—Masterson, N.B.—his punting kept the appasition penned in their awn end.

In the opening game of the season Dentistry defeated Farestry 9-0 with O'Brien scoring the major and singles by Hari and Currie and twa paints by O'Cannar. This game was highlighted by the defensive play af McInnes, Gajda, Hari, Shunock and Cassels and the strang affensive play af Gdanski and Stewart at the guard positions. Jim Fawcett and Reid Currie directed the team well fram the quarterback pasitian.

In the next game Dentistry was defeated by the mud and darkness and Trinity. This game was a hard faught battle with a resulting scare of 5-0 for Trinity. The team also suffered the loss of their fullback Terry Thampson with a fractured leg received by a hard driving low tackle in this mud skirmish

In the game with St. Michael's, the Irish proved they were a pawer in the league. Early in the game Dentistry last the services of Rivest, Gajda, Morgan, Cassels and Hall through injuries suffered by the hard hitting gang-tackling by the Irish. St. Mike's emerged victorious by the scare of 28-0. Dentistry without Gajda and Rivest an the line, were helpless on offence and defensively they were greatly weakened.

In the last game of the schedule Dentistry was almost unable to field twelve players. Hawever a team of spirited dentists was collected to meet the men af Skule—with many af the players filling positions unfamiliar to them. The game proved very interesting and a lot of fun for both teams as nothing was at stake, and as a result Juniar Skule managed to eke out a close victory over our Dentistry team. The score was Junior Skule 11, Dentistry 9. Little, Ray and Shunock skirted the left end on a screen pass and scared the tauchdawn for the dentists with Don O'Cannor kicking the convert. Dan O'Cannar alsa kicked three singles to sum up the scoring. Bob Hamilton, Russ Bray, Ken McCauley, Dave Strain and Graham Hall played well offensively and defensively.

Although the Dentistry team did not succeed in winning the Mulack cup, they certainly had a successful season considering all factors and it is haped that next season Dentistry will bring back the Mulock cup after a long absence.

Bosketball, the king of gomes at the Law School, continues to reign supreme as far os interest and achievement ore concerned. The Law "A" team made an unprecedented move up to First Division Competition where they met the best intramural teams. In a twenty-eight team league Art Binnington guided the Beagles to the semi-finals. PHYSICAL AND HEALTH EDUCATION

 One of the finest athletic years in the history of St Michael's reached its culmination on a March afternoon when the basketball team took the deciding game over Junior S.P.S. to win the Sifton Cup, thereby giving St Mike's a slim lead over S.P.S. in the final Red Trophy standing

Although the return of the Reed Trophy to St Michael's, after a six year draught, ultimately came about as a result of the basketball victory, credit for winning the trophy must be given to college teams in all fields of endeavor, who, although taking only one other championship, and that in Junior Swimming, managed to win their way into the finals of four major sports.

The fall season saw the football squad reach the Mulock Cup final for the third year in succession, only to be edged in the last minutes of play by S.P.S. The Lacrosse team also reached the final round, and after putting up a game battle, lost out to a powerful U.S. squad. The soccer team, although strengthened by the addition of several South Americans, found the lack of experienced players too big an obstacle to overcome, and were ultimately put out of the running

During the winter semester, St. Michael's relinquished their hold on the minor league basketball Championship for the first time in six years. However, both Hockey and Waterpolo teams reached the playoffs The Icemen were knocked off in the Jenning's Cup final by U.C. but promise to be a strong contender again next year as only one man is departing from the finalists of this year. The Waterpolo Squad, strengthened by many of the swimmers who had been on the championship swimming team, reached the quarter finals, before bowing out of competition.

Congratulations are due to the Athletic Directorate, and to the Athletes of the College who combined to secure for St. Mike's a well-earned first place in Reed Trophy competition during the past year.

TRINITY COLLEGE

• As we loak back on the athletic year of 1954-55, it is indeed gratifying to note the improvement that most of the teams have shown over the previous year. As always Trinity was well represented in all fields of competition with at least one team in each sport. While no champianships were wan, many victories were witnessed by an aroused student bady which demanstrated that Trinity is still one of the most enthusiastic colleges on the University campus.

The most outstanding teams were the Football and Hackey A squads. The Faatball Team went undefeated during league and exhibition play, but the semi-finals proved to be their downfall as the champion S.P.S. team had too much depth for our Black Panthers. The Hockey A Team was perhaps the strangest this college has had in many years. The team reached the semi-finals and lost out to U.C.'s championship team, in on extremely close game.

A big disappointment was the basketball teams of whom great things were expected. The semi-finalist A Team of last year never got arganized, and cansequently did nat make the play-offs

The saccer teams were not autstanding, as the A's were unable to successfully defend the Arts Cup. Nevertheless both the A's and B's proctised faithfully and faught hard in each game.

The squash, waterpalo, lacrasse, track and volley-ball teams all displayed fine spirit and determination, and should receive mention as having made a nable effort.

The Athletic Executive worked as a well-organized graup, and successfully ran the annual Athletic Dance, the Inter-Year Hackey and Baseboll Leagues, the Callege Field Day, and vorious ather athletic activities. It is difficult to chaose the most autstanding individual performers, but congratulations for a job well done should be extended to all the team coaches, and the members of the Hockey and Foatball squads for their many victories

Next year most of the teams will return intact, ond, along with freshmen additions, should bring some championships to Trinity's trophy chest and ance again put us in contention for the Reed traphy.

◆ As shown by the much improved standing in the Reed Trophy race (Vic stand 4th), this has been a good year for athletics at Victoria. In the fall the Football Team, which had been roted as very weak and inexperienced, fought its way to the semi-finols where, hompered by injuries to key players, they were defeated 5-0 by St. Mike's. For the first time in some years our Soccer Team wan the first division chompionship. The Senior Track Teom won their fall trock meet while the Juniors placed second in their section. Vic added two mare chompionships, winning the Harrier ond, later in the Spring, coming out an tap at the Indoor Track meet. Both our Water polo teams made the ploy-offs in their leagues as did the Senior Basketball Team and the Juniar Hockey Team, which advanced to the semifinals. Participation in sparts at Vic this year has been good with an especially fine turnout from the the Freshman class. Next year we look forward to the continued success of our teams and an even better standing for the Reed Trophy.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

The most important thing in the women's athletic picture this past year was the definite announcement that construction on the long-awaited Wamen's Athletic Building will be started in the summer of 1955. The plans call for a huge "wing" to be added at the back of the present Falconer Hall building which will provide space for a greatly increased indoor athletic pragramme. It is canfidently expected that the fall of 1956 will see the beginning of a new era far the women athletes of the University. Meanwhile the best arrangements are made to carry on the variauus sports, largely by renting and barrawing facilities.

In the intramural field the three fall autdaar sparts all enjayed a most successful season. University College won the tennis with Anne Innis as the University champian. The archery Silver Arrow went to St. Hilda's with Kay Sladen and Dorene Toland carrying off the hanaurs.

In softball, eleven teams entered the series which was finally wan for the secand year by the strong Victoria Callege first team. The other finalists were P. and O. T. who were beaten by Vicin a hard faught and exciting series. The invitation galf taurnament sponsored by University College again saw Shirley Grant of P. and O. T. II winning the trophy.

Archery Team

Swimming Team

SECOND: Nancy Daubt, Mary Wingate, Pat Laird, Janet Barnes, Jaon Archer, Ada Macpherson. FRONT (I ta r): Patti Evel, Pat Craig, Barbara Gluck, Hugheen Cree (Mgr.), Miss Minnifred Baxter (Caach). ABSENT: Jennifer Barden (President).

P. and H. E. once more corried off the intramurol swimming trophy, with Barbora Gluck taking the Ishbel Robertson cup as the individual champion and Joan Archer of Trinity retoining the Cochrane Diving Cup. Increasing interest is being displayed in synchronized swimming and Toronto this year entered contestants in the duet and solo events. This activity will be greatly assisted when the new and up-to-date swimming pool is finally avoilable.

As always basketball attracted the greatest number of players and some twenty-three teams in six leagues entered the series. The four semi-finalists were P.H.E. Second and Third year teams, U.C. Jr.-Sr team and Phormocy, which entered the series for the first time and made a most commendable showing. The finals held in Hort House through the kindness of the Men's Athletic Association, resulted in a win for U.C. Jr.-Sr over P.H.E. III by a score of 41-16, with P.H.E. III defeating Pharmacy in the consolation. This U.C. team is a power-house, having several intercollegiate players and well deserves its championship.

Senior Basketball Team

BACK: Meredith Robinson (Monager), Claire McMullen, Mary Winship, Audrey Lamb, Pam Miles, Miss Mary Barnett (Caach).

Fourteen teams in the volleyball series provided good competition, with P.H.E. Firsts winning the cup from U.C. Sr.-Jrs. in the finals. The badminton trophy went to University College with Daphne Walker again taking the championship title from Noreen Cosar of P. & O.T. in a hard-fought final.

The ever-popular hockey series started with twelve teams divided into three leagues. Competition was particularly keen and several good teams were eliminated before the playoffs which saw P.H.E. and P.O.T. battling it out. The promise given by the Therapists last year held good, as they took the championship for the first time, winning 3—1 in the first game though P.H.E. won the second 2—1.

The ski meet at Collingwood had a small entry but much enthusiasm. University College won the title with Cynthia Moore winning the individual championship and the Proudfoot Cup.

A renewed interest in bowling this year resulted in a much better standing for Toronto in the intercollegiate telegraphic tournament—third place as against sixth in 1954.

The new Fencing Club had a most successful record in its first full year of operation. While no intramural meet was held, Toronto took two meets with the Eaton's Girls' Club and won nine bouts to seven in an official tournament at McGill. Olga Mracek captained and managed the team.

In the official intercollegiate tournaments

Toronto won only two, Western three and Queen's one.

Queen's repeated their archery win with Toronto taking third place. Kay Sladen captained and managed this team and Mrs. Michelle again served as coach.

A very fine tennis team, captained by Anne Innis again won the championship. Anne dropped only one match and Diana Walker, second singles, and Anne Kilgore and Ann Manuel doubles, won all their matches. The swimming team did not fare so well in the meet at Queen's winning only the medley relay. A number of second places, however, gave Toronto a good score and the team finished second to Western. Jennifer Borden captained this team.

Toronto's badminton team was one of the strongest ever entered in the intercollegiate and made a clean sweep in all matches. The meet was held this year at the Carlton Club in Toronto and Daphne Walker not only captained the team, playing first singles, but organized and managed the tournament. Noreen Cossar, second singles, and Pat Godson and Elizabeth Rorke, doubles, completed the team.

Due to difficulty of accommodation at O.A.C., Toronto also entertained the volleyball tournament the weekend following the badminton. The Toronto team was comparatively inexperienced and took only two out of ten points. Sylvia Kerr of Second year P.H.E. acted as coach and Mary Haza captained the squad. The championship was won by Western.

Intermediate Basketball Team

THIRD: Narma Walsh, Manager; Kathy Hawken, Irma Savijari, Ann Miller, Lillian Babsan, Cathie Lyndon. SECOND: Jaanne Hausley, Jane Kelly, Margaret Malnar, Captain; Margaret Haines, Barbara Walker. ABSENT: Miss Jane Timmins, Coach; Barbara Fload, Mary Ja Hargadan, Jaanne Lappetita, Elizabeth McTague.

Badminton Team

(I to r); Daphne Walker (Capt. and Pres.), Nareen Cassor, Elizabeth Rarke, Pot Godson.

Miss Mary Barnett, the senior basketball coach was also faced with a rebuilding jab, due to the lass of many fine players, and the team was not quite equal to the task of defending its title. The Branze Baby found a new hame at Western after a hard-faught final. Taranta defeated McGill in the preliminary, 35-22 but last to Western by two baskets with a scare of 30—26. Sallie Wallace again captained the team and Meredith Robinson served as manager. For the first time the intermediates entered a league with McMaster and Ryerson and wan all their hame matches. Miss Jane Timmins coached the team with Marg. Molnar as captain and Narma Walsh, manager.

Volleyball Team

THIRD: Alicia File, Helene Wiseman, Pat Rugit (Manager), Jaan Galley, Barbara Margan, Margery Howse, Ann Keith.

SECOND: Noreen Maniscola, Inger Olsen, Mary Haza (Captain).

• St Hildians recall another successful year of othletics, with enthusiastic participation and keen enjoyment in every sport. In the fall term, the two softball teams, although not too successful, gave their opponents some stiff competition. In Archery, the St Hilda's team won the Intromural chom pionship with top honours going to Kay Sladen for the highest individual score. Both Kay Sladen and Doreen Tolond were on the Intercollegiate Archery Team for the second year. Although none of the four basketball teoms reached the finals this year, the Sophs in particular achieved o high standing in their league Cangratulations to Mary Winship and Pam Miles far winning places on the Seniar Intercollegiote Basketball team again this year, and Jane Kelly who was on the Intermediate team also for the second time. Much interest was shown in St Hilda's own sport, lacrosse, this year.

The team ployed three games — two with the UC girls and one with Trinity College, and combined with the UC enthusiasts to send a victorious team to Western University. Our swimming team stood third in the Intramiural meet with Joan Archer and Rosemary Whealy coming first and second respectively in the diving competition. Both Joan Archer and Jennifer Barden were on the Intercollegiate team. Congratulations also to Elizabeth Rourke who was a member of the Intercallegiate Badmintan team.

In volleyball and hockey the results were parallel, both the Freshie-Saph volleyball and the secand hockey team reached the semi-finals, while the first teams were close to the top of their leagues. With inter-year competitions in every sport, the athletic year was a full one, and successful by virtue of the high number of active participants.

Rumour has it that the Interfaculty Softball Cup hastaken up permanent residence at Vic. If this is true we receive it with open arms os o guest never to outstay its welcome. For the second time in succession our home-run eleven hove won laurels for Vic on the boseball field. Let us hope that they will continue to do sa, and that this sort of thing will develop into a college tradition.

Although the basketball, volleyball, and hockey teams have not met with the same success, nevertheless they did experience triumphont moments, and always, well always, managed to give their opponents a reasonably tough battle. Team sports have always provided those interested, whether or not they are proficient athletes, with hilariaus fun and good friendship. Needless to say, this year has provided no exception to that rule. In a university are large as this one, getting to know students from other faculties and colleges is extremely difficult. We strongly feel that these interfaculty games help to alleviate the situation.

We are proud of Joon Galle, Barbora Morgan, Margery House, and Alicio File who represented Vic an the U. of T. Volleyball Teom this year, and of Pat Gadson who played inter-collegiate badminton. Congratulations ore in order for Elizobeth Carmichael who triumphed over roiny weather, and Phyllis Andrews in the semi-finals, to win the tennis tournament. Congrotulations alsa to Pat Godson who won the bodminton singles and to Joan Hoggert, and Pot Cawman who were successful in the doubles.

This year saw the introduction of o new sport to Victoria's athletics program in the form of a singles and doubles table-tennis tournament. If the shrieks af loughter coming from the women's common room of noon hour are any indication this addition hos proved to be a populor one.

The banquet held on March 12th, ot which Bob Masterson was the guest speoker, provided a fitting crown for the year's activities. Among the other prizes given out, Mary Foster, the president of the association for 5T6, was presented with the Athletic Stick, the higest award which Vic. offers to her othletes.

Joane E. Price
Physical and Occupational Therapy

Our thonks to P. and O.T. Joane is the pert lass who took care of our Residence section and vorious other things around the office, and did a terrific job. We could always rely on her appearance every Saturday, and we did. She and Dot Porsons more than held up the P. and O.T. tradition with Torontonensis.

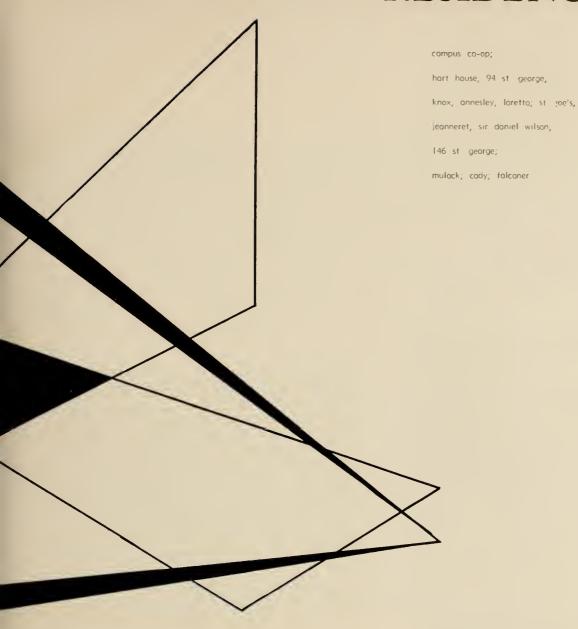

St. Joseph's Convent was the high school Joone left to come to Varsity. She was active in sports there, and in addition picked up o minute amount of experience as the first, and so for the last, yearbook editor for the school. She continued to broaden her interests on coming to the campus (as con be seen in her grad biography) through athletic and student executive positions, as debating rep. to the U.T.D.U., as a member of the fomous Physot Chorus, and to top it all, as a little bit of Nensis.

Last summer Joane spent in fair Victoria with some cohorts, taking her internship. The monotony was broken by hitch-hiking around the province, and especially by thirty-six hour, sleepless jaunts to Seattle which involved several party-type gentlemen from the U. of Washington. As a result of her ambitian last summer in completing her internship, she can step right into her job of St. Michael's Hospital in July and watch Mary Mary sloving out her internship. Poor Mary Marg! Lucky St. Mike's!

The gols from Devonshire Place were such on inspiration around the covern that we suspect they were the cause of a poll circulated among the gentlemen members of the stoff. This unusual poll asked, in port, if they would be willing to live in a Hut in the event of the opportunity arising. The results were overwhelmingly in the affirmative.

KNOX COLLEGE ASSOCIATION

• The K.C.A, not to be confused with the K.C.R, even though it has a television set, is the resident body of over 120 undergroduate and graduate students and represents almost every faculty on the campus. Engineers room with arts men, medical students with architects, all in a pot pourri commonly known as the Knax College Residence. In the residence the men from the other faculties are able to see that the theologs are every bit os human as the engineers. Water fights and bambs periodically disrupt the quiet study atmosphere.

The Knox College Association is the student government of the college. It arranges athletic and social activities of which open house nights and spring and fall dances are the more important social events. The Association also arranges a daily warship service and a weekly Bible discussion far the resident students.

The K.C.A. provides the comforts of home owey from home for the suffering residents. The fees paid to the association have paid for the above mentioned television set, a radia-phonagraph, a washing machine, mogazine subscriptions, and like conveniences. The K.C.A. olsa provides a means of conveying the very few complaints against the luxurious room service and the sumptuous cuisine supplied at ridiculously low rates

In the idyllic otmosphere of Knox College, the K.C.A rules supreme

JEANNERET HOUSE

Deconnered House, which occupies a rather unique place in the new Residence was lounched in 1954-55 on what we hope will be a long and honoured coreer. Unique, we say, because the student body nurtured within its walls is based upon a sediment of cosmopolitan cavaliers from old U. C. 5 Willcocks. Anchored to this somewhat dubious body we have a scintillating array of eager freshmen (see above), and a cadre of suave seniors from assorted foculties beyond the pail. (Yes, pail).

Besides an outstanding Don from Down Under, Mr. John Matthews, the Jeanneret moppets can boast o full complement of Big Wheels, genus undergraduate. These ronge from our house president, the effulgent and euphuistic P G Mortin, through John Roberts, thinker and individuolist extraordinory, to the Falstaffian Woodsy, our solitory genius Other house-members, less cylindrical but more active, put starch into basketball teams and the Upper St George Street Bird-Watchers' Society Special mention must be made of our Senior Bird-Watcher and only Rhodes scholar. E. E. Smith. He owes none of his phenomenal success to Jeanneret House Without stint, we oll rejoice in the comforts of our new home; moreover, we sing with youthful voices shrill the splendours of that dining-hall, where clossical pilosters compensate for wont of sustenance. Yea, more the fulsame ocodemic gown is worn by all, setting us apart, at dinner or debate in Gothic grandeur redolent with Tradition and the omnipresent cole-slaw. These sable mantles are not mere repositories for table condiments, but confer upon us the dignity of gentlement and scholars.

Lux fiat! quoth the administration, after consulting with the contractors; as if in onswer up surang Jeanneret House and Matthew's Merry Mites. Now, after several months of letting in the light, we present ourselv's for your inspection, in the honest belief that comment is superfluous. Benedictus benedicat!

SIR DANIEL WILSON

University College Men's Residence

The need for o men's residence in University College has long been recognized os one of the glaring deficiencies in the life of the College. This year, with the completion of the Sir Doniel Wilson Memorial Residence and the adjoining Howard Ferguson Dining Holl, the need has at lost been fulfilled.

The beginning of term sow one hundred ond eighty-three students toking up residence in the new buildings. These students range from the newly joined freshmen to odvanced scholars working at the Ph.D., level.

The residence is composed of six houses, each house being nomed ofter o former University College principal (Toylor, Hutton, Walloce, McCaul, Jeonneret, Loudon). Each house has chosen its own form of student government and in addition is represented on the Residence Council by the house president. This council is responsible for the "Peace, Order and Good Government" of the residence os a whole. A Coput hos been established for the purpose of judicial administration and with the exception of extremely serious coses, students are completely responsible for their own legal jurisdiction. A unique component of the residence and indeed of the whole university, is that of the graduate students' house, known as Wolloce House. Here you will find graduate students, from universities all over the world, working towards advanced degrees in proctically every field of study.

MEMORIAL RESIDENCE

The year has been one of growth and levelapment with the bangs of growing pains constantly manifesting themselves. However much has been accomplished and the activities carried on have been many and varied. A full schedule of social activities was carried out by the individual houses. In addition, a children's Christmas party was given some fifty arphans, which proved to be a tremendous success to both givers and recipients. Prior to the closing of the fall term a Christmas Dinner was celebrated by the students.

The two majar activities of the winter term were the Dean's Birthday Dinner and the Residence At-Home. The farmer was accampanied by original theatrical skits presented by each house and producing capious quantities of slapstick humaur, mingled sparsely with gems of genius.

A relatively new medium of learning was introduced to the residence scene this year when rented television sets began to appear in the various common roams. This innovation was met with a mixed reception but it was generally agreed that TV is here to stay! A further practise which was at first met with mixed reaction, was that of the formal evening dinner. Students meet at the appointed dinner hour, adorned in academic gowns, and proceed to the dining hall as a bady. This tradition has became fully established however and is certainly recognized as one of the distinguishing features of the new residence.

With the experience of the first year of operation securely tucked in its belt the new Sir Daniel Wilson Residence laoks forward to a long and successful career as an educational instrument of University College. The grawth and development of this project during the initial year augurs well for the future

Clarke G. Deller University College

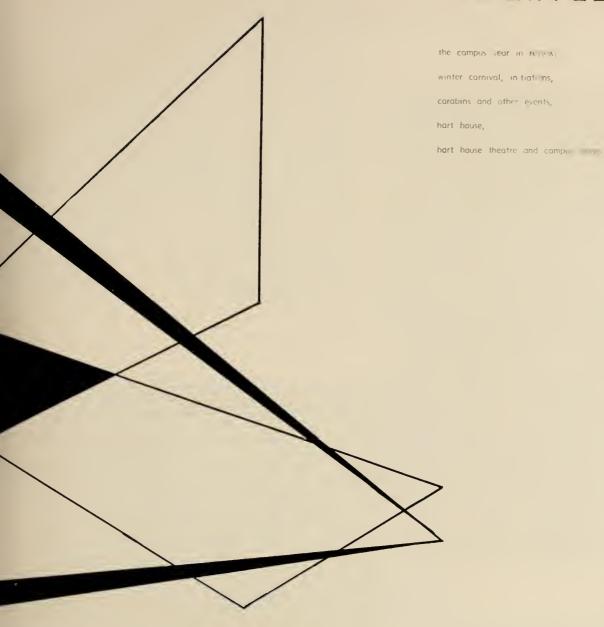

The representative from the U.C. Lit to the Students' Council next year, and N.F.C.U.S. chairman af that body, will be Clorke Deller. Among numerous other things Mr. Deller has worked on Torontonensis as Activities editor. However we must mention these "other things"; he has vocalized with the Hort House Glee Club and has been treosurer of the S.C.M.; he has porticipated in the I.R.C. and C.C.F. Club; mony penetrating Vorsity orticles have been his work, and not to stop here, he has also been voted a member of next year's House Committee in ye olde Hart House. However, we rank him highest as a speak of the Arbar Room.

Clarke, now in Philosophy III, come to T.O. from Porkdole Collegiote and if he has interpreted his dreams correctly the future course must lead to theology. But let the chips foll where they may, who knows where Deller will foll?

Clorke has done a loudable job, with the help of Borb and Cannie, of sorting out his section and making it a lively free-flowing port of the book. We have a splendid basis from which to work next year. And by no means the least of his services this year has been the generous treating of a down and out editor to lunch in the Ferguson Memorial dining hall. Long live Clarke Deller; vive le diner; long live the S.A.C.; vive la reine; long live Nensis . . . !

DESIGN

• Basic design in the school of architecture is a multiple course. It is not just drafting, or painting, or model building etc -- it. is all of these "methods" and more Architecture is not a mere visual exercise All of the senses must be pleased and occommodated Design is not a mere onalytical process It requires a "FORM" vocabulary and syntax not unlike that of o language. The tools of the designer are unlimited — they must include power machinery etc. In the striving towards form it is essential that architecture should be thought of as transcending "style" or "decoration" of the fascade of a building or house All "explanations" in materials like plastic, wood, concrete, wire paper etc; ore directed (by choice and evaluation) toward a technologically developed sensitivity. This refined awareness must be opplied toward design fundamentals, like line, plane moss, shope positive and negative), light and colour texture, size, joints, volume etc. These elements work toward a new concept of space-time in architectural thinking -- structure cannot be divorced from appearance — it is the job of Design to preserve this happy marriage

DENTISTRY ACTIVITIES

Manday, September 27th marked the date of the annual Initiation of Predents, evidenced by their appearance clod in laud pyjamas, odd shoes, rope tails, the traditional tooth placard, and, last but not least, a shae-shine kit. At noon they assembled in front of the Dental Building and willingly (?) shane the shaes of any senior student upon his request. Following a snake dance along College and up St. George Street the Initiates organized themselves sufficiently to lase a disputed decision to the Sophomores in a tug o' war an the frant campus. That evening, a treasure hunt was organized, designed to acquaint the Frash with the U. of T. campus.

PRE-DENT PRANKS

One week later, the afficial Initiation proceedings taak a much mare enjayable farm at the Saph-Frash Banquet and Dance, held at the Club Kingsway. An address to the freshman class by Dr. W. D. Cavanagh highlighted the evening, and later on Jack Dale, president of the Sophamore year, presented the trophy to the winners of the tug o' war

An expression of appreciation is in order to Harald Pepper, Jack and Ann Dale, and Gard Bowles for contributing to what was, without doubt, the faculty's best organized initiation for severel years.

FLOAT PARADE

O Homecoming weekend on the University of Toronto campus is truly one of the most calorful and spirited times of the fall session. Friday night there was a mammoth pep rally, and Saturday morning the annual floot parade took place with 25 floats competing for the Alumni Shield. In the afternoan the Varsity Blues swamped the McGill Redmen 36-12 and the half-time display was more colorful than ever with cheerleaders from all the foculties and schools across the campus taking part. Saturday night the spotlight was an Hort House and all the goyly decorated fraternity houses. Sunday brought a slowing of pace as many of the faculties were open in the afternoon to receive their alumnic

For two years previous to this weekend. Dentistry has held the Alumni Shield for first place in the float porode. This year we were determined to make it three straight but never before has campus competition been so great. The Varsity carried comments and pictures every day.

for a week previous to the parade.

Fram camrades in the underground of the university come rumors of 'sabotage' and 'get Dents' but we were sure of the shield for a third year. Work pragressed every evening that week, till 1 or 2 in the morning 'Canadiana', the theme picked for the parade by the Blue and White society, made it difficult to chaose a subject for our float since there was nothing typically Canadian about Dentistry. Our plon turned to aur fight in Canadian Dental Health Education and we chose as o by-line 'Canado leads in Preventive Dentistry'.

Although our efforts did not bring us the shield for another year, everybody had a wonderful time making another original Dents entry in the floot parade. Thanks again to all those who so willingly participated

DENTS AT HOME

• The students, staff and alumni of the Faculty of Dentistry danced around an immense diamond in the Ball Room of the Royal York an February 18th in celebratian of the sixtieth annual At Hame. The affair was a repeat of the success of last year, and again semi-formal dress was adopted for the occasion. More than five hundred people were in attendance, and, although the floar was a little crawded, everybody enjoyed the dance music pravided by Benny Lauis and his orchestra.

Before the dance, the graduating class and members of the staff together with representatives from the Cabinet convened in Hall C far cacktails.

Patrans of the At Hame were President and Mrs Smith, Dean and Mrs. Ellis, Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Moore, Dr. and Mrs. G. Nikiforuk, and Mr. Harry Szouronski and Miss Nan Gordon. Thanks should be extended to all thase who so willingly devoted their time and effort toward one of Dentistry's most successful At Homes, and in particular to Gord Rowles who directed and organized the whale function.

EMMANUEL ACTIVITIES

 A sample of our busy college life is shown here. The first year ably prepared the float for the "homecoming" weekend Kirkwood and McKoy were the preachers. The tractor can also be seen that collided that night with a car going the wrong way on a one-woy street, without lights or license. Some Engineers paid the damages.

This year "Hazel" struck. Several groups went to Woodbridge to help cleon up. Seen returning, tired and muddy, are, left to right, Beoton, Froser, Anderson, Long, Read and McKenzie.

A big event was Buddy Mission Night. Here the Victorio Church students met with us to shore experiences on the Summer mission fields through coloured slides, under the leodership of L. O'Neill. Shown are some overseos students with Principal Motheson. Isaac Khimla, seoted, is here from India on our missions scholarship.

To help cheer the team to victory the Emmanuel Mission Band was organized. It is shown here at half time

FORESTRY ACTIVITIES

● The highlights of the 1954-55 season in Farestry activities will be remembered by many for years to come. The first big event was the float for the hamecoming week-end. Under the close supervision af Terry Honer and Clayton Keith, crews worked diligently on the planning and canstructian of our float which depicted the French-Canadian author as the backbone of aur Canadian economy. The float stood well with its campetitors.

The next time that Forestry was in the limelight was the occasion of the First Winter Carnival when Forestry carried off top honour in the overall paint system. Miss Mary Jane Champ was chasen as Farestry's "Girl we'd like most to get lost in the bush with". Miss Champ was chasen as the Princess-in-waiting to the Carnival Queen. Brian Cross and Neil Hunter were strong factors in our victory.

Forestry again made the highlights in a misunderstanding over the bload campaign. Forestry, all-time winners in the bload campaign for the Skule Cannon, had to beat off a canfused St. Michael's Callege bid for its caveted trophy. It is rumoured that when Forestry gives bload, it is a pint aut of each arm.

The activities ended with two smashing banquets, one for the presentation of the athletic awards, and the other some consoling words of guidance from our illustrious alumni. Albert Moyer was awarded the T. W. Dwight Traphy for cantributing the most to Forestry Athletics.

MEDS AT HOME

• The At-Home was held at the Royal York Hatel on Thursdoy, February 17th, 1955, and was again a tribute to Medsmen, undergraduate and graduote. The theme of the donce, Medical Research, was carried through by the entertoinment, which took us to dork corners of "the Most Institute", and by the decorations which depicted research in its most poignant moments. Anaesthetics were ovailable in the laboratory and most of the twelve hundred present had a beaker-full (or two) A bit of research corried out by the dance committee was some Scottish doncing, with some startling results!

Cangratulations are extended to everyane who helped to make the evening so successful and especially to the committee

IN THE LIBRARY, EVERYONE READS "THE VARSITY"

"FOR DEATH OR GLORY"

The Faculty of Music, a comparatively small group in our University, is made up of four three-year courses. These include the two Bachelar of Music degree courses, one of which is for the training of future high school teochers and the other for thase interested in camposition. The Artist's Diplama course is to train cancert perfarmers, and the Licentiate Diplama course is ta instruct students in teaching their special instrument. The two latter courses, originally part of the Canservatary's Senior Schaal, were incorporated into the Faculty only two years ago.

The smallness af our Faculty has one big advantage — everybody knows everybady else, regordless of his course or year. The result: it's one pralanged party from September ta May! What could be mare fun than sitting with twelve other people around a table far four in the Conservotary cafeteria, chewing on chocolate donuts and hashinng over all sorts of matters vital to musicians? Accarding to "Mus Bacs" who haunt it, "the Caf" is one af the liveliest eating spots an the campus, a fact which accounts far the large numbers of wide-eyed Engineers to be faund there of meoltimes!

Another favourite gathering-spot is the Foculty office, where secretary and unofficial public relations officer Miss Isabel Johnson solves all our problems, whether it be by presenting us with new clarinet reeds or rooting out extro copies of "How to Care For Your Instrument". If we have no problems, we drop in anyway to chat between classes, for someone, classmotes, professor, or another student, is olways there.

The Foculty also hos porties of the more organized type, such os that held at Fantasy Farm in the autumn, where square donces were the style and a group of seniors gove their musical impressions of "life at the Con". A highly successful Christmas party featured a prominent Faculty member as Santa Claus. A Christmas carol sing, and a most interesting film night at the home of a student have proven successful. We have all enjoyed the several informal gatherings on Tuesday nights after practices of the University Symphony Orchestra and Chorus, to either one of which we are required to belong as part of our course.

Our At-Home will be held of the Old Mill this year. Should it be even holf as much fun as last year's, it will still be one of the social highlights of the school seoson for us all.

NURSING ACTIVITIES

As one would expect, a large part of the student nurse's time is spent in the hospital — but being a department of the University, only time at lectures and at clinical practise is controlled, leaving time for necessary study and extra-curricular activities. The study hours are spent in the relaxing surrounding of the Jean I. Gunn Memorial Library Alumnae was donated to our school by the Nursing Alumnae of the Toronto General Hospital. The extra-curricular hours are spent taking part in campus life such as the Float Parade and the Blood Campaign; the latter with the very able assistance of Augustus and Esmeralda. We also spent time getting to know the many girls who come from all across Canada, and the world. One such opportunity is provided by the annual Ski Week-end, while friendships are also found through the clubs; choir, debating, drama and athletics, one of which is in action here.

DECORATION FOR THE FORMAL

The Physical and Occupational Therapy "At Home" was held at Casa Loma. It proved to be a great success and much of this was due to Fran Frey, the social convener, and Barbara Atcheson, who did a terrific job on decorations. P.O.T. for the first time organized a Glee Club with Clyde Botten as conductor. Approximately twenty-five girls joined and presented two numbers at the Graduation Banquet. It is hoped there will be more enthusiasm and more students joining next year. At one of the Undergraduate meetings held once a month, the third year presented skits. One group did a "take-off" on the teachers which was enjoyed by all!

With sports (hockey, boseball etc.), float porode, formal, glee club and rushing to hospital and classes, this hos been a very busy but enjoyable year for P.O.T.'s.

THE SNOW QUEEN TAKES SHAPE

• Under the chairmanship of Martin Reaume, this year's At Home Cammittee set about in the early part of Navember to plan for a dance which has had for many years a high standard to uphald.

After discussing various themes suggested by the students, a Fantasy in Ice motif, featuring in principal an Iceberg, Ice Thrane, and Frozen Over Fauntains, was decided upon.

Immediately after Christmas, decorations under the direction of Olivia Larch and Kathy Murphy were begun. Each day more and more students came over to help with construction, poper-mache's and painting, until the twenty-ninth of January. That night, Brennan Hall in glistening white array, played host to a happy crowd who danced to enjoyable music and were served delicious refreshments.

Far a successful dance, sincere thanks go to the many students who so generously gave their time, and particular thanks go to Paul Quilty for lighting affects, to Jackie De Lessups and Sally Ward for their artistic painting, and to Jaan Sconlon for a remarkably beautiful mural.

The variability of U.C.'s fortunes are displayed by the entry in the float parade, a great success, and our entry in the Chariot race, a bust. The Float, displayed front and back, used the theme, "As the U.S sees US", with great success, finishing third in the judging. Sally Garrett, Joel Wagman, Anne Harris, Dave Jessell and Val Godsoe among others are distinguishable. The Chariot unfortunately tipped in mid race rendering the charioteer unconscious for twenty minutes; but the anly permanent casualty was a pair of pants.

The cultural side of the College activities is exhibited by the two canvasses by Jerry Finley, the outstanding artist at the Callege, and are two of his entries in the "Undergrad" Art competition.

JOSEPH McCULLEY

Hart House is a University Men's Club. It has a defined membership and o membership fee, which is paid along with the tuition fee. Every member must be mole and is only eligible under the categories of undergraduate, groduate ar foculty of the University of Toronto

With the exception of o few specialized octivities requiring a small additional fee to cover operational costs, any member may make full use of the House facilities.

Most of the octivities are strictly reserved for members. However, on special occasions authorized by the Boord of Stewords, women ore odmitted to certain events sponsored by the various committees.

The House, nevertheless, remains essentially a men's club

Hart House exists and flourishes to serve the students in the array of broad educational activities which lie outside the acodemic curriculum. In the Prayer of the Founder are the words: "That the members of Hart House may discover within its walls the true education that is to be found in good fellowship, in friendly disputation and debate, in the conversation of wise and earnest men, in music, pictures and the play, in the casual book, in sports and games and the mastery of the body."

Apart from these octivities and the ones which follow in note and photograph, the House has eating facilities in the Greot Hall, the Tuck Shop and Arbor Room There is a borber shop, record room, art gallery, and chapel as well as a theatre and rifle range

HART HOUSE

The activities of Hart House are administered by Cammittees which are representative of the total membership of the Hause, faculty, graduate and undergraduate. The undergraduate representatives are elected in a campus-wide election held during the latter part of the winter term. Permanent members of the Hart House staff act as liaison members on all Committees. The senior Committee is known as the Board of Stewards which coordinates the work of all the other Committees and decides basic policy.

Hart Hause was conceived, planned, built, as a result of a broad concept of education. It is in a sense a pratest against the easy tendency to think of education os being primarily or solely an intellectual or rational process. Any education which foils to creote a sense of wonder at the universe, an appreciation of beauty, an awareness of human need, foils of its most vital point. This is my dream of the function of Hart House and the role it must play in our University. I hope that in some small measure the voried activities of the year, the friendships and associations formed within this House hove contributed to this purpose

SKIMMING THE ACTIVITIES

• An excerpt from John Milton's Areopogitico—the message inscribed in gold leaf around the Great Holl—might well serve as a preamble to this outline of a year's activities

"... then the people, or the greater part, more than at other times, wholly tok'n up with the study of highest and most important matters to be reform't, shauld be disputing, reasoning, reoding, inventing, discoursing, ev'n to a rority, and admiration, things not befare discourst or writt'n of, orgues first a singular goodwill, cantentedness and canfidence in your prudent foresight, and safe gavernment, Lords and Commons; and from thence derives itself to a gallant bravery and well grounded contempt of their enemies, as if there were no small number of as great spirits among us, as he was"...

Hart House has over 6,000 male undergraduate members. As the student advances in his course, the above words become progressively more significant

For the Freshman, the House becomes known through tours, food services, hausing services, and social events, which of caurse include the mammoth football dances with as many as 2,200 peaple dancing to five orchestras. His introduction may be through his attendance at or participation in Hart House programme. Or perhaps he has been initiated into the multitude of activities by coming to the new series of All-University Sunday Church Services in the Great Hall, or enjaying a casual visitors' Sunday. The presence of a Hart Hause Orchestra Rehearsal, a N.F.C.U.S. Art Show, the Indian Treasure Van or the Blue and White Christmas tree may have been the beginning or continuation of his interest. He may have taken part in a social meeting of his awn National Group, or as a host ta a "Carabin". It is possible that an unplanned "bull session" caught his fancy and his time, ar if he was a fareign student, then the Warden's Christmas Dinner broadened his contact with fellow students.

And when the House has became well known, and University years are finished (or before) a member may return to this essentially male Hause—to be married in its chapel.

The majar stonding committees and club executives, which meet approximately ance a month, plan a large part of the Undergraduate programme.

House Committee.

To this group which acts both as initiating body and "sounding board" of membership feeling, is entrusted much of the respansibility for the tenar of House operation. This year another All University Fall Dance was arranged—and made indelibly memorable by the presence of Hurricane Hazel. The Arbor Raam came into being and soon became the Living Room of the Campus. The Committee once again arranged a Tag Day for The University Settlement and were hasts to its annual Christmas party. For the third year, members cauld bring women to pre-football game lunches and special Invitation Dinners. A Christmas Tree Decaration Party toak place and the Committee discussed everything fram Great Hall summer operation through better use of hard pressed Hart House space to Television.

This year they continued the Inter-Faculty Quartet Cantest, and held for the first time an Intercollegiate Quartet Cantest.

Finally their biggest annual task was campleted the Hart House Elections.

Library Committee.

Members might at first wander what events might keep such a group busy. They are plenty.

This year the Committee carefully selected and purchased approximately 75 new books far the Library. Old books were repaired, checks were made, indexing was kept up to date, and Private Press books were purchased for display in the case outside the Library. Magazines and periodicals in the Reading Room were chosen by this group as well as recordings of English plays. These were presented each week in the Record Room. A special recording of "The Investigator" brought about 300 members to the East Common Room.

A series of Library Evenings was held in the Library. Well known Literary figures such as Dr. Sanderson, Chief of the Toronto Public Libraries, John Gray of MocMillan's and Carl Eustace of J. M. Dent, spake informally to all male and to mixed groups

Music Committee.

Five distinct phases of Hause programme are given direction by this

As well as the Sing Songs, twenty-four concerts are arranged throughout the year. Among eight Sunday evening cancerts presented this year were. The Royal Conservatory Opera School, Jan Rubes, The St. Mary Magdalene Singers, The Hart House Orchestra, Betty Jean Hagen and the Hort House Glee Club. As usual, free tickets for these were ovailable at the Hall Porter's desk to members.

A similar number of Wednesdoy 5 O'clock Concerts was held in the Music Raam for members, and women of the University Such artists as Sheila Henig Jomes Lamonde, Carolyn Gundy, Wolfgang Grunsky with the Hart

House Viols and Donold Gorrard were presented

The remaining eight concerts were held in the East Common Room of noon haurs. At these, less experienced campus musicions performed. As usual, the members of the Cammittee presented their annual concert. Those who heard this stirring performance will never farget it—no matter how hard they try!

Instruction was given to over 200 new Record Roam devotees. New fidelity amplifier equipment was installed last summer, and the addition of new recordings was continued, keeping in mind the policy of conversion to a Long

Playing Record Library

Art Committee.

This year fourteen Art Exhibitians were presented in the Art Gallery. The Committee arranged and hung the work of local artists, as well as an American and a New Brunswick Exhibition. The artists icluded were: York Wilson, Oscar Cahen, John Hall, Mac Reynolds, William Ronold and the late Dovid Milne. The Undergroduotes of the University of Toronto supplied one showing, as did the Camera Club and the Senior members. Controversy reached a high peak of newspaper publicity with the Snow and Coughtry Exhibition. Several art talks porolleled these. Concurrent with the Gollery shows were several Print Raom displays.

As well as planning the purchase of new paintings for the permonent collection in Hart House, the committee inauguroted o new feature in the Arbor Room. A different picture from the House Permanent Collection was feotured there each week Eighty- five members of the House took instruction from Corl Schoefer in the weekly Art Classes, and Thursday noon hour films continued to drow full Houses.

The fobulous Lee Collection of mediaevol Art objects was open to all University members each Wednesday afternaon and on Visitors' days—the last Sundoy of each month.

A cotologue of the paintings in the House has nearly been completed, and will be available to the student body at a most reasonable price.

Debates Committee.

Six monthly debotes were held this past year. The committee arranged Honorory Visitors, Speakers of the House, tellers and publicity. The topics for debate were on a politics, religion, humour, the British Empire, international offoirs and the function of a University. Mr. Donald MocDonald, Dr. C. Swonson, Professor W. J. Ruddock, two debaters from Combridge, England, Mr. Edgar McInnis and Principal W. A. Mackintosh of Queen's University were the Honorary Visitors.

Squash Racquets.

As well as traditionally carrying on the arrangements for Squosh teams and practice schedules, the operation of ladders, and the encouragement of Intramural Squash, the Squash Racquets Committee continued its second year of Freshman Instruction, and inaugurated the Novice Trophy Competition More effective liaison was made with the administrative wing f the Athletic Section of the House

Taurnaments and Invitation matches were scheduled both locally and out-of-town. The following events took place. Toronto and District Junior and Senior Tournaments. There was also a Tournament of Senior International Squash at London as well as in Annapolis at the U.S. International.

Representatives were also sent to Buffalo, to Hamilton and to T.C.S. The Junior Singles and Team competed in the Ontario Squash Racquets Association, as did junior entries in the Conadian Squash Racquets Association.

Camera Club.

The infinite patience and capability of this year's Club members paid great dividends in the Annual Photograph Exhibition. Awards were presented to the winners in the junior, intermediate, senior, Korsh and calour categories. There were approximately 140 members using Club facilities this year instruction closses, talks and open meetings as well as small showings of photographs kept the Club Rooms well filled with keen and almost fonotic "shutterbugs"!

Chess Club.

A chess player is unique. Ninety such members this past year lived in a recreational world of weird and wonderful chess moves. There were instruction classes, pyramid and local tournaments as well as competitions with Queen's (via Amateur Radio), Ann Arbor, Michigan and McGill. Simultaneous Exhibitions, where one player is pitted against 30 or 40 opponents, took place in the Fall and in the Winter terms.

Glee Club.

In late September and early October, auditions produced 63

singers. Rigorous rehearsal and enthusiastic leadership soon brought forth a keen Glee Club. Over Hurricane Hazel weekend, some 35 members managed to reach Caledon Hills Farm for song and relaxation.

The Glee Club also performed for the CBC Trans-Canada Christmas Eve Broadcast as well as for the Annual Blue and White Christmas Tree.

Other concerts were performed at Cornell University, the final Sunday Evening concert, and at Whitby. Women's residences across the campus were also serenaded one wintry evening.

Again this year recordings were made of two concerts: the Sunday Evening Concert in March and the November Invitation Concert which featured the Buffalo State Teachers' College Choir, the St. George's Cathedral Choir of Kingston and the Hart House Glee Club.

Amateur Radio Club.

Near the North East corner of Hart House, there is a small rarely seen room. This is the "Ham Shack" where members of the Amateur Radio Club, uing equipment built, for the most part by themselves, succeeded in contacting nearly every spot on the Globe.

Equipment was added this year which enabled members to use speech transmission as well as code. Code classes were held for an interested few, and Open Meetings were held for an interested many.

After the Warden's Christmas Dinner — held for foreign students who are far from home—messages were taken, and a few contacts made for these members.

Table Tennis Club

Of forty paid-up members, many played every week in the Debates Room this past year. Here were a number of energetic members swatting a small plastic white ball with almost a ferocious zeal. The schedule was finally finished with a Tournament and award to the House Champion.

Bridge Club.

One of the largest memberships in recent years played bridge each week in the House.

Caledon Hills Farm

The Farm was used this year by twenty-five different student clubs and organizations for week-end seminars, work week-ends and for square dances. More than 1500 students visited the Farm—practically twice last year's total. Two mojor events accounted for this tremendous increase: the Vic Freshmen Initiatian when 250 freshmen took over the Farm for a doy and chopped wood and generally cleaned up grounds and buildings in readiness far a busy year, and the Winter Carnival held at the Farm in January. This event, which promises to be on annual affair, was attended by about 400 students who tried everything on the programme from sawing wood to trying out the new Sauna (the Finnish steam bath built by the visiting students from Finland the previous summer). Both of these events introduced a greater number of students to the Farm many of whom hove become frequent visitors.

The October praduction was Sidney Kingsley's dramatization of Arthur Koestler's powerful novel of Cammunism in the modern world, DARKNESS AT NOON. The second production, in November, was THE APPLE CART, a political extravaganza by George Bernard Shaw. The production in January was THE HOUSE OF BERNARDA ALBA, a rarely produced play by the late Spanish poet-dramatist, Federico Garcia Lorca. February, was KING LEAR. Each production ran far seven performances and mare than seventy-five students took part under the direction af Theatre Director Robert Gill. Hart House Theatre has proved itself o valuable part af the life of the University. Besides giving students on opportunity to act and take part in the technical operation of stage production, it is also providing an opportunity for the undergraduates of the University and the Toronta public to see plays of high quality and interest.

During the University term the theatre is in constant use. In addition to the Hart House Theatre Series, productions of vorious kinds were presented by fourteen producing groups on the campus. Prof. C. C. Love of Victoria College was oppointed Chairmon of the Board of Syndics to succeed the late Prof. E. A. Dale.

The story of Doffydil 1954 was bosed on the search for a cure for the disease which has been the curse of mankind—Aolpecio prematuro (premature baldness). Following the usual custom of medical students—the heroes of our story—two students in the Faculty of Medicine chose a summer job in a field allied to the practice of Medicine—namely Sorcery

The travels of the two students were used to tie the skits into a cohesive show, with the glee club and kick line presenting the three production numbers. In addition, students of the two Pre-med years produced the pre-show and inter-oct entertainment.

The Kick line once again proved to the audience that tomorrow's women doctors were today's best compus chorus line.

Once agoin, the music of Daffydil, which was completely original, was a highlight of the show.

These features, plus the many touches which are unique with Daffydil, combined to make Daffydil '54 a show of which the Faculty of Medicine is justly proud

KICK LINE

School Nite 5T5 returned to o revue with music, dancing, singing, comedy, droma, and impersonations. The show had campuswide appeal as well as School oppeal. The show covered events from "Football Weekends" which revealed the shocking truth about those McGill football weekends, to "Modern Fantasy" a highly successful pantomime of the "Shooting of Dan McGrew". The plantation scene "When Day is Done" performed by the singing chorus, proved to be as cantroversial as it was serious.

Showstoppers of School Nite 5T5 were the kick line's rendition of "Satan Takes a Holiday", the smooth harmonies of the All-Varsity quartet Champians, "The Skulehouse Faur", Jim Vasoff's impersanation of Liberace and Bob Hill's perennial characterization of "Stacey" the old barnyard philosopher.

The shaw was produced by Bruce Raymand and co-directed by Bob Hill and Jim Vasaff with able assistance from Al Pathy.

And don't think it didn't take a lot of work!

We will not have a show this year! These famous wards seemed to plague our rehearsals. Although we had a sufficient amount of script and songs, there was a lack of enthusiasm on the part of the cast in attending rehearsads. However in the last week of rehearsals, Al Reinstein's stage ideas, Emo Rajczak's direction of dialogue and Al Austin's direction of the charus enabled the cast to produce a caherent show.

Fram the beginning when the choir boys sang their hymn ta Taranta, the street characters trapped aff to Montreal, Russ Bulchak found the Epsom Salts in his pablum and Fabian af the Yard cleaned the city of Any-Face, Sid Galden's lyrics were the key-nate of the show.

The current tapics of disrepute in the Queen City were well satirized; the newspaper squabble, the Marathan swim, the Rayal Alex' plays, (the latter was exemplified by the Caine Mutiny Scene). Dave Engel, Sid Galden and Harry Rosenburg acted out to perfection the best dialogues ever heard on the campus — and it was clean! The subway taok its share af abuse. The sets for this scene, constructed by Andy Tynio, brought "Ohs" and "Ahs" from all viewers, especially when the train began to mave.

Dentantics would be incomplete without its kick line. Again, the nurses produced a flawless rautine plus a very realistic sea nymph number, "Deep in Lake Ontario". Another memorable aspect of Dentantics '54 was that its theme did not include dental topics and yet held the interest of both the audience and the critics.

There's got to be a clue!

Nickie graduated from the Kingston C.V.L., and went to McGill where she worked on the $Old\ McGill$ as assistant to the assistant photographer. With this background she came to see us last Fall, but we noticed that in addition she had enthusiasm and lats of bouncing ideas, which are the real necessities in a year-back. We installed her as editor of the Froternities section, and although not many new ideas survived until the end, she still achieved a good result in a section with not a few problems.

Nickie is now a student in the general course at U.C. majoring in Anthropology. She kept herself quite busy with Hillel as well, being Chairmwomon of their Arts United Jewish Appeal, and also chairwoman of the Hillel Honours banquet. She wrote for the Hillelite of which she will be editor in the coming year. We ought to get a good spread on Torontonensis there! She has also had a tolerant interest in the S.C.M., amen.

We still have a tolerant interest in Nickie, and are wondering whether she'll be back to try some more ideas on us next year, Hillelite editor or not.

Alpha Delta Phi, one of the oldest fraternities on the campus is one of the most active. The participation of actives and graduates in campus affairs is widespread and lively. The members take part in both intercollegiate and interfaculty sports; also in the many campus clubs. The fraternity is justly proud of the scholastic standing of its brothers as well as the excellent literary program which forms a basic function within fraternity life

The social life of Alpha Delta Phi is composed of varied annual functions including the Christmas Party, Formal Dance, and the Graduation Banquet. These activities are most valuable for they represent and create a meaningful spirit of fellowship which is ever-present in fraternity life.

Alpha Omega Alpha

Alpha Omega is an Honour Medical Society, in which membership is based on scholarship and moral character. Members are elected annually from the final two years of the undergraduote medical course

The Society was organized in 1902 at the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois, Chicogo, by William W. Root. The local chapter, the Alpha of Ontorio, was established in 1906, and has been octive since its inception. The Society now has octive chapters in nearly all of the medical schools of the highest rank in both Canada and the United States, it is the only order of its kind on this continent.

The spirit of the Society is set forth in its motto. "To be worthy to serve the suffering," and in the Oath of Hippocrotes. It is the duty of members to foster the scientific and philosophical features of the medical profession and of the public, to cultivate social-mindedness as well as an individualistic attitude toward responsibilities, to show respect for colleagues and teachers, to foster research, and in all ways to strive to enrich and ennable the profession of medicine.

• It was convention year for Alpha Phi, the oldest women's fraternity naw on the campus. A week of vigoraus activity took place at Victoria, B.C., with Chapter-delegates from all aver Canada and the United States participating. Taronto chapter was represented by President Mary Kress, Past President Lais Kennedy and Vice-President Rea McGarry, all of whom brought back many interesting stories to regale the members with on quiet nights.

Following the return of school term, the usual successful rushing period kept the house buzzing with activity until initiation night climaxed this with the admission of the new members, followed by a banquet of the King Edward Hotel. Various social activities, including . . . pledge party in cauntry atmosphere, after-meeting exchanges with various fraternities, the family teo, Christmos caroling, and our open house Homecoming Weekend added to the enjoyment of the year. Again on the social side of the column was the annual ski-weekend at Huntsville and the wonderfully relaxing week after exams of house party at a not too distant cottage.

It was also our pleasure this year to be able to join with other fraternities in such worthy activities as tagging for the University Settlement and sponsoring the annual Panhellenic Scholarship Theatre night. Our particular philanthropy meant several enjoyable Sundays with the patients of the Home for Incurable Children.

With the term's end in sight, a successful formal at the Granite Club opened a new season, which, to our scholarship chairman's delight, found Alpha Phis deep in study in our newly decorated sunroom-studyroom

A rushing week-end at the cottage of one of the brothers was the impetus which began fraternity events this year. The brothers welcomed the opportunity to get together after the summer's inactivity, particularly in such a congenial atmosphere. A return trip to the city and a continual rushing program fallowed, resulting in our welcoming nineteen new members.

The fraternity certainly had a full and fun-packed program this year. In the foll we held apen house dances following the Varsity foatball games. These were well attended. We hope to see a return visit from all aur guests.

In the winter months an athletic program took the lead. Hockey and basketboll were the talk of the doy with best teams playing the alumnae, other fraternities and prep schools.

The social season was climaxed by a formal dance held at the Yacht Club. On Valentine's Doy, true to Master Cupid, we held a party for a group of underprivileged children. In a more serious vein, the brothers contributed to the support of a young girl in India

Delta Upsilon

 Delta Upsilon is the only non-secret Fraternity on this campus — a position we proudly enjoy, not because we see inherent evils in secret signs and ceremonies, but because of the simple oaths of friendship, loyalty, and self-betterment on which our Brotherhood rests need no superfluous shrouds

For what ends have we established such a Brotherhood? Within the conducive atmosphere af bratherly loyalty and esteem, the fifty men in our active chapter are advancing a well-established fraternal society which has as its goals lasting friendship, mutual self-realization, the advance-ment of justice and liberal culture, and the provision of varied opportunities for recreation and for fellowship. Because our Fraternity membership continues not only through our undergraduate days but for the remainder of our lives, it creates a bond of professional fellowship among different genera tions of men. As members of a fraternal organiza tian we do not seek to separate ourselves from campus activities, rather we wish to make our Fraternity a focal point from which to participate fully in all aspects of University life

Following a busy rushing period, the Gamma Phi's settled down to the more serious part of fraternity life. On November 11, the annual Founder's Day Banquet was held at Clarendon Hall at which representatives from active and alumnus chapters were entertained by our new pledges. Next activity on our entertaining schedule was the "Family Tea" held at the chapter housue. At this gathering the active had an opportunity of meeting the parents, relatives and friends of her sisters. This was indeed a happy beginning to the Christmas season.

Our philanthropies included the support of two Gamma Phi Beta Camps for underprivileged children, and a most rewarding Christmas dinner for some of our "Senior Citizens."

The social year was highlighted by the "Carnation Ball" on February 16 at the Boulevard Club. After the formal, study became the "order of the day."

The annual social events were equally successful In October we held our annual Dinner Donce at the King Edward Hotel The New Year's Porty was its usual rousing success, while the pledge party at Mople Creek Lodge proved to be the best ever. At the Groduation Initiation Banquet 22 fratres gave their reminiscences and farewell blessings while 19 Neophytes were added to our ranks.

This year's pledge groups should be praised for their occomplishments They spent two nights painting of the University Settlement House Best of all they remodelled our recreation room, formerly called the Smoke Pit ond just recently redecorated the Reptile Roam

Our culturol program featured Nu C MacDon-ald, the C.C.F. leader of Ontario, with his talk on "A Heolth Insurance Plan" ond Professor Carpenter, of the department of onthropology, who spoke about "Contemporary Religion"

Porticularly successful this year was our clinical society meetings which were held twice manthly At these gatherings wellknown medical practitioners conducted o discussion of some topic of clinical importance.

• 1954-55 has been a good year for the Phi Delts. Perhaps our most outstanding features this year have been the social functions. The fall term, during which we had several football dances, was ended with the best banquet and Christmas party we have had for quite some time. In the spring term we are looking forward to our formal dance, which is to be held at the Granite Club, as well as several other parties.

This year, our chapter of Phi Delta Theta initiated thirteen good men. Their initiation was concluded by a dance at the Royal York which was a great success.

The Phi Deltas have taken an active part in a greater spirit of co-operation between the different fraternities on the campus and we are hoping for its success.

• Fraternities ore often thought to be mere social organizations. This may be true of some, but Phi Gomma Delta can and does exercise a definite influence for good upon the lives of its members who are willing to work for and absorb its ideals.

The froternity is important, yet it never demonds that a member sacrifice ocodemic standing or campus prominence Fijis ore active on almost all the important organizations on the campus, and in various university othletics. It was Fijis, for instance, who organized the inter-froternity Christmas carolling, the U of T Flood Relief Aid and inougurated the idea of a Winter Cornival on the campus

Phi Kappa Pi Fraternity was founded in 1901 at Toronta. Since that time, the fraternity has expanded until we now span Canada from coast to coast with chapter houses in Vancouver, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Taranta, Mantreal, and Halifax. The fraternity motto, "In bratherly lave, as Canadians, we benefit ane another," illustrates our pride in belonging to Canada's only national fraternity.

At Sigma Pi Chapter, we place emphasis on a policy of wide representation from the various arts faculties and professional schools on the campus. Members this year hail from Medicine, Dentistry, Engineering, Pharmacy, Optametry, Law, Victoria, U.C., and Trinity.

Á very successful social year was enjayed highlighted by the annual "Raggedy Ann Ball," and the Formal, held in February at the Granite Club. The fraternity year was also marked by an extensive interior redecoration project to be completed this spring.

The President and His Lady

 Again this year, Ontario Alpha chapter of Pi Beta Phi has been kep't busy with lectures, exams and altruistic work. Saturday mornings spent in working with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, have been our main work in the field of Philanthropy. In order to raise money for the project of giving financial assistance to young people interested in Social Work, undertaken by the Canadian chapters, we have held two Bake Sales, one in October and the other in February, and both of them were very successful. We thank all the members of the University who helped to make them so.

Our annual dance was held this year on Friday, March the fourth, at the Toronto Hunt Club, and was enjoyed by all.

Extracuricular activities have occupied the time of all the rnembers. Many took part in "Brigadoon", and others served on various University and College executives. It has truly been a happy and busy year for all Pi Phis, and we are looking forward to many more in the future.

Psi Upsilon

Outstanding evening far Psi Upsilan during the past year was the moving into the new house at 221 St. George St. We are extremely proud of the new chapter house and grateful to our graduate body for making it possible.

Scholastically, Psi Upsilon is especially proud of the achievements of two af its recent graduates. Brather Richard Clarke, graduate af the class of 5T4 in chemical engineering is studying at Yale on a scholarship, and Bob Charette af the same class is studying at the University of Lausanne, Switzerland, on a Rotary Scholarship.

Socially, the fraternity has had a very successful year, highlighted by the House-Warming, the faatball season, the Christmas party, the French party, and finally the Formal. For the Christmas party, the fraternity invited children from the university settlement to the house in the afternoon for a party, complete with Christmas tree and gifts distributed by "Santa," followed by a Christmas dinner and dance. This year, through the ingenious decarative work of John Chisholm, a successful French party was held at the house, featuring a French cabaret and a huge replica af the Eiffel tower an the front lawn.

Sigma Chi

• A century of fellowship will be an accomplished fact on June 28th, 1955, and already Sigma Chi is making plans to ensure that its second century will be at least as notable as its first. A centenary is a good time to take a guick look at the past and a long look at the future. An eventful past has contributed over 80,000 members and 124 very active chapters. One hundred years has seen us add ta history many famous names, fram Presidents of the United States to cartoonists like Milton Caniff, from great sports figures to eminent men of letters.

But famous names da nat make a fraternity, nor da famous sangs, like "The Sweetheart of Sigma' Chi". What makes a fraternity strong is the bond of friendship which exists among all its members. When an 80 year old alumnus was asked recently what callege fraternity he belanged to, he did not reply "I was a Sigma Chi", but "I am a Sigma Chi". This spirit is our greatest heritage from the past.

What of the future, and what of the Taronta Chapter? Beta Omega was founded in 1922 and soon acquired its own home at 95 St George Street Since then — well, the activities of our 44 octive members tell their own story Memories of lively football weekends, and Mīami Triad party, the Christmas party and the many quieter Saturday night dances caritrast with the Christmas help given poor families. The informal Caledon Hills weekend served to emphasize the majesty of the Sweetheart Centennial Ball at the Granite Club and the Alumni Banquet at the Albany Club.

The future will be a worthy addition to the past Already we are planning a new house, a chapter at Western, to be established soon, will strengthen Sigma Chi in Canada and with the added help of an enthusiastic Alumni Chapter, we may look forward to great progress in a short space of time

Our thanks go to our friends in the Greek letter world who have shared these past hundred years with us, for they have made a great past greater by their friendship. Now, we look to the past with pride and to the future with canfidence and enthusiasm.

Theta Delta Chi

Our year at Lambda Deuteran charge of Theta Delta Chi Fraternity began with a pledge class of twenty men enralled in a variety of university courses. No saaner were they initiated and the house set in order when the traditional "Apache" party with its French atmosphere brought the Fall programme to a climax. Once again the study-card system proved to be beneficial both to the brothers and to the scholarship advisor who made invaluable suggestions. This system supplemented by a series of bull-sessions, aften guided by faculty members, helped to widen the university experience. During the Christmas halidays food parcels were packed by the Brothers and delivered to three families in the community. Late in February the annual formal provided the occasion for a grand reunion of the brothers, graduate and undergraduate alike. We are indebted to aur graduate body for the complete refurnishing of the house. Their interest in our welfare has made university life more meaningful. In May five Brothers will be graduating. To those who are leaving we wish every success in the future.

The main item this year for AOP has been working for the cerebral palsy association, a praject cansisting of entertainment evening for three cerebral palsy children at a Christmas party

AOP was also busy with the Blue and White Society and of caurse provided an ever-popular rendezvous, particularly after home football games

Foremost fraternity project of the year was the "Sight Conservation and Aid to the Blind". Every Wednesday Delta Gomma members up'd and visited the blind veterans. Another doing of the fraternity was the sponsoring of the Anchor Ball, the proceeds of which were given to the CNIB. This year certainly topped them oll, os far as successful and enjoyable balls are concerned. A third project of the froternity was raising funds for the CNIB's new building project. • This year has been a busy one for the Medsmen at 142 St. George. We began with past-game buffet dinners and dances which were very popular with active members and the graduates. Pledging season was equally successful for we added to aur group thirteen healthy ruffians from First Premeds, including the would-be president, vice-president and the class secretary.

The social events of the year were tapped by the Fraternity formal held at the Toronto Hunt Club December 3rd. Mast interesting highlight af the evening was Scottish dancing and the bagpipes of the pipes from the 48th Highlanders.

There was an excellent turnaut for the Frat banquet on Saturday, Feb. 12th in the King Edward Hotel. We welcomed as guest speaker Dr. E. A. Linell. The banquet was followed by open hause at home grounds on St. George.

The Fraternity Tea, a social event for the parents of the brothers, on a snowy Feb. 13 Sunday afternoon, was well attended — especially by the parents.

Nu Sigma Nu takes this opportunity to wish members of the fraternity class every success in the future.

This year has marked the complete renovation of the main floor of the Nu Chopter House. With its facilities and resources, new and voried programs have been carried out as the institution of bi-monthly professional evenings.

The Second Regional Conference for Canada with Nu Chapter as host, took place in February. Guests included the international froternity officers and members from Buffolo, New York, Rochester, Philodelphia and Syrocuse.

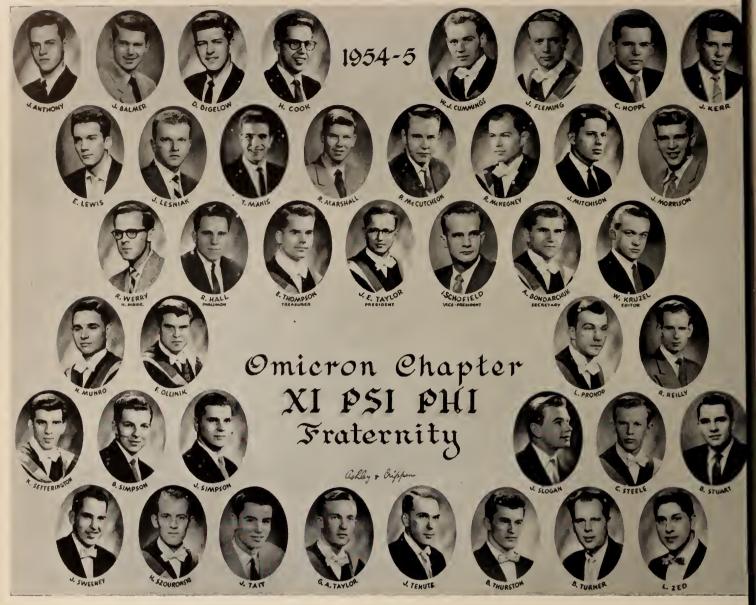

Feoture event of the year was the Grand Annual Ball at the Barclay Hotel, highlighted by the presentation of Scholarship and Merit Keys to Morris Factor and Dave Bergman. Two special dances during the year at the house were a masquerade festival and a Parisian jubilee.

The New Look has now spread as far north as 115 Madison. Shiny new plastic tile now covers the living room and dining room flaars. Even the fireplace has been rejuvenated and now looks as good as it did forty years ago. Not anly have the show-rooms of the house been facelifted but also the Room has taken an new freshness. Yes, we mean the bathroom. New piping has replaced the leaky fixtures and a tiled floor now breaks the old waterfall that used to drip into the kitchen. As you can see the great Zip spirit is still held high by the present undergrads.

The scholastic aspect of the fraternity life is being gradually encauraged by a series of clinics which take place usually on Sunday afternoons. At these clinics timely dental and occasionally non-dental topics are actively demanstrated and discussed. We have been especially blessed this year with some distinguished and capable speakers. The clinic committee, mareaver, is still working to get many more of these sessions befare the end of the year.

The social life of the fraternity is also rolling merrily along. A terrific turnout of Zips, both undergrads and grads, were present at the annual Dent's At Home. The merriment in the ballroom was exceeded only by the fun in Room 1335 where jay was literally being poured out . . . (from every heart). The Founder's Day Stag again proved to be a success, with the alumni responding admirably to the invitation of the undergrads. Deputy Supreme President Dr. W. D. Cavanaugh was on hand to greet many of his old friends and pupils. The Zip alumni proved that they haven't lost their touch with the cards and the other games of chance. These get-togethers come all too seldom so let's see if we really can pack in 115 next time the call goes out. Come on down you alumni and survey the scene of your early glories!

The annual hockey game between the 'in' and 'out' members is in the offing, with the 'outs' definitely planning on a victory after last year's loss to the 'ins' in a bitterly contested match. However the 'in' members have been training on a diet fram one of the government dairies and are prepared to withstand the onslaught. Not quite in the realm of sports we have the announcement that the Mckegney family is now three with the addition of baby Susan. Congratulations Bob!

The pledges for House funds have gane out to all the alumni. In this regard we note that a new Dental building is being planned south of the new Sick Children's Hospital. This development would place old 115 Madison right off the map, so let's see a real response. One dollar from every alumnus would realize $500 towards a new house.

Dot has just graduated from P. and O.T. Since she left Malvern Collegiate she has dane her interning at 999 Queen St., and if she was as pleasant an influence there as she was in the Nensis cubbyhale things must have been pretty bright and beautiful.

She has kept herself variously interested in everything fram Engineering Grad Balls to hackey (there's a difference!), and if you glance at her grad biagraphy it tells a stary itself. She assured us that her position as Group Rep. might well have been called "Keeper of the Faad Cupbaard".

After labouring in various aspects of the praduction, Dot agreed in February to take on the burden of polishing off the Grad section, and did a swell jab of it. We were so pleased that we asked her to direct a few words about work on Nensis to the undergrads in P. and O.T. However she replied, with clasely-drawn enunciation, words of warning to the Editor about Physot wamen—"na culture". No more was said.

Darathy Kay Parsons confidently trudges farward into the future as she gaes to the distinguished East General Haspital as a Physot. She assured us that she would saan hald the tap past there by quietly encouraging her superiors to get married. We'd take a bet that her superiors have the greater power of persuasian!

Among his university activities ore playing manager of the Trinity hockey teom, and manager of the athletics of the college. He has been literary chairman of the Alpha Delto Phi fraternity, and on the Trinity Board of Stewards he served as president of the 5T5 year.

Also among his university positions was his chairmanship of the Student Help for Asian Relief in Education, otherwise known as SHARE, in its campaign taraise funds for the University of Delhi. Russell felt the SHARE had an important part in contributing ta understanding between students of East and West — a far more important part than the average contributing student realizes.

part than the average contributing student realizes.

During his summer vacations, Russell has travelled from coast to coast with the UTDU, and has worked in Jasper, Alta. The summer in Jasper began with an unsuccessful atempt to establish a weekly newspaper, and ended with a job at the Jasper Park Lodge. Despite the outcome of the venture, Russell feels that he might someday go into journalism as a career.

Another plan for the future is o passible share in the business warld. Russell plans to read for Philosophy, Politics and Economics ot Oxford, and to make use of the opportunity abroad with considerable travel between terms.

The scholarship aworded to the Trinity stduent will amount ta $1,700,00 annually, for a period of twa years. Two such scholarships are offered each year to the students of Ontario; this year, as in many years of the past, both grants were won by students from the University of Toronto.

Ta Evan Edward Smith, IV U.C., the award of a Rhodes Scholarship means a chance to return to his native land. Born in London, he crossed to Canada at the age of 15, graduated from secondary schools in Windsor, and came to the University as a preparation for a career in foreign service.

Working his way through by an impressive callection of scholarships, and by a series of summer jobs that voried from grocery clerk to sleeping car porter, Smith entered the modern history course of Toronto

His extra-curricular activities included work on the Varsity staff, the Madern History Club, and the U.C. Lit, where he serves as Faurth Year Secretary.

Smith plans to read far Philasaphy, Palitics and Ecanomics in his twa years at Oxford, as a supplementary to his modern history course, and as a background for his intended career with the Department of External Affoirs.

Oxford will be the twenty-first school to have been attended by this much-travelled young man. Among these was an English pragressive school directed by Bertrand Russell, where the emphasis was laid on personality rather than education and where the results were samewhot amusing to recall. Smith himself favours the more conservative systems, and looks forward to the opportunity to study at Oxford.

"I am certainly pleased to be able to go," Smith said of the award. "I feel it is a galden opportunity put into my hands — a valuable chance to widen the range of my experience." His dominant reaction to the scholarship is "still surprise."

Basically, Smith feels, the main problem of our age is ane af a lack of international understanding. His interest in foreign affairs and international relations accounts in part for his desire to become a Rhodes Scholar, and for his future plans

R. R. McLaughlin, M.A.Se., M.A., Ph.D.

From now on you will be on your own! This is a sobering and also a challenging situation, not to be approached fearfully, but instead with confidence. You are well prepared to enter your profession. You will find a great satisfaction in beginning the practice of it. Apart from that satisfaction and the necessary fact that you will be earning your own living, you will also be beginning to make your contribution to society, to which you owe a debt by reason of the privilege that has been yours--the privilege of a university education. I know you will discharge that debt in the same spirit as that in which you responded this year to the call for help in hurricane relief; and in a similar way I know that the University's and Faculty's reputation will be safe in your hands.

Just as your course has contained subject matter quite apart from engineering, so also I hope you will maintain and develop interests, both intellectual and community, beyond the confines of your profession.

Though you will be on your own, you will not be alone, for both the large body of graduates you are about to join, and we at the University, will be standing behind you, and will be watching your careers with deep interest. Our best wishes go with you.

School of Architecture

H. H. Madill,
O.B.E., V.D., B.A.Sc., F.R.A.I.C.,
Hon. Cor. A.I.A.

As members of the graduating class of 1955 you have reached a milestone in your architectural careers, the completion of your formal academic training. When you entered the first year, no doubt a five-year course seemed a long period of time. As you now look back on it you realize that it was all too short for the mastery of the subjects-aesthetic, technical and cultural -- of the curriculum. However, you will never consider your studies complete as long as you are in the profession. You have studied architectural history but you are also aware of the advances that have been made in the last twenty years not only in the creative field of design, but also in the techniques of construction and the mechanical equipment of buildings. As the members of this class become employed in practice you will have a natural interest in design, but may I suggest that the future will demand an even greater interest in the engineering side of the profession -- a rapidly advancing field of technology mainly due to the startling discoveries of the physicists and chemists.

It will be the privilege, and the duty, of the graduates to make their contributions to organizations in the profession and in society. It is hoped that contact with the School and other graduates will be kept through membership in the Architectural Alumni Association.

The members of the staff join me in wishing each member of the graduating class every happiness and success in your chosen profession.

I A madile

Commerce and Finance

"Although our age far surpasses all previous ages in knowledge," says Mr. Bertrand Russell, "there has been no correlative increase in wisdom." The spread of knowledge has been in two directions: more is known of particular subjects, and individual people have more knowledge than in the past.

The widening and deepening of knowledge of particular subjects is to be found chiefly in the physical sciences, and in the social sciences. One of the results has been that each scientist has to learn so much about his own and cognate subjects, that he tends to know less of other things. The days when most scientists were cultured men are past, and we are threatened with the possibility that their powers of expression will become so limited that they will be unable to communicate with any except specialists in their own field. Wisdom is required in order to form some pattern out of the knowledge acquired of a vast multitude of subjects, and wisdom does not come readily to those who confine the use of their intelligence to one subject. Many earnest people in the past thought that compulsory education up to a mature age would make the world a utopia, but their expectations have not been fulfilled because wisdom has been lacking. Both forms of expansion of knowledge have tended to raise the material standard of living; other beneficial changes have come but slowly.

We hope that you have learned some wisdom in the university; that you have learned something of the possibilities and limitations of knowledge; that your judgment and actions will not be dominated by prejudice or selfishness. We wish you success and happiness in the exercise of your wisdom.

Faculty of Dentistry

R. C. Ellis, D.D.S., M.Sc.(Dent.) F.D.S., R.C.S.

The years of preparation for your life work will soon give way to an opportunity for active service. The staff joins me in extending greetings and congratulations to each and every member of the class. We wish you every success in the transition from student days to full membership in your profession.

While we are confident that you are ready to negotiate the changes involved in such a transition, yet we are aware that many dangers beset your early days in practice, not the least of which may be an overwhelming urge to grasp quickly material rewards as recompense for the service you can render. This temptation is subtle and apt to take on serious proportions in prosperous times and when, as at present, there is a shortage of trained personnel in your particular field.

We agree that you have spent valuable years in costly education and that you are therefore entitled to an honest, reasonable reward, but we would remind you that experience has taught that the greatest reward comes, not from the accumulation of worldly goods, but from the sense of satisfaction when you have given unsparingly of your talents. Let me leave with you the expression on this theme of that great humanitarian, Albert Schweitzer, who wrote, "You must give some time to your fellow man. Even if it's a little thing, do something for those who have need of help, something for which you get no pay, but the privilege of doing it. For remember, you don't live in a world all your own. Your brothers are here, too".

Emmanuel College

Rev. A. D. Matheson, M.A., B.D., D.D.

My dear friends:

The three years you have been at Emmanuel have passed so rapidly. Now you are about to leave these halls, and take up the full burden of the ministry.

Something of yourselves you leave behind you: and we who have been your teachers and your seniors in the 'great work' shall keep you in our minds, with affectionate remembrance and with daring expectation. Something of the College, - its traditions, its ideals and its spirit you take with you. We trust that this intangible factor may help to enrich your life work.

The world into which you go is crammed with contrasts. There is progress and there is retrogression. There is the sense of futility and there is the assurance of faith. There is unprecedented scientific achievement and there is deep consciousness that man is utterly dependent upon God. The sins of greed and hatred strive to fill the human heart: but the love of God in Jesus Christ ever seeks man's redemption.

You are launched upon the most difficult and the most glorious task which life offers. In yourselves you are not equal to it. But you cannot escape it. And He who has called you will never leave you alone.

So on to your task: and may nothing in the world separate you from the love of God.

Yours faithfully,

A. Dawson Matheson

Faculty of Forestry

J. W. B. Sisam, B.Sc., M.F.

It is always a pleasure to extend congratulations to those students who through their efforts and ability have obtained their objective of a university degree. I do so most heartily to you, the Class of 1955 - the 47th class to graduate from this Faculty.

For many of you the processes of your formal education are now completed. While your university experience has undoubtedly provided you with a background of technical knowledge, it is to be hoped that it has also done something to arouse your intellectual curiosity, to temper your critical faculties with good judgment, and above all to cause you to realize that the process of learning is a continuous one which does not terminate on graduation.

Such attributes will be of some importance as you take your place in a profession which though still in its early stages of development in this country has shown a remarkable progress in recent years. As in any developmental process the further one advances the more critical one must be in the analyzing of problems and the making of decisions. This is becoming ever more apparent in the field of forestry and will, I have no doubt, be realized by you and your contemporaries as you take on increasing responsibilities in the future: for on your efforts will depend very largely the pattern of our forestry practice in the years ahead.

In expressing to you the best wishes of your Faculty, I would urge you to support your Alumni Association, which exists to maintain and develop a bond of friendship and goodwill between you who are now of the Alumni and your Faculty. We of the Staff will watch your careers with interest, and we hope you will have the opportunity to visit us often in the future.

Faculty of Household Science

M. D. Smith

Dear Graduates:

As you carry off that prized "degree" what are you taking with it? Perhaps a feeling of success, of having reached a goal and of having achieved a status that you very much wanted. I am inclined to think that more than any of this, you are carrying with you thoughts and plans for the future; that your head is full of ideas and resolutions of how to continue on this successful pathway and that you are aiming at still higher goals and more difficult conquests. This is as it should be. Indeed, how many of the good wishes directed towards you will be for future success.

You have one precious quality which stands out and is appreciated especially by the senior members of the staff. That is your ENTHUSIASM. This is a quality which we associate with youth but it need not be linked with years. One can always be young in spirit and thus maintain the enthusiasm of youth. Bring your enthusiasm to your work as well as to your play and the battle is half won. It is surprising how this quality is not only inspiring but contagious to fellow workers, with it you can spark the lives of those who come in contact with you. No one who shows enthusiasm is ever thought of as a dull personality. There should be no need to emphasize the importance of what we call ENTHUSIASM in the part you play in the future. All we ask is that you never lose it down through the years.

The Staff members of the Faculty of Household Science now join with your other friends in wishing you well in all your undertakings.

Knox College

When a medical practitioner is called to a patient, he has a way of directly going to the source of the trouble and doing something about it. All his knowledge and skill is brought to bear upon a single immediate objective which he clearly understands. He has a definite aim to which his vast technical knowledge is thoroughly orientated. This suggests the kind of directness and singleness of purpose which makes an effective ministry. For we observe in the New Testament how Jesus had his way of going directly to the source of trouble in the lives of individuals both in his preaching and in his pastoral conversations.

Single-mindedness of this kind does not mean a one-track mind but a quality of devotion which integrates all aspects of life into a meaningful whole and on the everyday level orientates one's activities in the ministry. It is the ability to will one thing in the Kierkegaardian sense -- to say with the Apostle, "This one thing I do".

May I wish for the members of the graduating class the blessing of a truly integrated life and work.

School of Law

C. A. Wright, Q.C., B.A., S.J.D., LL.D.

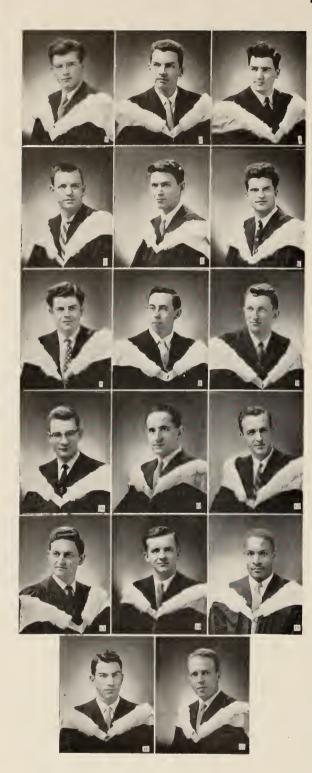

Once again the time has come when we who remain see a rejuvenation and rekindling of all our hopes and aspirations in you who are leaving to meet the challenge of tomorrow.

We know that you are eager to act as the champions and spokesmen of those who seek your assistance in speaking and acting for them. We believe you are well equipped for that task and we send you to it with our best wishes and with proffers of our continuing interest and assistance. Yet even as we do so, we cannot help wondering whether you will at all times be willing and glad to espouse the causes of those who need your help but whose views and causes are unpopular or distasteful.

If there be any last thought that we would send with you, it would be that you who are pledged to maintain justice through law may not mistake order with uniformity of thought or action. There may be times when you, the spokesmen for others, may be called upon to speak for those whom the mob would silence. Here is the testing time. Will you, despite your personal views and opinions, defend the freedoms of thought and action of those whose views you, and perhaps a majority like you, despise?

Your education in law has been carried on in an atmosphere of intellectual freedom. You will, unfortunately, in your daily work meet with those who strike at such freedom under the guise of "patriotism", "Communism", "subversion" and "loyalty". Our hopes and our prayers are that you will at all times reflect the atmosphere in which you were trained; to the end that with your help, freedom under law shall not perish from this earth, and that truth, emerging from differences of opinion, may bring that strength and happiness which imposed uniformity of prejudice and ignorance has forever denied.

Faculty of Medicine

Your teachers, and all those who work together in an effort to make the Faculty of Medicine an effective instrument of study, instruction and research, will wish to join with me in congratulations on the occasion of the completion of your undergraduate course in Medicine.

You have reason to indulge perhaps for a short time in feelings of satisfaction, and you are entitled to some sense of achievement. It were better, however, to leave such emotions to others--to your teachers, to your parents and the various friends and relations who have had some share in your accomplishments. Most doctors grow older in the firm conviction that a medical education is but an introduction to a life-long quest for further knowledge. The expansion of medical knowledge in the past half century has been phenomenal. The wisdom of applying such knowledge has not always kept pace with the new science. The prolongation of life far beyond the ordinary time when earning capacity ceases, the saving of the lives of physically and mentally handicapped, the provision for those who can survive in a sheltered atmosphere in this world of storm and turmoil -- these are the problems which will face your generation of physicians. Who will say that the purely scientific approach will solve them? The tradition of medicine in the past has been sufficiently broad to have nurtured philosophers as well as scientists. It may well be that the fruits of scientific effort, generating as they do in the medical and social spheres these new and complex situations, there will be needed a new philosophy, or at least a more philosophical approach to the every day use of the new science in medicine.

Our best wishes go with you, and we have high hopes for your future achievements.

Faculty of Music

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate all those students who have graduated during the past year. The music degrees conferred by the University of Toronto are becoming increasingly recognized as among the most valuable to possess. The prestige of these degrees is due to the ever-rising standards set by the courses at the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto. It is the object of these courses to give the graduate a comprehensive survey of the whole of the art of music

With regard to those who intend to become performing artists before the public, the courses will give a firm background and sure foundation on which to build their performances. The actual art of public performance cannot, of course, be taught in a University classroom, but if the artist possesses the foundation on which to work, he or she should find that a career is much easier to build with such a backing.

As to those who intend to make teaching their career, it can be said that no knowledge of the art is too profound to serve as a background for any teacher of however elementary a pupil.

Once more may I wish you all success in your various careers.

School of Nursing

1955 brings to you the completion of your undergraduate course in the University and opens up to you opportunities for further education and development as you enter into the practice of your chosen profession.

As graduates of a university school of nursing much is expected of you, both as professional persons and as members of the community. Therefore do not fail to recognize your obligations nor hesitate to offer yourselves to help meet some of today's problems. Your university years have surely provided you with the basis for acquiring breadth of vision and a desire for service. It is important that this vision and this altruism be not submerged under the distractions and stresses of everyday life and that, in following your profession or making a home and rearing a family, you live up to the responsibilities possible to those who have had your educational advantages.

May the years ahead bring to you success and that happiness and satisfaction which come from a full and fruitful life.

Faculty of Pharmacy

F. N. Hughes,

As you leave the physical confines of the University you carry with you the very best wishes of all members of the staff of the Faculty. On this occasion there are two simple thoughts we would convey to you.

First, we would impress upon you that 'you have not actually left the University except in its physical sense. The University is in truth a community of scholars. By achieving your degree you have simply become a permanent member of your Alma Mater. In recognition of this truth may you always meet in full your responsibility both as a member of the University in your community and to the University itself.

Then we would impress upon you the importance of vision not only for yourself but for your profession. Adlai Stevenson had this to say about vision; "What is vision? Is it not the ability to look beyond the crowded landscape to the high hills where truth resides and new ages are coming to birth? Is it not the ability to hear the quiet voice of reason above the shouting of the haters?"

We would hope, therefore, that each of you will see in these words a specific application in your own life and in the practice of your vocation. Your association with scholars in different divisions of the University has made a significant contribution to your vision of the future. This will mature as you give it opportunity. May it for each of you mature in the rich promise of a satisfying life of service to your community.

J. Horman Hughes

School of Physical and Health Education

Dear Graduates,

The successful completion of your undergraduate training will have provided a background for more direct application to your chosen profession. The combination of liberal arts, physical education and health education is probably one of the most difficult courses in the University. The industrious application of the graduating class in the courses offered has been exceptional and has been combined with genuine enthusiasm.

It is probably safe to say that no previous graduating class has been faced with as many opportunities for worthwhile professional life as the graduates of 1955. The increasing demand for, and the importance of modern physical education in the lives of our citizens, requires more graduates in this field than can be provided. The intensive courses in basic medical subjects will assist those who choose to enter the fields of teaching, public health, education, medicine, genetics, and, in fact, any occupation which is allied to the medical sciences in the prevention of disease. With these increased opportunities it is our hope that graduates of this School will continue to show leadership in the many fields open to them.

The staff of the School joins me in wishing you every success in your future careers and hopes that you will keep contact with your Alma Mater.

Yours sincerely,

O Machaba

Physical and Occupational Therapy

A. T. Jousse, B.A., M.C.M., M.D.

Dear Graduating Class:

During the years at University you have acquired the knowledge and skill necessary for the practice of Physical and Occupational Therapy. Competence in this field, however, requires more than mastery of techniques. It is measured, rather, by the manner in which you apply the knowledge you have acquired to the variety of problems with which you will be confronted when dealing with sick people. Indeed, you can assess your own professional competence and at the same time evaluate the contribution of the University to your education by applying the following simple test:

When faced with a problem of treatment or of the management of a sick person, if you say to yourself "Let me figure this out", you have undoubtedly derived a great deal from your education, having learned to think, and your professional competence will be high, once you have gained experience. If, on the other hand, you say to yourself "Why did they not teach me how to deal with this situation?" you have failed to obtain the highest value from your years at University.

With congratulations and good wishes for the future, may we express the hope that you wil all fall into the first group!

St. Michael's College

Very Rev. L. K. Shook, M.A., Ph.D.

St. Michael's is a Catholic college. This means that it is a college dedicated to the cause of Catholic education. Catholic education honours and respects and loves truth in all its manifestations, not so much to defend it as to satisfy our need for it. Catholic education recognizes intellectual humility on the one hand and a sense of human dignity on the other. Catholic education is otherworldly but insists that other-worldliness includes our salvation and completion in time as well as in eternity.

St. Michael's is also a federated college in a Provincial university. This means that it shares too the tender dedication of the modern humanist to his learning and of the modern scholar to his science. In our day it is a rare institution that can indulge these tastes on private resources. More and more must we look to governments for the tools of research and scholarship. That St. Michael's enjoys the facilities and scholarly traditions of the University of Toronto is a tribute to the wisdom, foresight and fraternal charity of the founders of both institutions.

Graduates of St. Michael's and of The University of Toronto! You bear a double mark and a double loyalty. May you be men and women of whom both institutions may be proud!

School of Social Work

Year end reports and forecasts on Canada's economic development have been in the headlines and spread upon the pages of newspapers and journals during recent weeks. Prominent notice in comparable publications in the United States and abroad reflect unprecedented interest and promise in Canada's natural resources.

Let it not be forgotten for a moment that in the last analysis, people are Canada's greatest natural resource. The development of a country's total resources ultimately depends upon the health, welfare and productivity of its population.

Graduates of Canadian Universities and especially those who will be directly related to the fuller development of our physical and financial economy need the closest partnership with graduates who have specialized in the social sciences and in professional schools, such as the School of Social Work, that are part of what might be termed the human service professions. It has become imperative to forge strong links of collaboration between scientists, scholars and technologists, and professional practitioners in the helping professions.

As you embark upon this new adventure in human relations I wish you Godspeed.

transma,

Trinity College

Rev. R. S. K. Seely, M.A., D.D., LL.D.

On behalf of your College I want to congratulate you on the occasion of your graduation, and express to you our high hopes for your success in the next stages of your careers. Graduation time is There is a good deal of regret at breaking one of mixed feelings. with the people and things and places that have formed so much a part of the pattern of our lives, together with the realization that we have reached the end of the period when we have the time to absorb and to enjoy and to assimilate. But there is also the eager anticipation of a new and a wider life in which we can put to use the knowledge, the ideals, the principles which we have acquired. It is this second feeling which should predominate in your minds. You are going out into a wider society as responsible citizens, and that is an exciting thing. I hope you are sufficiently conscious that you do not go into this society as experts. The process of learning will go on for a long time yet. But you are nevertheless not unequipped. You have learnt to recognize and love the excellent and not to be content with less. You have learnt the danger of accepting the unexamined, and you bring to a world too easily content with propaganda and presuppositions a mind that has learnt to be critical and analytical. You have also learnt not to be blinded by the immediate but to see it in relation to its historical background and to its probable consequences.

We want to thank you for your particular contributions to the life of the College. Your influence will not soon be forgotten. We welcome you now into the larger circle of our Trinity family which is scattered all the world over, but which is as much a part of us as those within our walls. Good luck to you all, and may God speed your undertakings.

N. B. Szecey

DEAN: REV. C. R. FIELDING, B.A., B.D., S.T.D.

University College

You will doubtless feel cheated if, on leaving us, you are not offered a final, priceless piece of advice. But, pray, have pity on your instructors: at last the time has come when we have exhausted our funds of counsel, and even of criticism.

We have come to know you as individuals and to respect your individual points of view.

Indeed, your College will derive a very special satisfaction if it has contributed something to your independence of thinking. Your lives will be the richer if you yourselves have arrived at certain conclusions. If in some spheres you are still groping, be of good cheer; this is an experience we share in common. And this constant pursuit after truth is what makes life the interesting adventure it is.

When you arrived in our midst a few years ago, we welcomed you with these words: "May your sojourn with us be as profitable as you and your parents hope, and as enjoyable as you have every reason to expect." In repeating this prayer for your future, we would attach as a simple "envoi" the hope that your sense of values will remain as unalloyed as your happiness.

Hearment

University Extension

J. R. Gilley, B.A., Sc.

It is my privilege to extend sincere congratulations and best wishes to the graduates of the Pass and General Course for Teachers.

Many of you have achieved the practical aim of raising your professional qualifications in order to gain greater prestige; others have satisfied an intellectual curiosity. All of you have learned to think more clearly, have developed a finer sense of moral responsibility, and have acquired a deeper emotional maturity. You have learned a little more of the wisdom of the ages, of the great men and women of history, and of the events in which they were involved. You have increased your skill in gaining further information from books.

Although the world may not appear any more ideal to you, it has undoubtedly become more interesting. This increased interest will be fortified by a new understanding of your fellow-man, a larger toleration for their weaknesses, and a fuller sympathy for their aims and hopes. You will not only be more proficient in your particular jobs, but you will be more sensitive to human needs and more capable of satisfying those needs.

May you remain mentally and spiritually alert to the constant education of life so that your service to humanity and consequent satisfaction in living will continue to grow.

J. R. Gilley

Victoria College

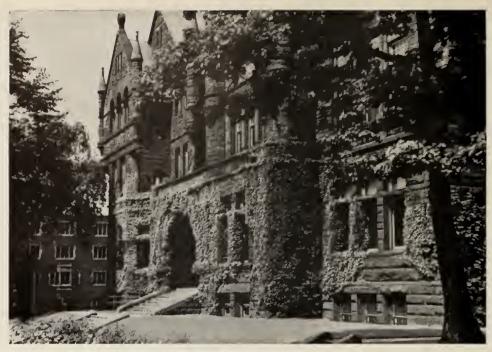

"Abeunt studia in mores----Studies pass into character."

Victoria's motto comes to my mind as I ponder a farewell message to Victoria's graduating class of 1955.

Whilst recognizing that "studia" means much more than "studies", I should not wish to claim that College contacts have been solely responsible for the character or even the 'characters' of the graduating class. Yet, even a cursory comparison of your photographs "before and after", furnishes convincing evidence of your development, physical, intellectual, and psychological, during the years in which you have been with us. Including also, as I think I may, spiritual development, I feel that your College may bid you farewell in strong confidence that you will go out to impress upon the world that it was good for you to have been here. If, in the words of the Vic song, we have "tossed you all about and turned you inside out," I am satisfied that you have emerged from this campus conflict as wiser, stronger, and better-balanced men and women, ready to make your contribution to the solution of the many problems which confront your generation.

We, at Victoria, do not claim to stamp our graduates with any mark or sign by which they may be identified on sight as "Vic" men and women, but we do trust that the College society of which you have been a part has confirmed your allegiance to certain principles which are embodied in our charter: the integrity of truth in every field of knowledge; the sanctity of individual freedom within the law; leadership in service as the chief end of higher education; the spiritual life as the noblest phase of man's endeavour.

As you leave to take your place among Victoria's representatives in the great company of the University of Toronto alumni, we wish you success and happiness, and assure you of our continuing affection and esteem.

VICTORIA COLLEGE (Erected 1891-2)

History of Victoria University 1836 - 1954

On the Old Ontario Strand

• For the first fifty-six years of its history Victoria University was located in Cobourg. Upper Canada Academy was opened in 1836 and on October 12 of the same year the Royal Charter was granted by King William IV. In 1841 the Charter was extended to include degree conferring powers and the name was changed to Victoria College. The first degree in Arts in Ontario was conferred by Victoria College in 1845 on Oliver Springer.

A Faculty of Medicine was added in 1854; a Faculty of Law in 1860, and a Faculty of Theology in 1871. A department of Science was organized, and Faraday Hall, opened in 1877, was the first building in the province erected and devoted exclusively to scientific work.

In 1884 the name was changed to Victoria University. Egerton Ryerson was responsible for securing the Royal Charter and he was the first Principal of Victoria College in 1841. In 1850 Samuel S. Nelles took charge of the College. Under his wise and far-sighted guidance the work of Victoria grew and expanded as additional faculties were added. Yet for all his foresight, it is doubtful if Principal Nelles could have imagined the proud place Victoria University holds today, boasting a registration of 1069 students, and federated with one of the largest Universities in the British Commonwealth. The process of that federation and expansion we shall now trace (Those interested in the history of Victoria University from early days at Cobourg right down to the present are referred to A History of Victoria University by C B Sissons, published by the University of Toronto Press in December, 1952).

Federation with the University of Toronto

● The federation of Victoria University with the University of Toronto became an established fact in 1892. Victoria was a pianeer in setting up the system of education by which the provincial university and three independent denominational university.

versities and colleges have, in the course of time through their federation agreements, established the Faculty of Arts of the University of Toronto as it exists today.

Since 1892 Victoria University has conferred degrees in Divinity only and her power of conferring degrees in Arts, Medicine, Law and Science has remained in abeyance. The task of putting university federation into operation and of moving from Cobaurg to Taronto was accomplished by Chancellar Nathanael Burwash, who had succeeded Dr.

Nelles in 1887 and held office until 1913. His name is perpetuated in Burwash Hall.

During the difficult years af Warld War I and during the periad of expansion in 1920-30, when there was a large increase in the number of students and when many new buildings were added, Chancellar R. P. Bowles guided the destinies of the institution.

Growth and Reorganization

• Residence accammadation was provided in Cobourg, but for the first eleven years in Toronta, Victoria had na residence far students. The Annesley Hall Women's Residence was opened in 1903. The Birge-Carnegie Library was completed in 1910. Burwash Hall and the Victoria Callege Men's Residences, the gift of Mr. Chester D. Massey, were apened in 1913.

In 1926 Mrs. E. R. Waad presented her residence "Wymilwoad" ta Victoria for use as a Wamen's Students' Unian and Residence. Lady Flavelle very graciausly and generausly furnished the building. This building has since been taken over by the University af Toranta and is naw known as Falconer Hall. The facilities heretafare offered by "Wymilwood" are replaced in a partian of the new Victoria College Students' Union which perpetuates the name "Wymilwood"

Church union in 1925 affected bath the work and the organization of Victoria University. The Victoria University Act af 1928 provided for two colleges, Victoria College in Arts and Emmanuel Callege in Divinity. In 1930 Dr. E. W. Wallace succeeded Chancellor Bowles.

Emmanuel Callege and the Emmanuel College Men's Residences were first occupied in 1931. Victoria University now has residence accommodation for about 250 women students and about 260 men students.

In War and Peace

• In February, 1941, Principal Walter T. Brawn of Victoria College was appointed Chancellor and

During Warld War II a number of Houses of the Men's Residences were accupied, first by members of the RCAF taking the Radio Technicians' Caurse, and later by members of No 1 and No 2 Canadian Army University Courses

During the session 1954-55 there are 952 students in attendance at Victoria Callege and 87 in attendance at Emmanuel College. On the Victoria University Rall of Service there are the names of 1,408 men and women, graduates, undergraduates, former students and members of the staff of Victoria College and Emmanuel College. Seventy-nine of these made the supreme sacrifice.

In 1950 Rev Dr. A B B. Moore was appointed President and Vice-Chancellar and was installed on Navember 15 Prafessar H Bennet is Principal of Victoria College ad the Rev Dr A D Mathesan is Principal of Emmanuel College.

On February 4, 1952 the Hon Lester B Pearson

President of Victoria University, succeeding Dr. Wallace who had resigned. In 1944 Dr. Brown's title was changed to President and Vice-Chancellor of Victoria University. In June, 1949, President Brown retired because of ill health

'17 was installed as Chancellor of Victoria University, succeeding Major-General A. C. Spencer whase term of office had expired

In January, 1955 Mr Pearson's term of office was extended far a further period of three years.

Wycliffe College

Rev. Ramsay Armitage, M.C., M.A., D.D.

To the Graduating Class:

Richard Church said a penetrating word in his "Portrait of Canterbury" when he wrote: "The love of poetry in a man of affairs is usually the sign of a whole personality, a balanced judgement and a sense of comparative values amongst the confusion of the temporary and the eternal."

Add to that the word of Wilfred Cambell, whom with Robert Finch I account among the greatest of Canadian poets:

"That rare spirit of song will breathe and live While beauty, sorrow, greatness hold for men A kinship with the eternal."

Not a little of our academiic and our theological study, of necessity, has to do with hard practical and prosaic things. There always must be the shaping of the stones, the mixing of the mortar, and the setting up of scaffolding before ever the lofty cathedral or indeed the lowlier parish church may be built.

Not by accident but in very essence is Holy Scripture rich in poetry and the words of our Lord in simplest parable are as the 'Song of the Word which came and is to come.'

So for our work and life and ministry, which finds the beginning of a new Chapter in our graduation, what says Saint Paul?

"We are his workmanship, "poiema,"

"We are his poem.

"We are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them."

earned LEADERSHIP

The London Life for years has placed major emphasis on low cost life insurance and on thorough training of its representatives for service to the public.

These factors largely account for the Company's rapid growth across the Dominion, and for the fact that today Canadians are buying more life insurance from the London Life than from any other company.

MORE OPPORTUNITIES . . . than men to fill them!

The expansion program is a most important consideration when choosing a company with which to build your future. Our record of progress is outstanding in the life insurance industry.

We now have offices in Canada, the United States, Hawaii, the Caribbean countries, India and Great Britain. Our operations are continuing to expand and we are selling a larger volume of insurance each year.

Our organization is still young enough to offer unlimited opportunity and rapid advancement in every phase of our business to university graduates with initiative.
